I BEG Leave to inform you, that His Majesty's Sloop under my Command, being Yesterday Morning between St. Valery en Caux and Fecamp, a Sail was seen at Daylight, to which we gave Chase, and soon after made her out to be one of the Enemy's Privateers; the Wind having veered round from South to South East we were brought upon a Wind; at One P. M. between Estaples and Boulogne, the Castilian joined in Chase, with the Advantage of the Weather Gage, and obliged her to Tack; at Four we brought her to, nearly together, and found her to be the Lugger Privateer Le Braconnier, of Ten Guns, (thrown overboard in the Chase,) and Forty-seven Men; out Two Days from St. Valery en Caux, and had made no Captures.
