Admiralty-Office, October 20, 1781.

TH E following are Extracts of Letters from Rear-Admiral Edwards, Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Ships employed on the Newfoundland Station, to Mr. Stephens.

St. John's, Newfoundland, August 20, 1781.

On the 12th of July we saw a Ship to Windward; which the Portland and Vestal gave Chace and came up with. She proved to be the Ship Royal Louis, an American Privateer from Salem, of Sixteen Carriage Guns, Six Pounders, and One hundred Men.

I found His Majesty's Sloop Cygnè at St. John's. On the 25th of May she took a small Privateer Sloop, called the Fish Hawke, of Six Guns and Thirty-two Men; and, on the 2d of June following, a Ship called the Mercury from Piscataway, bound to the West-Indies with Lumber.

Captain Lloyd in the Oiseau, from Lisbon, arrived here the 19th of May, having parted from his Convoy on the 28th of April, off the Island of St. Mary's, as their Lordships will have been informed of by his Letter to you of the 6th of May; but I am glad it is in my Power to acquaint them; that his Apprehension of many of them being taken was not well founded; as they have all, except the Bee and Success Brigs, arrived here safe with their Cargoes.

The Oiseau sailed on a Cruize again the 16th of June, and returned the 2d of July; in which Time she captured the Ship Congress, an American Privateer of Eighteen Guns, Nine Pounders, and One Hundred and Twenty Men; the Brig Active, of Fourteen Guns, Six Pounders; and Forty-two Men; the Brig Shark, of Fourteen Guns, Six Pounders; and Seventy-two Men; and retook the Jenny Brig, with Salt for this Island, and brought them safe in here. She also captured the Sloop Crawford, laden with Tobacco; but not having heard of her since; it is supposed she was retaken soon after.

On the 7th of August, Captain Parker of the Maidstone sent a small Privateer Brig, called the Lyon of Salem, mounting Ten Guns, and Forty-two Men, into this Harbour, having taken her on the 2d off Cape Chaparouge.

This Morning a large American Ship, Privateer, called the Lyon, of Eighteen Guns and One Hundred and Fourteen Men, arrived here. She was taken, on the 14th Instant, by the Portland and Æolus, and had been only Twenty-one Days from Salem.

St;

St. John's, Newfoundland,
September 28, 1781.

ON the 3d the Surprize and Danae arrived from Halifax, having seen the Transports and Trade safe in there, and carried in with them Three American Privateers, viz. Venus, of Sixteen Guns and Eighty-three Men; Independence, of Sixteen Guns and Eighty-three Men; and Diana, of Ten Guns and Thirty-seven Men, which they captured on their Passage. The also retook the Lockhart Ross, a Ship from Quebec, which had been taken a few Days before by Two French Frigates.

On the 9th the Æolus, Portland, and Vestal, arrived from a Cruize. On the 2d they fell in with and took the Ship Didain, an American Privateer, of Sixteen Guns and Seventy-six Men, and retook the Ship Martha, Samuel Ripp, Master, from Montego Bay, with Rum and Sugar, which had been taken Two or Three Days before by the Didain. On the 16th they sailed, and Two Days after sent in a small Privateer Brig, called the Captain, of Six Guns and Thirty-two Men.

Besides the afore-mentioned, the Montgomery Privateer, of Fourteen Guns and 50 Men, was taken on the 5th of August by the Maidstone.

Dublin Castle, October 11.

THE Houses of Lords and Commons having resolved upon humble Addresses to His Majesty, the same, together with Addresses from both Houses to the Lord Lieutenant, were this Day presented to his Excellency, and, with his Excellency's Answers, are as follow:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled, most truly sensible how propitious your Majesty's Reign hath been to this Kingdom, and impressed with a due Sense of the many and great Blessings which we and all our Fellow-Subjects here enjoy, beg Leave to approach your Majesty, with our warmest and most grateful Acknowledgements, and with our most sincere Professions of Loyalty and Attachment to your Majesty's Sacred Person, Family, and Government.

We entreat your Majesty to accept our grateful Thanks for the Manifestation you have been graciously pleased to afford us of your Regard for, and Attention to this Kingdom, in sending over to us, as our Chief Governor, his Excellency the Earl of Carlisle, whose cultivated and sound Understanding, and whole Talents for Business, added to the Lure of his Birth, afford us the most promising Expectation, that the Happiness and Prosperity of Ireland will be effectually promoted under his Administration.

The great Benefits which have lately been wisely and liberally communicated to this Country, are to happily felt in their Effects upon our Manufactures and Commerce, notwithstanding the Obstacles which a War, so extensive as the present, necessarily induces, that we flatter ourselves with still greater and more diffusive Advantages, whenever the Blessings of Peace shall be restored.

