tion that she ever afforded virtue, and the disapprobation which she always manifested to vice, that superior propriety and decorum of manners of which this country may justly boast.

To you, Sir, the recollection of the filial tenderness, with which you supported Her Majesty's declining years, and ministered the soothings of affection to the latest moment of Her Majesty's existence, must be highly consolatory; and we resign ourselves to this national calamity with well grounded confidence that Her Majesty's public and private virtues will be constantly brought to our recollection by the benefits His Majesty's dominions have derived from their effects, and by the regard which they have not failed to produce in the hearts and in the feelings of His Majesty's affectionate and loyal people.

In the name, and on behalf of the County.

Nathaniel Wells, Sheriff and Chairman.

[Transmitted by the Sheriff, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholders and Inhabitants of the County of Cambridge, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with the sincerest expressions of condolence on the death of your excellent Parent, Her late Majesty, the Queen.

In thus uniting with our fellow subjects in every sentiment of regret and sorrow for the loss of this illustrious Princess, we are naturally led to advert to the many virtues which adorned her character, and which at the same time that they reflected a lustre on the elevated station which she has so long and so happily filled in this country, rendered the influence of her example the more extensively useful, and efficient in maintaining the purity of private morals, the preservation of which is the best foundation of public happiness.

Deeply impressed with these feelings, and justly sensible of the loss which this country has sustained, we trust, that the consciousness of that unremitted attention with which your Royal Highness, and the other branches of His Majesty's Family have uniformly performed every filial duty, during the continuance of a long and afflicting illness, will ever prove a source of the most consolatory satisfaction.

In the name, and on the behalf of the Freeholders and Inhabitants of the County.

Thomas George Apreece, Sheriff.

[Transmitted by the Sheriff, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's faithful subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders, and other Inhabitants of the County of Huntingdon, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our most sincere condolence under the affliction with which your Royal Highness, in common with the other branches of the Royal Family, as well as with the whole people of these kingdoms, has been lately visited by the much lamented death of our illustrious Queen, your Royal Mother.

We are anxious to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of Her late Majesty, whose unvarying, conjugal, and parental affection exemplified and upheld those domestic virtues, for which the Inhabitants of this island are so justly celebrated.

As her exemplary conduct when living added lustre to the Crown, and constituted the happiness of our most gracious and beloved Sovereign, during the greater portion of his life, so we trust, that being now in the ordinary course of nature, taken from us, Her late Majesty is in the enjoyment of those rewards which are promised to the just.

We embrace this opportunity of renewing our expressions of unaltered attachment to your Royal Highness, and the constitution of these realms.

In the name, and on the behalf of the Freeholders and Inhabitants of the County.

Thomas George Apreece, Sheriff.

[Transmitted by the Sheriff, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Bailiffs, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Town of Cardiff, in Common Council assembled; and the Bailiffs, Portreaves, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Contributory Boroughs of Cowbridge, Swansea, Aberavon, Neath' Kenfig, Lougher, and Lantrissent, beg leave humbly to offer to your Royal Highness the expression of our deep grief, and most sincere condolence on the late melancholy event which has deprived your Royal Highness, and all the other members of the Royal Family of a beloved Mother, and these kingdoms of a bright example of conjugal attachment, maternal affection, and of every public and private virtue.

Deeply indeed must every good and loyal heart lament the loss of one whose memory will be endeared to this country so long as morality shall be respected and religion revered, and by none of His Majesty's subjects will that loss be more sincerely deplored than by the Inhabitants of these Boroughs

[Transmitted by Lord Patrick James H. C. Stewart, M. P. and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

SIR,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Borough and Parish of Barnstaple, beg permis-