Admiralty-Office, March 31, 1812.

Copy of a Letter from Rear-Admiral Foley, Commander in Chief in the Downs, to John Wilson Croker, Esq; dated the 29th Instant.

SIR,

IHAVE the honour to transmit, for their Lordships information, a letter this morning received from Captain Harvey, of His Majesty's sloop Rosario, detailing an account of a very spirited attack made by him on the enemy's flotilla, consisting of twelve brigs, of three brass twenty-four pounders, and one eight-inch howitzer, with fifty men each, and a lugger, assisted with great gallantry by Captain Trollope, of His Majesty's sloop Griffon, which terminated in the capture of three brigs, and putting two ashore. I am happy it is in my power to name Captain Harvey as an officer of great zeal, and distinguished merit; Captain Trollope, their Lordships will observe, is highly spoken of in Captain Harvey's letter, for his prompt attention, and gallant conduct in the attacks he so judiciously and successfully made on the enemy.

I have the honour to be, &c.

THOS. FOLEY, Rear-Admiral.

J. W. Croker, Esq.

His Majesty's Sloop Rosario, off Dieppe, March 27, 1812.

SIR,

IT is with much satisfaction I have to acquaint you, that at half-past eight A.M., Dieppe bearing S. W. four or five miles, we observed an enemy's flotilla, consisting of twelve brigs and one lugger, standing along shore, and immediately made sail to cut off the leewardmost. The enemy, by signal from their Commodore, formed into a line and engaged us severally as we passed, but upon luffing up to cut off the sternmost, the whole bore up to support her, and endeavoured to close with us. Finding them thus determined to support each other, and the small force of the Rosario not admitting my running the risk of being laid on board by several at once, I bore up to a brig we observed in the offing (and which proved to be the Griffon) and made the signal for an enemy. The moment she had answered we hauled to the wind, and at forty minutes after twelve began to harass the enemy's rear, who were then endeavouring to get into Dieppe under all sail; tacked and wore occasionally to close, receiving and returning the fire of the whole line each time; at half-past one, being far enough to windward, run into the body of the enemy, and by cutting away the running rigging of the two nearest, drove them on board each other, backed the maintop-sail and engaged them within musket shot till they were clear, then stood on and engaged another, whose mainmast and foretop-mast soon went by the board, when she immediately anchored; passed her and drove the next in the line on shore; two more of their line yet remained to leeward, bore up and ran the nearest one on board (then not more than three quarters of a mile from the shore). So far the Rosario had acted alone, as the Griffon had not yet arrived within gun-shot: bore away with prize beyond range of the batteries and hailed the Griffon (then passing under a press of sail) to chase the remaining brig, and which service she performed in a very handsome manner, by running her on shore near St. Aubin, under a very heavy fire from the shore: seeing no probability of the Griffon being able to destroy the brig, made her signal to attack the enemy in the S.E., then anchoring close in shore. In the mean time we were getting the prisoners on board and repairing the running rigging, which was much damaged. Captain Trollope having closed with the enemy, run the Griffon in shore of one at an anchor nearly in the centre, and in the most gallant manner laid her on board, cut her cables and stood out, under the fire of the batteries and the whole of the other brigs: upon passing the Griffon I found her too much disabled to immediately make sail again to the attack, but being determined to have another, (and although we had nearly as many prisoners as our own sloop's company) I run the dismasted one on board, which we found the enemy had deserted, but this circumstance the darkness of the night prevented our being enabled previously to discover, at which time the remaining seven of the flotilla were under weigh, getting into Dieppe harbour. I must beg leave to mention the very able assistance I received from the exertion of my First Lieutenant, Mr. James Shaw, in boarding the enemy, and during the whole of the day in the arduous task of working the ship while engaging; and the conduct of the whole of the other officers and ship's company was such as to merit my warmest approbation. We have only one petty officer and four men wounded; the officer is Mr. Jonathan Widdicome Dyer, Midshipman, whose unremitted exertions during the action and activity in boarding, (when he received the wound) together with his general good conduct, renders it my duty to recommend him.

