THOMAS BOURCHIER, Deputy Clerk

Crown and Hanaper Office, Dublin,
 3d October 1804.

Admiralty Office, October 16, 1804.

Copy of a Letter from Vice-Admiral Sir John Thomas Duckworth, K. B. Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels at Jamaica, to William Marsden, Esq; dated at Port Royal, the 26th of August 1804.

SIR,

YOU will herewith receive, for the Information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, the Copies of Two Letters, reciting the Capture of the Hirondelle and Vautour French Privateers by His Majesty's Ships Tartar and Fortunée; the former of which, I trust, their Lordships will think with me does high Honor to the Officers and Crews of the Tartar's Boats, for their undaunted Spirit and Perseverance.

I am, &c. J. T. DUCKWORTH.

His Majesty's Ship Tartar, off St. Domingo, August 1, 1804.

SIR,

I HAVE the Honor to acquaint you, that, Yesterday Morning at Dawn, standing into Leeward of Saona, a small Sail was discovered from the Mast-Heads, to which I immediately gave Chase, keeping as close to Leeward of the Island as possible, in order to prevent her Escape that Way, knowing the Channel between that Island (Saona) and St. Domingo to be very narrow and intricate even for small Vessels. About Seven the Chase was made out to be a Schooner full of Men, using her Sweeps and every Means possible to get off; from which Circumstance supposing her to be a Privateer, and perceiving her Intention of attempting to escape through the beforementioned Channel, I made all possible Sail, and at Eight o'Clock got her within Reach of the Guns, which, from the short Tacks I was obliged to make, was prevented from using to that Advantage and Effect I could have wished without losing Ground, therefore, though several Shot went over, and through her Sails, she still persevered in beating to Windward until she had advanced near the Centre of the Channel, where, finding it impossible to proceed further, she came to an Anchor under a Reef of Rocks, at which Time, (Ten in the Forenoon,) having beat the Ship up into Six Fathoms Water, but deeming it imprudent to proceed further, and finding it would be almost impossible to destroy the Vessel with the great Guns, not being able to anchor, or to bring the Broadside to bear to Advantage, from the short Tacks we were obliged to make, without Hazard to the Ship; yet, judging it of Importance to take or destroy the Vessel by some Means or other, I immediately hoisted Three Boats out, and sent them manned and armed under the Direction of Lieutenant Mullah, (Second Lieutenant,) assisted by Lieutenant Lockyer (Third), with several Midshipmen, all Volunteers on the Occasion.

The Instant the Boat put off from the Ship, the Schooner hoisted French Colours, fired a Gun, and warped her Broadside towards them; as the Boats advanced, the Privateer commenced firing Grape from her great Guns, and on their nearer Approach opened a Fire of Musketry; yet notwithstanding, and a strong Sea Breeze against the Boats, Lieutenant Mullah, in the most intrepid and gallant Manner possible, pulled up in the Face of several Discharges of Grape, and a heavy Fire of Musketry from Fifty Men drawn up round the Deck, boarded and carried her. It is impossible to speak too highly, or sufficiently to express my Sense of the Bravery and intrepid Conduct of Lieutenants Mullah and Lockyer, as well as the Petty Officers, Seamen, and Marines employed under them; considering the Disadvantage under which they were obliged to attack, and the Preparation the Enemy had made for Defence, being nearly Noon Day; nor can I too much commend the Spirit and Alacrity with which they volunteered their Services on the Occasion, as well as the Whole of the Ship's Company.

I am happy to add, that only Two Men were wounded, one Seaman and one Marine (badly);

the French lost Nine killed and Six wounded, beside Three missing, supposed to have been drowned in attempting to swim on Shore; the Wounded I sent to St. Domingo by a Flag of Truce this Morning. The Remainder I keep on board, there being no English Prisoners to exchange in lieu. The Privateer proves to be the Hirondelle, Captain La Place, with Ten Four-Pounders and Fifty Men, and Two Days out from St. Domingo. She had run most of the last War, and all the present, frequently chased, but from her fast sailing always escaped.

I am, &c.

KEITH MAXWELL.

Vice-Admiral Sir J. T. Duckworth, K. B.

&c. &c. &c.

His Majesty's Ship Fortunée, off Altavella,

SIR,

August 10, 1804.

I HAVE the Honor to acquaint you, that running down the South Side of Domingo with His Majesty's Ship under my Command, disguised agreeable to your Directions, on the 10th Instant, off Altavella, I was chased by Le Vantour Felucca Privateer, mounting One Nine-Pounder Gun, and carrying Fifty-four Men, which approaching nearly within Gun-Shot before they discovered their Mistake, was captured after Two Hours' Chase.

I have the Honor to be, &c.

H. VANSITTART.

To Rear-Admiral Sir J. T. Duckworth,

K. B. Commander in Chief, &c. &c.

Admiralty-Office, October 16, 1804.

Copy of another Letter from Sir John Thomas Duckworth, K. B. Vice-Admiral of the Blue, &c. to William Marsden, Esq; dated at Port-Royal the 30th of August 1804.

SIR,

I TRANSMIT you herewith, for the Information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, a Letter from Captain Marshall, of His Majesty's Brig Pelican, relating the Capture of the National Schooner La Laurette; and am, &c.

J. T. DUCKWORTH.

His Majesty's Sloop Pelican, at Sea,

SIR,

August 24, 1804.