We cannot be sufficiently thankful for the gracious Assurances we have received of your Majesty's Royal Determination to continue your parental Attention to the increasing Prosperity of this Kingdom; and we are justly impressed with the important Truth, that the true Interests of Ireland must ever be inseparable from Those of Great Britain.

We receive, with the utmost Pleasure, the Communication of the Birth of another Prince to your Majesty; as that Event, at the same Time that it adds to your Majesty's domestick Felicity, gives additional Strength to the Protestant Succession in your Royal Family.

The Encouragement of our Manufactures, and the Extension of our Export Trade, with the other great and national Objects recommended to us from the Throne, cannot fail of having our earnest Attention; and we shall endeavour, by our Counsels and Examples, to impress upon the Minds of the People that Reverence for the Laws, which is essential to the Peace and good Order of Society, and the Prosperity of every Country.

Your Majesty's Tenderness for your Subjects here is strongly manifested in your not directing that they should be called upon for any extraordinary Exertions, in this Time of general Hostility; and we cannot, in Return, do less than assure your Majesty, that you may rely upon our loyal and cordial Disposition to afford your Majesty every Assistance in our Power, if the unnatural and dangerous Combination of your Enemies should make it necessary to call upon us.

The late spirited Offers of Assistance, which have been presented to his Excellency our Chief Governor from every Part of the Kingdom, are most pleasing Proofs that your loyal Subjects here beheld, with a just Indignation, the hostile Combinations of your Enemies; and are so far from being dismayed by them, that they have but served to animate them with that Spirit, which, if they had been necessarily called upon, would not have disappointed the warmest Expectations that could have been formed, of the Exertions of a brave and loyal People.

Wm. Watts-Gayer, } Cler. Parliament.
Edw. Gayer, }

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Answer:

I WILL take the first Opportunity of transmitting this dutiful and loyal Address to be laid before His Majesty.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, in Parliament assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland, in Parliament assembled, approach your Majesty with unfeigned and heart-felt Expressions of Duty, Loyalty and Attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

We return our grateful Thanks to your Majesty, for having placed in the Government of this Kingdom a Nobleman, from whose cultivated Talents, experienced Abilities, and known Virtues, we have every Reason to expect that the Happiness of Ireland will be secured and increased.

The great and substantial Benefits which have been communicated to this Country, through the benign Influence of your Majesty's Love for your Subjects, and the Wisdom and Liberality of the British Parliament, are already felt in the Increase of our Manufactures, and the Extension of our Commerce; and we may reasonably expect farther Facilities to the Exertion of Industry, and a farther Diffusion of national Employment and Wealth, when the Blessings of Peace shall be restored to the World.

The

The gracious Assurance of your Majesty's Royal Determination, to continue the most parental Attention to the increasing Prosperity of Ireland, cannot of Gratitude; and we feel the clearest Conviction, that the mutual Security and Strength of your Majesty's Kingdoms can never be promoted but by the Spirit and Effect of that Policy, which considers their true Interests as ever inseparable.

Deeply interested for our Sovereign's domestick Felicity, we offer our Congratulations to your Majesty upon the Birth of another Prince; and consider every Increase of your Majesty's Family as adding Security to that happy Succession, to which your Majesty's loyal Subjects of Ireland have at all Times shewn the most steady and most inviolate Attachment.

Animated as well by our Affection to your Majesty, as by our Attachment to the essential Welfare of our Constituents, we shall, so far as the Circumstances of the Country will permit, with the utmost Cheerfulness, grant such Supplies as shall appear adequate to the Maintenance of Public Credit, the honourable Support of your Majesty's Government, and the Security of the Kingdom: And we shall, without Delay, apply our Attention to whatever may contribute to improve the Management, or secure the Collection of the Public Revenues.

We acknowledge your Majesty's tender Concern for the Public Welfare, in what has been recommended to us from the Throne, respecting the Linen Manufacture, Tillage, the Protestant Charter-Schools, the Corn Bounties, the interior Police of the Kingdom, and other great national Objects; and we shall not fail, on our Part, in that Regard which Matters of such Importance deserve.

We are farther sensible of your Majesty's Goodness, in not having called upon your Kingdom of Ireland for any extraordinary Supplies, in this Time of general Hostility; and your Majesty may be thoroughly persuaded of our earnest Disposition to give every Assistance, compatible with our Means and Circumstances, towards resisting and repelling the unnatural and dangerous Combination of Enemies, to which your Dominions are at present exposed.

