Head Quarters of Field-Marshal Wurmser's Army, Valeggio, August 1, 1796.

MY LORD,

I Have the Honor to inform your Lordship, that the Siege of Mantua is raised, the French having retreated last Night with the utmost Precipitation.

I can now send only a very hasty Account of the Operations of the Imperial Army, which have been attended with such signal Success.—The great Exertions the Enemy were making against Mantua determined his Excellency Field-Marshal Count Wurmser to make Dispositions for attacking the Enemy, without waiting for the Arrival of further Reinforcements. Accordingly, on the 28th Ultimo, the different Corps were assembled at their respective Destinations, the Army forming Four Divisions, which were to advance by the different Passes from the Mountains of the Tyrol. The First Column, on the Right of the Lago de Garda, under the Orders of Lieutenant-General Quasdanowich, was to march on Salo and Brescia; the Second, commanded by Lieutenant-General Melas, between the Lake and the Adige, was to force all the Enemy's strong Posts on Monte Baldo; the Third was ordered to march, under the Command of Lieutenant-General Davidowich, by the Great Road from Alla, and, being separated only by the Adige from a Part of the Third Division, was to support it, and join it as soon as a Bridge could be placed between Dolci and Rivoli; the Fourth Column, under the Command of Lieutenant-General Mezaros, was designed to turn the Enemy's Right Flank, by marching from Bassano on Legnago.

Early on the 29th the Enemy was attacked on their whole Line of Posts, and were every where driven. Lieutenant-General Quasdanowich took 1000 Prisoners at Salo, and marched on Brescia. General Melas attacked the Post of Ferrara on the Summit of Monte Baldo, covered by an immense Ravine; his Troops crossed it with the greatest Intrepidity, and drove the Enemy from their Retrenchments, Batteries and Redoubts: A Part of his Division attacked, with equal Courage and Success, the narrow Pass of Brentino, between the Mountain and the Adige. The Artillery of the Third Division supported this Attack from the Left Bank of the River; and the same Corps, which acted under the Command of Lieutenant-General Sepotendorff, pushed on along the Right Bank, and forced the important Post of Rivoli, where the Enemy's Batteries commanded the Passage of the River. In these Attacks Nine Pieces of Cannon and 1500 Men were taken. The other Divisions advanced with little Resistance. On the 30th the Two Center Divisions, being united, continued their March in different Columns on Castel Nuovo and Peschiera; at the Desfiles of Campora and Cavaggione the Enemy were again driven, with Loss, from strong Positions, and in the Night they retreated by Peschiera.

Major-General Spiegel entered Verona, which the Enemy abandoned. On the 31st Major-General Pitoni occupied Villa Franca, and the Head Quarters were fixed here without Opposition; a Corps of Observation being left near Peschiera, under the Command of Major-General Bajolitz. These well-concerted and rapid Movements determined General Buonaparte to an immediate Retreat across the Po and the Mincio.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

Head Quarters, Goito, August 2, 1796.

MY LORD,

SINCE I had the Honor of writing to your Lordship Yesterday, the Field-Marshal has received Accounts from General Canto D'Irlas, Commandant of Mantua, which state, that the Enemy, having mask'd their Retreat by continuing to fire as usual on the Place during the Night, he could only send his Cavalry in Pursuit of them Yesterday Morning, and that they had already brought in about 600 Prisoners, among them a great Number of Artillery Men; that he was in Possession of all their Mortars and Cannon, amounting to about 140, with 190,000 Shells and Balls, and great Quantities of other Stores of all Kinds. The Head Quarters were removed here To-Day, and the Army will continue the Pursuit of the Enemy; but the excessive Fatigue the Troops have undergone, the Difficulty of supplying them at first where no Magazines could be previously formed, and the excessive Heat of the Weather, retard the Progress of the Army. No further Report is yet received from Lieutenant General Quasdanowich.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

(Signed) THO. GRAHAM.

P. S. No Reports having been as yet received from the different Divisions, I cannot mention the Loss of the Imperial Army; but I am happy to be able to state, from general Information, that it is inconsiderable, in Comparison of what might have been expected from the Difficulties that were surmounted.

Head Quarters, Guidizolo, August 4, 1796.

MY LORD,

FIELD-Marshal Wurmsler, with a View of assisting the Operations of Lieutenant-General Quasdanowich, having sent General Liptaye with an Advanced Guard, on the 2d, to Castiglione delle Stéviers, marched a Body of Troops early Yesterday Morning from Goito to support him.