The flotilla is the fourteenth division, commanded by Monieur Sarue, Capitaine de Vaisseau, and Commandant de Division; sailed from Boulogne at ten P.M. the 26th instant, and intended going to Cherbourg: each brig has three long brass twenty-four pounders, and an eight-inch brass howitzer, with a complement of fifty men. When I consider this flotilla, united to batteries keeping up a constant fire of both shot and shells, and the very small force we had, I trust the having taken three, run two on shore, and much damaged the others, will shew our zeal for the public service, and meet your approbation. I have the honour to be, &c.

B. HARVEY, Commander.

Rear-Admiral Foley, &c. &c. &c.

First.—“ That every ship in His Majesty's Navy, from a first to a fifth rate inclusive, shall be allowed a Chaplain on her establishment.”

Secondly.—“ That every Chaplain after eight years of actual sea service, (or if in a guard-ship, ten years,) during which period he shall not have been absent from his duty six weeks at any one time, except by special leave from the Board of Admiralty, and who shall produce certificates of good conduct and moral behaviour from the Captains he may have served under, shall be entitled to a pension in the nature of half-pay; but no Chaplain to be entitled to half-pay or pension if he shall accept any preferment with cure of souls during the term of his required service at sea.”

Thirdly.—“ That the amount of this pension or half-pay to each Chaplain shall be five shillings per day.”

Fourthly.—“ That if in the event of a peace, or from other circumstances not depending on himself, a Chaplain shall not have been able to complete the full servitude of eight years, a pension may be conferred by the Board of Admiralty, according to a scale to be determined on, proportionate to the term of service; in no case, however, to be granted for less than three years service at sea.”

Fifthly.—“ That on the expiration of the period of eight (or ten) years, as the case may be, every Chaplain shall give notice in writing, whether it is his intention to continue to serve or not; in the first case, every year's additional service shall entitle him, when placed on the pension list, to receive at the rate of sixpence a day in addition to the pension which his eight (or ten) years servitude may have entitled him to, until the aggregate rate amounts to ten shillings a day, being the greatest pension which any length of service can confer; in the second case, where no further service is intended, the pension shall remain at five shillings a day as above-mentioned.”

Sixthly.—“ That length of service and meritorious conduct shall render Chaplains eligible to all the Chaplaincies of all Naval establishments whatever, the disposal of which shall, or may be, left to the consideration of the Board of Admiralty; and that no other Clergyman shall be eligible to any of those pieces of preferment, than a Navy Chaplain; and that the presentation to any of those pieces of preferment, whose emoluments may amount to four hundred pounds per annum, shall cause the half-pay of the respective Chaplains to cease, as is provided by law in the case of the divided Living of Simonbourn.”

Seventhly.—“ That the pay of a Chaplain, while in actual service, shall be according to the following rate, viz.

“ One hundred and fifty pounds per annum, and the established compensation of 11l. 8s. a year for a servant, in each rate, and to have a cabin allotted for him, in the ward-room, or gun-room, where he is to mess with the Lieutenants and to be rated for victuals: and when the Chaplain shall be willing to act as Schoolmaster, he shall be entitled to the bounty of twenty pounds a year, granted by her late Majesty Queen Anne, by her Order in Council, of the 21st April 1702, provided he shall pass an examination before the Lieutenant-Governor, Professor, and Preceptor of the Royal Naval College at Portsmouth, instead of at the Trinity House, as required by the above-mentioned Order in Council; and he shall be further entitled to five pounds per annum, to be paid to him by every young Midshipman and Volunteer of the first class, as a remuneration for

"his education, the same to be stopped out of the said young Gentlemen's pay."

Eighthly.—"That a Chaplain-General shall be appointed, with such emoluments as may be deemed proper by the Board of Admiralty, to whom all applications for appointments shall be made, or will be referred, and all regulations entrusted, relating to the establishment of Chaplains for the Royal Navy, in the same manner as is practised with regard to Army Chaplains."

Ninthly.—"That no warrant will be granted by the Board of Admiralty, to any candidate for an appointment, unless recommended by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, and the Bishop of London, through the Chaplain-General, as in every way properly qualified."

Tenthly.—That Chaplains now serving in the Navy, who may upon due examination be deemed proper to be continued, shall be allowed the time they may have served, as part (not exceeding one half) of that required to entitle them to the pension or half-pay."