The Ardor with which the late Offers of Service were presented from every Part of the Kingdom, has afforded the most convincing Proof, that the Strength and Spirit of your Majesty's faithful People are animated by the warmest Loyalty towards your Person and Government; and we feel a conscious Pride, that the Character which this Country must bear in the Eyes of Europe, will tend to establish the Glory of your Majesty's Government, and the Safety and Happiness of this Kingdom

Tho. Ellis, Cler. Parl. Dom. Com.

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Answer:

I WILL forthwith transmit this dutiful and loyal Address to be laid before His Majesty.

To his Excellency Frederick Earl of Carlisle, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Address of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Excellency,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled, return your Excellency our most humble and sincere Thanks, for your most excellent Speech from the Throne; and we are happy in the Opportunity we now have of congratulating your Excellency upon your Appointment to the Government of this Kingdom, which we cannot but reckon amongst the Circumstances peculiarly fortunate to this Country at this auspicious Period.

The beneficial Effects of what hath been of late so wisely and liberally granted to this Country, are notwithstanding the Difficulties induced by the present most extensive War, such as leave us no Room to doubt, that when the Blessings of Peace shall be restored, those happy Effects will be more generally and in a much greater Degree experienced, in the Advancement of our Manufactures, the Extension of our Trade and Commerce, and by that general Increase of Employment, which will add to the Strength and Wealth of the Nation.

The Assurances given to us by your Excellency, of His Majesty's most gracious Determination to continue His parental Attention to this Country, fill us with the warmest Sentiments of Gratitude.

We are truly thankful to your Excellency for the very kind Manner in which you are pleased to convey those Assurances to us; and we do most cordially concur with your Excellency, that the true Interest of Ireland are, and must ever be, inseparable from those of Great Britain.

We have the most sincere Pleasure in the Addition to the Royal Family, by the Birth of another Prince to His Majesty, as thereby His Majesty's domestic Happiness has received an Increase, and the Protestant Succession a further Security.

We consider it as a Proof of your Excellency's Zeal to extend the Advantages of Civil Society, and of your Benevolence and good Wishes towards this Country, that you are pleased to call our Attention to the Encouragement of our Trade, the Improvement of our Manufactures, and to the perfecting and enforcing the interior Police of the Kingdom: And we should consider ourselves exceedingly deficient in our Duty to our Country, and in the Regard which we owe to your Excellency, if we did not endeavour, by our Counsels and Examples, to impress upon the Minds of the People that due Reverence of the Laws, which is necessary for the Well-being of Society, and the Prosperity of every Country.

We cannot but with Pleasure remark your Excellency's particular Attention to the several other national and important Objects, which you have been pleased to mention: And we assure your Excellency that we will bestow upon them that Regard which is due to Objects, which so much conduce to the Public Welfare.

We are happy in the Consideration, that we possess His Majesty's ardent Wishes for the Happiness of His People: And beholding with Indignation the unnatural and dangerous Combination of His Enemies, we entreat your Excellency to assure His Majesty, that we have the most cordial Disposition to afford Him every Assistance in our Power.

The general Concurrence with which the late spirited Offers of Assistance have been presented to your Excellency from every Part of the Kingdom, not only shew how justly His Majesty has placed a firm Reliance in the Affection and Loyalty of His People of Ireland; but they do, together with the Manner in which your Excellency received those Offers, afford that Display of Harmony and just Confidence, which cannot fail of disarming our Enemies, and extinguishing in them every vain Hope, that they can oppose themselves with Impunity to the Spirit of a brave and loyal People, eager, under your Excellency's Direction, to exert itself in Aid of His Majesty's Regular Forces for the Public Defence.

Your Excellency's Ability and Readiness to promote our Prosperity, of which we have already received the strongest Pledges, cannot but engage our Confidence, Confidence, and obtain from us the most cordial Concurrence towards the Ease and Honor of your Administration.

Wm. Watts Gayer, } Cler. Parliament.
Edward Gayer, }

To which Address His Excellency has been pleased to give this most gracious Answer.

My Lords,

I Return you my sincerest Thanks for this Address. The Satisfaction which I feel from so full an Approbation of my Conduct, is greatly heightened by the cordial Unanimity with which it has been tendered, and imposes on me the strongest Obligation to continue to deserve your favourable Opinion. I shall faithfully represent your loyal Attachment to His Majesty and His Government.