General Liptaye had been forced to retire from Castiglione, and was nearly surrounded on the Heights between it and Solferino. The Cavalry disengaged him, and the Regiments forming as they came up, the Affair became general, the Imperial Troops maintaining their Ground, notwithstanding the great Superiority of Numbers of the Enemy, till Night put an End to the Combat. Too much Praise cannot be given to those Regiments which were first engaged, and which sustained, alone, the Attack of Three Divisions of the French Army, nor to the Cavalry, which repeatedly repulsed the French Cavalry, consisting of 3000 Horse. The whole Austrian Force engaged consisted of about 13,000 Infantry and 1500 Cavalry. All is quiet hitherto To-Day, both Armies remaining opposite to one another in the same Position as Yesterday.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

(Signed) THO. GRAHAM.

Head Quarters, Valeggio, August 5, 1796.

MY LORD,

THE French Army having Yesterday received very considerable Reinforcements from the Milanais, and a strong Column, from Bozolo and Marcaria, having advanced this Morning by St. Martino towards Medoli, threatening the Rear of the Left Wing of the Imperial Army, which extended into the Plain, the Field-Marshal ordered that it's Front should be changed, by being thrown back towards the high Ground on which the Right Wing was posted. During this Movement the Enemy attacked in great Force on the high Ground; and some of the Battalions of the Right Wing having given Way, fell in with those of the Left Wing not yet posted. This unfortunately created Confusion, and obliged the Field-Marshal to retreat on this Place. Lieutenant-General Mezaros, who was on his Way from Borgo-forté to join the Army, arrived To-Day at Goito. There are no Accounts yet of Lieutenant-General Quasdanowich, so that it is probable he is still among the Mountains, and the Enemy being collected in such Force near the South End of the Lago de Garda, it will be very difficult for him now to form a Junction that Way.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

(Signed) THO. GRAHAM.

Admiralty-Office, August 25, 1796.

Extract of a Letter from Admiral Sir Peter Parker, Bart. Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels at Portsmouth and Spithead, to Evan Nepean, Esq; dated on Board the Royal William, at Spithead, August 23, 1796.

PLEASE to acquaint their Lordships, that His Majesty's Cutter Speedwell arrived at Spithead this Morning with La Brave, French Cutter Privateer, carrying One Six-Pounder, Two Swivels, and Twenty-five Men, which she took Yesterday Morning off St. Catherine's Point. The said Privateer had been Twelve Hours only out of Cherbourg, had taken nothing, and was captured in the Attempt to board the Speedwell under Cover of the Night.

The Fly Sloop has also sent into this Port La Furet, French Lugger Privateer, of Five Swivels and Twenty-seven Men, which she took Yesterday Seven Leagues from Portland.

Admiralty-Office, August 25, 1796.

Copy of a Letter from Captain John Inguateaff, commanding Her Imperial Majesty's Sloop Dispatch, to Evan Nepean, Esq; Secretary of the Admiralty, dated Yarmouth Roads, August 22, 1796.

S I R,

I Have the Honor to acquaint you, for their Lordships Information, that, cruising with Her Imperial Majesty's Sloop under my Command off the Texel, with the Fleet, on the 20th Instant, at Four o'Clock in the Morning, being about Three Miles to Windward of it, the Admiral made me a Signal to examine a strange Vessel then in Sight. Upon stopping her, I found her to be an English Merchant Brig, named the Nelly, of Sunderland, proceeding to Flushing, having been captured on the 18th Instant by L'Augustine, French Schooner Privateer. I sent her immediately to the Admiral, and seeing a suspicious Vessel a-head of me at a great Distance, I lost no Time in giving Chace to her, and in the Course of Five Hours, by the Help of towing and rowing, I came up with her, when, after firing a few Shot, I had the Pleasure to see her strike her Colours. She proves to be the said Schooner Privateer, mounted with Six Guns and Four Swivels, and having on Board Thirty-five Men. I learned from from her Captain that she had captured Three English Vessels besides the Nelly, and was then on her Passage from Norway to the Texel, for which Place she had Two Pilots on Board. She was built Three Years ago, is coppered, and, in my Opinion, fit for His Majesty's Service.

I have the Honor to be, &c.
