Genoua, June 14.

WE have advice that the French Gallies, 28 in number, are at Villa Franca; and this Senate has nominated four of the Nobility, to [illegible] npliment, in the name of the Republick, the Duke de Vivonne, the General; and four Ladies to compliment the Dutchess of Nevers, and the Dutchess Sforza; and has ordered a Banquet of Sweatmeats and Fruits to be prepared to be sent to them, so soon as the Gallies appear in sight of this place. They are going for Civita Vecchia, where having Landed the Dutchesses, they are to stand over to Maltha and Tripoli, where they will join 14 Sail of Men of War and Fireships, which are gone over to Argiers, to confirm the Peace with that Government, and to redeem such French as have been taken in Foreign Ships.

Vienna, June 18. This day the Empress was brought to Bed of a Daughter, being only in the sixth month of her time, which makes it believed that the Child will not live. We are told that the Emperor has assigned Quarters for his Troops in his Hereditary Countries.

Lipstadt, June 24. This morning early parted hence two Regiments of Horse, and two Battalions of Foot, with Monsieur de Crequi's Baggage to the Army, which is encamped near Herfort. We have an account that two or three days since the Mareschal having detached some Troops from his Camp, they met with a Party of Brandenburghs, with whom they had a very sharp Engagement, and above 200 men were killed upon the place, and several Prisoners taken by the French, and carried to Hertfort.

Strasburgh, June 23. We have advice, That the French intend to form a Body of 10000 men on the Saar, and that in order thereunto, they are expecting towards the latter end of this month, 120 Companies of Foot, and 60 Squadrons of Horse, from the Country of Messin. We are likewise told, that the French are going to fortifie Lauterburg and Germersheim. Monsieur de Louvoy is at present at Montbeliard, and has with him the Cavalry that wintered in Alsace; He received the Deputies of this City that were sent to Compliment him, when he was in this Neighborhood, but coldly; and let them know, That the Most Christian King could not any longer endure, that an Imperial Garison should continue in this City, after that the Peace was ratified, and the Ratifications long since exchanged; and that till they were freed of it, the King would not withdraw his Troops out of their Neighborhood; but that if the Senate thought fit to receive any Troops of the Circles for their security, the King would not dislike it; and we are informed, that he told the Deputies of Colmar, in his answer to their Compliment, that they might expect the same Treatment from the King, as the rest of his Subjects, which looks as if the French meant not to quit that place, which by the late Treaty they are obliged to do.

Brussels, July 4. On Sunday his Excellency the Duke de Villa Hermosa returned hither, very well satisfied with the States of Gelderland, who have given him an Extraordinary Subsidy of 100 thousand Crowns a year, to continue for 16 months. They have likewise advanced two Months Pay, for the present Supply of the Troops within their Province, and have also undertaken for the constant payment of them, upon the same foot as the States of Flanders have done. His Excellency has received Bills of Exchange for a very considerable Sum, by the last Ordinary from Spain. Last night his Excellency waited upon his Royal Highness, to pay him his Respects upon his Return, as the chief Ministers, General Officers, and other Persons of Quality that have been out of Town, likewise did. Letters from Liege of the first instant tell us, That the French had sent several Boats up the River towards Huy, with part of their Artillery, and a great quantity of Ammunition. Our Letters from Westphalia say, That the Mareschal de Crequi continued encamped near Herfort.

Hague, July 4. To morrow the States of Holland meet, and most of the Deputies are already come to Town; the main matter before them, will be concerning the restitution of Muestricht, which the States seem disposed to gratifie Spain in, provided that King satisfie this State in its Pretensions upon him. The Prince and Princess of Orange are come back to Dieren, and his Highness is expected here to morrow or next day. From Nimeguen we have an account, That the Peace between France and the Elector of Brandenburgh was signed, and that Orders had been thereupon sent to the Mareschal de Crequi, to cease all Hostilities.

Paris, July 5. Monsieur de Louvoy is returned from Alsace, having left Orders for the continuing the Fortifications of Colmar and Schlestadt, with all the diligence possible. We are assured that the Marriage between the King of Spain, and Madamoiselle d'Orleans, as also that between the Duke of Savoy, and the Infanta of Portugal, is absolutely concluded; and as to the latter, that the Duke is preparing to pass to Lisbon, to fetch his Bride, who is to remain with him in Italy, till the Crown of Portugal devolves to her by the death of her Father the Prince Regent, and then they are to go and reside in Portugal. The King has made a Declaration in his Council, by which he unites the Dutchy of Barre, to the Crown of France.

From the Camp at Hamilton, June 21.

Last night we decamped, and marched towards the Rebels, who lay about 8 Miles from us in the Little Park, at Hamilton, and about it; the Ground was well chosen, there being no passage to it, but over a Stone Bridge, called Bothwell Bridge, which they had Barricadoed, and well