To his Excellency Frederick Earl of Carlisle, Lord Lieutenant General, and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens and Burgeses, in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Excellency,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland in Parliament assembled, return your Excellency our most humble Thanks for your excellent Speech from the Throne, congratulating your Excellency and ourselves upon your Appointment to the Government of this Kingdom, which distinguishes a Period peculiarly auspicious to Ireland. It cannot be doubted that a War, extending itself over so great a Part of the Globe, and especially subsisting between us and those Countries with which we otherwise should have much commercial Intercourse, must have raised powerful Obstacles to the Encouragement of Industry; but from the Progress which our Trade and Manufactures have nevertheless made, there can be little Doubt, that when the Blessings of Peace shall be restored, the substantial Effects of those Benefits, which the Wisdom and Liberality of the British Parliament have lately communicated to this Country, will be universally felt in the extensive Diffusion of national Employment and Wealth. We cannot satisfy ourselves in Expressions adequate to our Sentiments of Gratitude, for the Assurances given by your Excellency, in His Majesty's Name, of His Royal Determination to continue the most parental Attention to the increasing Prosperity of this Country; nor can we sufficiently thank your Excellency for the Pleasure you express in the Execution of these His Majesty's Commands. We regard the Measures which have conduced to wards that Prosperity with the most cordial Satisfaction; and convinced that the true Interests of His Majesty's Kingdoms are, and ever must be inseparable, we revere the comprehensive Wisdom and sound Policy which seek their mutual Strength and Security. We enjoy the highest Pleasure in every Addition to our gracious Sovereign's domestic Happiness, and especially in the Birth of another Prince, rendering the Protestant Succession more secure in the august House of Hanover. Zealously solicitous for the honorable Support of His Majesty's Government, the Safety of the Kingdom, and the Maintenance of Public Credit, we will most cheerfully make such Provision for those necessary Purposes as shall be suitable to the Circumstances of our Country, and the Exigencies of the Public Service; and we shall consider what may be requisite to improve the Management of our Finances, and to give Security and Effect to the Collection of the Revenue; and we entertain a due Sense of your Excellency's Readiness to concur with us in such Measures. Your Excellency's Benevolent Desire to promote whatever may contribute to the Advantages of Civil Society, cannot but receive the fullest Acknowledgments; and we humbly thank your Excellency for calling our Attention to the Improvement of our Manufactures, the Encouragement of our Trade, and the perfecting and enforcing of our interior Police; in which last we should consider our Deliberations as of little Avail, did we not firmly resolve by Council, and by the more prevalent Influence of Example, to impress upon the Minds of the People a becoming Reverence of the Laws. We shall continue our Attention to those Seminaries of true Religion and honest Industry, the Protestant Charter Schools; as also to the Encouragement of the Linen Manufacture, of Tillage, of the Fisheries, the Inland Carriage and Export of Corn, and other Objects of national Importance: In your Excellency's recommending of which to our Consideration we see and acknowledge a fresh Instance of your Regard to the Welfare of this Kingdom, and we shall apply our utmost Attention to the framing such Regulation of the Grants for these wise and benevolent Purposes, as may effectually prevent their being liable to Waste or Misapplication. And we are sensible of His Majesty's paternal Attention in not calling on us for any extraordinary Supplies in this Time of general Hostility. We behold with a Spirit animated by just Resentment, the unnatural and dangerous Combination of Enemies to which His Majesty's Dominions are exposed, and we entreat your Excellency to assure His Majesty of our loyal and earnest Disposition to give him every Assistance compatible with our Means and Circumstances. The general Concurrence with which the late spirited Offers of Assistance were presented to your Excellency from every Part of this Kingdom, and the Manner in which they were accepted, must give universal Satisfaction; they afford an incontrovertible Proof of mutual Harmony between the Crown and People, and of a confident Reliance upon the Wisdom and Uprightness of the Chief Governor; nor can the Public Security be ever shaken, while the Strength and Spirit of a brave People are directed by approved Loyalty to their Sovereign. The repeated Instances of your Excellency's Attention to the Safety and Prosperity of Ireland, claim our fullest Confidence; and we trust that our Conduct will evince that we have sincerely at Heart the Happiness and Honour of your Excellency's Administration.

Tho. Ellis, Cler. Parl. Dom. Com.

His Excellency's Answer.

Gentlemen,

THIS cordial Address makes the deepest Impression upon my Mind, and demands my warmest Acknowledgments. It is my Ambition to enjoy your Confidence, and you may be assured of my constant Endeavours, to persevere in that Line of Conduct, which has been already distinguished by your unanimous Approbation. The Representations I am to make to His Majesty, of your loyal Attachment to His Person and Government will give me the sincerest Pleasure, and cannot fail of being acceptable to a Sovereign, whose chief Object is the Happiness of all His People.

THE Copartnership between William Corrance, John Alderman, and the late Mr. John Lumisden, deceased, of Battersea in the County of Surry, Apothecaries, was, by mutual Consent, dissolved on the 31st of December last.
