TUESDAY, 17 APRIL, 1917.

War Office,
April 17th, 1917.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the award of a Bar to the Distinguished Service Order to :—

*Maj. Malby Richard Henry Crofton, D.S.O., R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He went forward under the most intense fire to a position 150 yards from the enemy's trenches, from where he controlled the fire of his battery with great skill.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 22nd Dec. 1916.)

Capt. and Bt. Maj. (Temp. Lt.-Col.) Gerald Victor Wilmot Hill, D.S.O., R. Ir. Fus., attd. Suff. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and good leadership when in command of his battalion. He formed up his battalion under very heavy fire and under the most difficult conditions. The successful start of his battalion and the accomplishment of its task in the attack was in a great measure due to his personal example and fine leadership.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 14th Jan. 1916.)

Maj. Ronald Campbell Ross, D.S.O., Jats, Ind. Army.

For conspicuous gallantry and good leadership when in command of his battalion. He gallantly led his battalion to the assault of the enemy's position, and the success of the operation was largely due to his fine example and able leadership. Later, while leading his men, he was severely wounded.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 14th Jan. 1916.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the appointments of the undermentioned Officers to be Companions of the Distinguished Service Order in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field :—

Temp. Lt.-Com. Arthur Melland Asquith, R.N.V.R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to Brigade Headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and of the fighting, which had been going on during the night. He has previously done fine work.

Temp. Maj. Kenneth Arrowsmith Brown, Devon. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid. It was largely owing to his initiative and courage that the operations met with such success. Previous to the raid he carried out two reconnaissances close to the enemy's wire, and brought back most valuable information.

Temp. Capt. Geoffrey Fenwick Jocelyn Cumberlege, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He dashed along the line rallying his own battalion and men of other units. He succeeded in restoring order and in re-organising the line at a most critical time. Throughout the day he inspired all ranks by his high example of courage and devotion to duty.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) James Ferrand Dearden, M.C., R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in commanding his company. By his splendid example of courage and fine leadership several strong enemy counter-attacks were repulsed. At a critical stage he jumped on to the parapet with a machine gun and accounted for many of the enemy.

*Lt. Douglas Hamilton Gordon, Sikhs, Ind. Army.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of two platoons. He led his men to reinforce the right flank, and commenced bombing along the enemy trench, thereby regaining much lost ground. Later, he handled a machine gun with great skill, and succeeded in establishing a block under very heavy fire. He set a splendid example throughout the day.

Temp. Maj. Roland Vaughan Gwynne, Sussex Yeo., attd. R. W. Surr. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and judgment in commanding and carrying out a daylight raid with his battalion. His personal example of courage and coolness was of great value throughout the operation. He personally went over to the enemy lines and supervised. He was wounded.

Temp. Lt. John Maximilian Hammond, M.B., R.A.M.C., attd. Devon. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in evacuating a large number of wounded under the most difficult conditions. He was himself subsequently wounded, and although both his feet were practically blown off he ordered his stretcher-bearers to carry away another wounded man first.

Lt.-Col. William Frederick Mildren, C.M.G., Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a strong raiding party. He made admirable arrangements both as regards the preparation and the execution of the raid, and inspired his battalion with his own fine example.

Temp. Capt. The Hon. Lionel Samuel Montagu, R.M.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led his company in the first attack and captured his objective. Later, under very heavy fire, he personally took out a covering party and kept his men consolidating the trenches for over 24 hours. On another occasion he single-handed captured 50 prisoners, and later, although wounded, remained at duty.

Maj. Harold Ozanne, R.M.L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He directed the consolidation of the position with marked ability, and was largely responsible for holding the position against subsequent enemy counter-attacks. He displayed great courage and determination throughout the operations.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Thomas Reginald Price, North'n R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He took command of his battalion and led it from the first to the second objective. He organised two successive defensive positions under very heavy fire, thereby saving a critical situation. He inspired all ranks by his high example of courage and devotion to duty.

Temp. Lt.-Com. Robert Howard Shelton, R.N.V.R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He was repeatedly counter-attacked by the enemy, and some of his posts were driven in, and it was only by his personal bravery in placing himself at the head of his men and charging the enemy that the position was held.

T/Lt.-Com. Charles Skeffington West, R.N.V.R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rendered invaluable service by most ably guiding and placing companies of the battalion in their battle positions within 400 yards of the enemy. He worked continuously under heavy hostile shell-fire, and was largely responsible for the success of the operations.

T/Capt. (actg. Maj.) Spencer Vaughan Percy Weston, M.C., R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in forming up the brigade in their assembly positions previous to an attack. He worked continuously under very heavy fire, and rendered invaluable assistance throughout.

Capt. (actg. Maj.) John Price Wylie, Notts. and Derby. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a raiding party. He handled his party with great skill, and carried out the task allotted to him with conspicuous success. He has on many previous occasions done fine work.

CANADIAN CONTINGENT.

Lt.-Col. Reginald Danbury Davies, Can. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a strong raiding party. He personally superintended the assembly of all parties prior to the attack, and carried out the task allotted to him with conspicuous success. He has previously rendered excellent service on many occasions.

