

- rying Three Hundred and Ninety-two Men: cut out of the Harbour of Porto Cabello by the Boats of the Surprise.
- Spanish Polacre Neuestra Senora del Rosario, of Four Guns, Fifteen Men, and One Hundred Tons, from La Cuzara bound to Cadiz, laden with Hides, Coffee, Indigo, &c.: taken by Ditto.
- Spanish Schooner Neuestra Senora del Rosario, of Two Guns, Six Men, and Fifteen Tons, from Curacoa bound to Corro, in Ballast: burnt by Ditto.
- French Ship Egyptienne, of Eighteen Guns, One Hundred and Forty Men and Three Hundred Tons, from Cape François said to be bound to Jacquemel: taken by the Solebay.
- French Ship Balan, of Sixteen Guns, One Hundred and Twenty-five Men, and Three Hundred Tons, from Cape François said to be bound to Jacquemel: taken by Ditto.
- French Brig Sarier, of Twelve Guns and Eighty Men, from Cape François bound to Jacquemel: taken by Ditto.
- French Schooner Vengeur, of Eight Guns and Eighty Men, from Cape François bound it was said to Jacquemel: taken by Ditto.
- American Brig Fly, of Eight Guns, Seventeen Men, and Two Hundred and Eight Tons, from La Guira bound to Baltimore, laden with Indigo and Coffee: detained by the Brunswick.
- French Schooner Privateer L'Esperance, of Six Guns and Thirty-four Men, from St. Juan's on a Cruise: taken by Ditto.
- Spanish Ship Letter of Marque L'Austurianna, of Twenty-four Guns, One Hundred and Eighty Men, and Four Hundred and Fifty Tons, from Cadiz bound to Vera Cruz, richly laden with Bale Goods: taken by the Alarm and Amphion.
- Spanish Brig Noftra Senora de los Dolores, of Four Guns, Thirty Men, and One Hundred and Forty Tons, from Havannah bound to La Vera Cruz, laden with Cocoa: taken by the Greyhound, Stork, and Lark.
- Spanish Brig Santo Domingo y San Juan Nepumaceno, of Two Guns, Ten Men, and One Hundred and Ten Tons, laden with Brandy, Wine, Oil, Olives, and Tin: taken off Cape Catouche by the Lark.
- Spanish Polacre Londre San Antonio de Padua, of Six Guns, Eighteen Men, and One Hundred and Twenty Tons, laden with Dry Goods, Brandy, Wine, Oil, Olives, and Steel: taken off Cape Catouche by Ditto.
- French Schooner Privateer Petit Victoire, of Two Guns and Fifty-two Men, in Ballast: taken by the La Legere.
- A French Privateer, of Two Guns and Fifty Men, in Ballast: taken off Callabash Point, Porto Rico, by Ditto.
- American Vessel Mercury, of Four Guns and Eight Men, laden with Dry Goods and Provisions: recaptured off Porto Rico from a French Privateer, by Ditto.
- Spanish Brig Galgo, of Sixteen Guns and One Hundred Men: taken off the South-West End of Porto Rico, it bearing North-East Ten or Twelve Leagues, by the Crescent and Calypso.
- Spanish Schooner, (Name unknown) of Four Swivels and Twenty Tons, cut out of Cape Codera, at Anchor, laden with Indigo and Cotton: taken by the Acasta.
- Spanish Schooner, (Name unknown) of Six Guns and Thirty-five Tons: cut out of New Barcelona, at Anchor, laden with Indigo, Cotton, and Hides: taken by Ditto.
- American Schooner Endeavour, of Five Guns, Six Men, and One Hundred Tons, laden with Coffee, Rum, and Sugar: retaken Ten Leagues to the Northward of St. Juan's, from the French Privateer Le Petit Victoire: and sent to America by Ditto.
- French Schooner Privateer La Victoire, of Ten Guns, Sixty Men, and Ninety Tons: sunk under the Batteries of Aquada by Ditto.
- Ship Tomona, of Eight Guns, Sixty Men, and Three Hundred and Sixty Tons, from Vera Cruz bound to Hamburgh, laden with Sugar, Indigo, and Cochineal: detained by the Aquilon.
- Merchant Vessels, Cargoes, &c.*
- Spanish Schooner Le Conceptione, from Havannah bound to Campeache: detained by the Thunderer.
- Spanish Schooner La Raphael, from Havannah bound to Campeache with a false Pass: detained by Ditto.
- American Ship Planter, from New Orleans bound to Saint Croix: detained by Ditto.
- Spanish Schooner Las Tres Amigos, from Campeache bound to New Providence; false Pass: detained by Ditto.
- Spanish Schooner, (Name unknown): sunk by Ditto.
- Spanish Brig Trunheim Prose, from Savannah bound to Havannah, Eight Men and Three Hundred and Three Tons, laden with Brandy and Wine: taken by the Brunswick.
- Spanish Brig, from Vera Cruz bound to Merceannas, in Ballast: taken by the Carnatic.
- An English Sloop belonging to Jamaica, which had been taken by a Spanish Felucca Privateer: recaptured by Ditto.
- French Schooner of Fifteen Tons: sunk at Anchor near Porto Gravois by the Acasta.
- French Schooner La Patriotte, of Five Men and Fifteen Tons, from Baynette bound to Jacquemel, with Fifteen Thousand Five Hundred Pounds of Coffee: sunk by Ditto.
- Spanish Schooner, (unknown) of Fifteen Tons: taken off Saona, laden with Plantains and Timber, by Ditto.
- Spanish Schooner Saint Jos de las Animas, of Twenty-five Tons, in Mayaguave-Bay, laden with Rum and Corn: sunk by Ditto.
- Spanish Launch, of Eight Tons, in Cape Codera, at Anchor, laden with Dry Goods: sunk by Ditto.
- Spanish Launch, (unknown) of Nine Men and Five Tons, from La Guaza bound to Camana, laden with Wine and Indigo: given to the Prisoners by Ditto.
- Spanish Schooner Santo Domingo, of Eighteen Tons, from Saint Domingo bound to La Guira, laden with Rum and Fourteen Thousand Dollars: given to the Prisoners by Ditto.