I HAVE the Honor to acquaint you, that on the Morning of the 23d Instant, Cape Nize bearing N. by E. Six or Seven Leagues, a strange Sail was discovered in the N. E. to which I immediately gave Chase, and have the Satisfaction to inform you, that after a Chase of Six Hours came up with and captured her, after discharging several Broadbides; she proves to be the National Schooner La Laurette, pierced for Sixteen Guns, but had only mounted Four Twelve-Pound Carronades and One long traversing Nine-Pounder, on Midships, and Forty Men, commanded by Citoyen de Blouch, Lieutenant de Vaisseau; had sailed from the City of St. Domingo the Night previous to her Capture, bound to St. Jago for the express Purpose of completing her Crew to One Hundred Men.

(Signed)

JNO. MARSHALL.

Sir John Thomas Duckworth,

&c. &c. &c.

Admiralty-Office, October 16, 1804.

Copy of a Letter from Sir James Saumarez, K. B. Rear Admiral of the White, to William Marsden, Esq; dated on board the Diomedé, Guernsey-Road, the 13th Instant.

SIR,

HAVING placed Captain Henniker, of His Majesty's Sloop Albacore, under the Orders of Commodore Duke de Bouillon, with Directions to use his utmost Endeavours to intercept any of the Enemy's Flotilla passing along the French Coast, I had the Satisfaction, last Evening, to receive an Account of his having purried, on the 8th Instant, Five Gun Luggers, and driven them on the Rocks off Grosnez on the following Day.

Captain Henniker anchored as near them as was consistent with the Safety of the Ship, and kept up a heavy Fire upon them with Round and Grape-Shot until they were covered by the Surf, and abandoned by their People, who appear to have been very numerous, and among them several were distinguished as Soldiers by their Clothing.

Great Praise is due to Captain Henniker for this spirited and gallant Attack within a few Hundred Yards of the French Coast, and under a heavy Fire from the Enemy's Batteries and Vessels: Great Commendation is also due to the Officers and Crew of the Albacore, who appear to have acted in the most determined Manner, and to have preserved the most exact Discipline, in so intricate a Situation, with the Wind directly on the Shore, and close to a heavy Surf; the Albacore was hulled in several Places, and the Main and Main Topmast wounded, but I am happy to find has suffered no Loss in Men.

Herewith I enclose the Commodore's Letter, reporting the Particulars of this Action; and am, &c.

JAMES SAUMAREZ.

His Majesty's Ship Severn,

SIR,

Jersey, &c. 10, 1804.

MY Hopes, as expressed to you in my Letter of the 8th Inst. are happily realized by the Success that attended the Albacore's Pursuit of the Vessels that were perceived creeping along the Shores of Normandy on that Day, and I have much Pleasure in transmitting you the following Detail of the Circumstance: Captain Henniker obeyed the Signal with admirable Promptitude, slipped his Cable, and made every Sail for the opposite Shore, on which the Wind directly blew, and although the Assault and Cutter returned, not having discovered the Enemy, and lost the Albacore in the Haze, the latter succeeded in intercepting near the Grosnez de Flamanville, Five Luggers of the Enemy that appear to have been Gun Vessels of the Second Class, with Bow Guns, and to force them to anchor close to the Surf, under the Cover of a Battery to the Southward of Grosnez; the Wind dead on the Shore, and a Lee Tide induced Captain Henniker to take a Position to await the Return of Day to attack them with some Prospect of Success, which he effected with infinite Gallantry Yesterday Morning at Ten o'Clock, when taking the Advantage of the Weather Tide, he stood in the Albacore, under a heavy Fire from the Battery and Gun Vessels, and anchored close to the latter, within Two Cables Length of the Surf, with Springs on his Cable, and at Eleven o'Clock opened a smart and well-directed Fire of Round and Grape Shot until the Enemy's Vessels were all driven on Shore, and lay Broadside-to in a heavy Surf, that broke with great Violence over them; their Men, of which they appear to have been full, landing in great Confusion through the Surf, and scrambling up the Beach half accoutered, their White Belts being distinctly seen from the Albacore; from the Number that were seen borne by others up the Strand and Sand-Hills, Captain Henniker thinks there were many killed and wounded; indeed there is every Reason to hope their Discomfiture was complete, from the very judicious Position Captain Henniker had taken; the Tide falling, and the Wind continuing to blow strong on the Shore, and the Albacore's Anchor dragging, he was obliged to abandon the Anchor and Spring, and haul off, the Main and Main Topmast shot through, the Ship hulled in several Places by the Enemy's Shot, and the Rigging much cut, though, happily, not a Man was touched. Captain Henniker speaks in Terms of high Approbation of the Support afforded him by Lieutenants Trotter and George, and the rest of the Officers and Crew of the Ship; and particularly commends the Readiness and determined Manner in which Mr. Wybert, the Pilot, took and placed the Ship in the Situation to effect the Service that Captain Henniker himself. (I have Pleasure in bearing Testimony) put so much Zeal to execute, so much that I know not which to commend most; his Promptitude and Activity in the Pursuit, or gallant Spirit in the Dash to follow and effect, amidst the Surf on a Lee Shore, and in very threatening Weather. It is the Opinion of all the Officers of the Ship that the Whole of the Five Vessels are irrecoverably lost in the high Surf that still continues to lash the Shore.

I have, &c.

D'AUVERGNE, Duke de Bouillon.

Rear-Admiral Sir James Saumarez, K. B.