SOUTH AFRICAN FORCE.

Temp. Lt.-Col. John George Rose, Serv. Corps.

For conspicuous devotion to duty and the able manner in which he organised and maintained the Motor Tractor Service. It was largely due to his energy and resource that the forces in the field were able to receive supplies, without which the success of the operations would have been impossible.

(The names marked with an asterisk appeared in the London Gazette dated 17th March, 1917, without deeds.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to award a Second Bar to the Military Cross to the undermentioned Officer:—

Capt. Richard William Oldfield, M.C., R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great courage and initiative in organising parties of men to clear away tarpaulins which had caught fire on various ammunition dumps. He undoubtedly saved a large quantity of heavy ammunition from destruction.

(M.C. Gazetted 18th Feb. 1915.)
(1st Bar Gazetted 14th Nov. 1916.)

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He organised some men and led them forward with great dash, thereby dispersing an enemy party at a critical time. He himself accounted for three of the enemy with his revolver. He has previously done fine work.

Lt. John Henry Grassett Strathy, Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great courage and determination in assisting to destroy an enemy work under the most difficult conditions.

Lt. Nathaniel William Symonds, Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a raiding party. He gallantly led his men into the enemy trench in spite of a most determined opposition. Later, although suffering from a badly lacerated hand, he personally killed two of the enemy with his revolver.

Lt. Maurice Bensley Thornhill, Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He gallantly led his men to their objective, blew up a mine shaft, wrecking the enemy front line for a distance of 70 yards, and inflicting many casualties. Later, after returning with his party, and although wounded, he went back to the enemy's lines to look for a wounded N.C.O.

410001 S./M. William Henry Marsden, Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He displayed great courage and determination in rescuing several wounded men and an officer under very heavy fire. He has at all times set a splendid example.

NEWFOUNDLAND CONTINGENT.

2nd Lt. Gerald Guy Byrne, Newfoundland R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He organised and gallantly led a bombing attack, driving the enemy back at a critical time. He set a splendid example of courage and initiative.

NEW ZEALAND FORCE.

Capt. Arthur Charles Hubbard, Auckland R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great courage and initiative in leading his company in the assault on the enemy front line. Later, he was largely instrumental in rescuing several wounded men.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) James Edward Hedley Mewett, Auckland R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He led his men with great gallantry, and himself accounted for three of the enemy. Later, although severely wounded, he continued to direct the operations.

Lt. Charles Hastings Alexander Senior, Auckland R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although wounded, he continued to lead his platoon with great gallantry, and carried out the task allotted to him. He has previously done fine work.

Lt. Francis John William Stallard, New Zealand Fld. Arty., attd. N.Z. T.M. By.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. At great personal risk he remained in the open under very heavy fire and passed from mortar to mortar, personally supervising repairs. He set a splendid example to his men, and kept his battery in action throughout the raid.

SOUTH AFRICAN FORCE.

Temp. Capt. (now temp. Maj.) Charles Stewart Hastings Snow, S.A. Serv. Corps.

For conspicuous devotion to duty and the able manner in which he controlled the Supply Column. He maintained his command in a high state of efficiency, in spite of the most trying conditions, and it is largely due to his personal zeal and energy that the forces were kept continually supplied.

(The names marked with an asterisk appeared in the London Gazette dated 17th March, 1917, without deeds.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the award of the Distinguished Conduct Medal to the undermentioned Warrant Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men for acts of gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field:—

22764 L./Cpl. J. Abbott, Yorks. L.I., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He performed most valuable work in collecting men together, and, by his utter disregard of danger, inspired the men and led them forward to their objective.

1263 (now 320090) Sjt. J. Allen, Lond. Regt.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He assumed command of his platoon and led it forward in a most gallant manner. He set a fine example to his men and was instrumental in capturing several prisoners.

L/14878 actg. Corpl. P. C. Allsworth, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He assumed command of his party and led the operation with great coolness until the enemy retired. Later, he assisted to bring in a wounded officer. He was himself wounded.

10057 Sjt. C. Armstrong, Notts. & Derby. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although his party suffered heavy casualties before reaching the enemy's line he nevertheless carried out his work with only three men, and inspired all ranks by his bravery and disregard of danger.

1655 (now 320277) L./Corpl. W. J. Bailey, Lond. Regt.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led a section to cut off a party of the enemy who tried to escape, killing two and capturing the remainder. He rendered invaluable service throughout the operations.

G./9646 Sjt. T. H. Baker, R. W. Surr. R., attd. R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in charge of a bombing party. Although severely wounded he refused to leave his post, and succeeded in capturing 25 prisoners. He set a splendid example of courage and determination throughout.

9276 C./Q./M./Sjt. J. A. Battles, K.O. Sco. Bords.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He went to the assistance of a small party at a critical time, and succeeded in capturing 23 prisoners. He set a fine example of courage and initiative.

10511 L./Cpl. A. E. Bierton, York & Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during the withdrawal of a patrol in the face of greatly superior numbers. He handled his men with marked ability and by his fine personal example contributed largely to the successful withdrawal.

