THIS Day the Right Honorable the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, Sheriffs, and Common-Council of the City of London, waited upon His 180. 15803.

B

Majesty (being introduced by the Lord in Waiting) with the following Address, which was read by John Silvester, Esq; the Recorder:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons, of the City of London, in Common-Council assembled.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common-Council assembled, beg Leave, with every Sentiment of Duty and Devotion to your Majesty's Person and Government, to approach your Majesty with our sincere Congratulations on the Discoveries which have been made by the Reports of the Commissioners of Naval Inquiry, laid before your Majesty and the other Branches of the Legislature, from which your Majesty must have seen with Astonishment and Indignation, that an eminent Member of your Majesty's Government, the Lord Viscount Melville, had been guilty of Practices which the Representatives of the People, in Parliament assembled, have declared to be a gross Violation of the Law, and a high Breach of Duty.

We are persuaded that your Majesty's Royal Mind feels it to be a great Aggravation of Lord Melville's palpable, conscious, and deliberate Breach of a Statute, which he, beyond all others, was bound to observe with strict Fidelity, that he had filled so many and such high Offices in Executive Government, and was honoured with so large a Portion of your Majesty's Confidence.

The Virtues which adorn your Majesty, and which excite in the highest Degree the Love of your People, are a Pledge to the Nation that, in removing Lord Melville from your Majesty's Councils and Presence for ever, the Punishment of a Delinquent, however just, is far less a Motive with your Majesty than the Example held out, that no Minister, however favoured, shall presume upon your Majesty's Countenance, who shall be found to have trampled upon the Law, and to have disgraced the Functions with which he had been invested.

The Investigations of the Commissioners of Naval Inquiry have excited the Interest, and inspired the Country with Gratitude towards those Commissions; and we are persuaded that your Majesty participates in the general Anxiety which pervades all Ranks for the Prolongation, and, if necessary, for the Enlargement of their Authority.

Confiding in your Majesty's paternal Solitude, that whatever is cheerfully contributed by a loyal People shall be faithfully administered, we entertain the fullest Assurance that, to your Majesty, it will be a Source of the profoundest Satisfaction, that all necessary Measures shall be adopted and persevered in towards the Correction and Punishment of proved Malversation, and that nothing will be omitted which shall have a Tendency to promote the public Confidence in Government, and to invigorate and confirm the Spirit, Energy, and Union of your Majesty's Empire at this important Crisis.

Signed by Order of Court,

WOODTHORPE.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

I AM fully sensible of your Loyalty and Attachment to My Person and Government; you may rely on My Concurrence in every Measure which is calculated to maintain the Credit of the Country, and to remedy any Abuses which may be found to exist in the public Expenditure.

They were all very graciously received, and had the Honor to kiss His Majesty's Hand.

Public Office, Bow-Street, March 18, 1805.