2141 Corpl. W. Brain, Lanc. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rallied the men of a blocking party at a critical time and re-established confidence by his own magnificent personal example.

9651 C./S./M. J. Bramley, Yorks. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rendered invaluable service in collecting men and leading them forward to their objective. Later, he led a bombing attack and cleared the enemy trench.

10615 L./Cpl. G. Brown, Sea. Highrs., attd. Sig. Service.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He proceeded 50 miles from our nearest post to a point on the enemy's line of communication, tapped the enemy telegraph line and returned across a river with his cable.

67977 Bombr. H. Bryan, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He went forward to an exposed position 150 yards from the enemy's trenches, and from there continued to send in most important messages. On one occasion he repaired his telephone line under very heavy fire. He was wounded.

7024 Sjt. J. Campbell, Sco. Rif., attd. Gold Coast R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although his machine gun was buried by a shell he remounted it and continued to fire until another shell buried him with earth. He continued firing his gun for five hours.

K./680 Corpl. J. W. Carr, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rallied his men under heavy fire and materially assisted in the success of the operations. He set a splendid example to all ranks.

2258 L./Sjt. A. H. R. Chapman, E. Kent R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He organised a post on the left flank of the battalion, thus securing this flank against attack. On another occasion he went forward with a section and obtained valuable information.

3/5332 Pte. P. Collins, Conn. Rang.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great courage and determination during a daylight operation against the enemy's trenches. Later, he rescued several wounded men under very heavy fire.

29659 Pte. W. Cooke, York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He single-handed attacked a party of nine of the enemy, and after a violent struggle succeeded in capturing the leader of the hostile party, identification being thus obtained.

9734 Pte. B. Croft, K.R.R.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He single-handed took a machine gun forward and opened fire on the enemy, thereby greatly assisting in repelling an enemy counter-attack.

7505 Pte. F. I. English, K.R.R.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He brought in several wounded men in spite of very heavy fire, and showed an absolute disregard to his own safety. He has on many previous occasions done fine work.

62089 Corpl. A. W. Faulkner, R.G.A., attd. T.M. Bty.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. In spite of a heavy hostile barrage he kept his gun in action and carried out the work allotted to him. He set a splendid example of courage and coolness throughout. He has on many previous occasions done fine work.

79938 2nd Corpl. J. Foram, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He entered a mine shaft dug-out, killed one of the enemy and captured fourteen prisoners. Later, having handed his prisoners over, he again entered the mine shaft and obtained much useful information.

13625 Sjt. E. S. Garrod, Norf. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in charge of a carrying party. In spite of very heavy fire he got his party to the first objective shortly after the leading waves had reached it. He has on many previous occasions done fine work.

Spts. 1775 Sjt. J. T. Gore, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He continually went backwards and forwards between the front line and Battalion Headquarters under very heavy fire, gaining most valuable information. He set a splendid example throughout.

DISTINGUISHED CONDUCT MEDAL.

33305 Sjt. G. W. Grinnell, Worc. R.
For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He organised a bombing party and suceeded in making a block in the enemy's trench at a critical time. He set a splendid example of courage and initiative.

1203 Pte. J. Hailstones, Mach. Gun Corps.
For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rendered invaluable service in rallying and reorganising the men at a critical time. Later, he went forward and obtained most valuable information, and himself killed an enemy officer.

14821 L./Corpl. E. J. Hazlewood, Suff. R.
For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great courage and determination in tending the wounded under very heavy fire. He worked unceasingly all day and far into the night, and was continually urging others to carry on with the work.

9485 Cpl. (A./C./S./M.) J. Hearn, Yorks. L.I.
For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He assumed command of a party of men and attacked an enemy strong point, which he captured together with a machine gun. Later, he materially assisted in repelling an enemy counter-attack.

1634 Pte. R. G. Hill, British S. Afr. Police.
For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in carrying out dangerous reconnaissances. On one occasion, accompanied by another man, he penetrated the enemy's position and captured an outpost, obtaining most valuable information, which enabled a successful attack to be made.

22555 Sjt. W. House, Glouc. R.
For conspicuous gallantry and resource in bringing up reinforcements, in the performance of which duty he had continually to pass over open ground under heavy machine gun and rifle fire, and in endeavouring to bring in a wounded officer, who was killed whilst being brought in.

G/2466 L./Cpl. A. Humphries, Midd'x R.
For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He took command of his platoon, reorganised the men, and consolidated his position. He displayed marked courage and initiative under difficult conditions, his example being invaluable at a critical time.

21507 Sjt. A. W. Jones, Mach. Gun Co.
For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although he had a leg and an arm blown off he remained at his post until relieved by the No. 1 of the gun, and insisted on handing over his reports.

155484 Spr. A. A. D. Jones, R.E.
For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Accompanied by another sapper he entered an enemy underground system, killing one of the enemy and capturing three prisoners. Later, he laid explosive charges and fired them successfully. He has previously done fine work.

836487 Bombr. W. H. Kay, R.F.A.
For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although very severely wounded he completed the repair work he was engaged upon, and carried a wounded comrade back to his battery under heavy fire. He has previously done fine work.
