COLONIAL DEPARTMENT.

Downing-Street, September 28, 1812.

DISPATCHES, of which the following are a copy and extract, were this day received by the Earl of Bathurst, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, from Lieutenant-General Sir George Prevost, Governor in Chief of His Majesty's Provinces in North America.

My Lord,

Montreal, August 14, 1812.

I HAVE the honour to transmit herewith, for your Lordship's information, the copy of a report which has been forwarded to me by Major-General Brock, of the surrender, by capitulation, of the American post of Michilimackinac to a detachment of His Majesty's troops from St. Joseph's, under the command of Captain Roberts, of the 10th Royal Veteran Battalion. This report is accompanied by a return of prisoners taken, and of the stores which were found in the fort.

In addition to these I have a further report of the crews of two vessels, to the number of forty-three, who were in the fort, having fallen into our hands, together with seven hundred packs of furs.

My dispatch, No. 59, will have acquainted your Lordship of a large detachment from the American army having taken possession of Sandwich on the 12th ultimo.

Brigadier-General Hull, I find, commenced his operations against Amherstberg a few days after; and the detachment of the 41st regiment have behaved with great gallantry in repelling three attempts made by the Americans to approach the fort, by the river Canard.

These successes, with the diversion on the flank of the enemy by the possession of Michilimackinac on the 17th ultimo, may be attended with consequences favourable to the security of Upper Canada. I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) GEORGE PREVOST.

SIR, Fort Michilimackinac, July 17, 1812.

ON the 15th instant I received letters by express from Major-General Brock, with orders to adopt the most prudent measures either for offence or defence, which circumstances might point out; and having received intelligence from the best information, that large reinforcements were daily expected to be thrown into this garrison, with the thorough conviction that my situation at Saint Joseph's was totally indefensible, I determined to lose no time in making the meditated attack on this fort.

On the 16th, at ten o'clock in the morning, I embarked my few men, with about one hundred and eighty Canadians, and two iron six-pounders. The boats arrived without the smallest accident at the place of rendezvous, at three o'clock the following morning; by the exertions of the Canadians, one of the guns was brought up a height commanding the garrison, and ready to act about ten o'clock.

A summons was then sent in; a copy of the capitulation which followed, I have the honour to enclose. At twelve o'clock the American colours were hauled down, and those of His Majesty were hoisted. A committee has been appointed to examine into the state of the public stores.

Enclosed also are the returns of the ordnance and military stores found in the fort, and the strength of the garrison. The greatest praise is due to every individual employed in this expedition; to my own officers I am indebted, in particular, for their active assistance in carrying all my orders into effect.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) CHAS. ROBERTS, Capt. Com.
The Adjutant-General, &c. &c. &c.

Extract of a Dispatch from Lieutenant-General Sir George Prevost, to Earl Bathurst, dated Montreal, 17th August 1812.

I HAVE the honour to inform your Lordship, that an invasion of Upper Canada took place on the 12th July last, the enemy having on that day crossed the River Detroit with a force, composed of regular troops and militia, together with forty or fifty cavalry, amounting in the whole to about two thousand three hundred men, under the command of Brigadier-General Hull, and took post at Sandwich.

The militia in the neighbourhood not being able to oppose any effectual resistance, retreated upon their approach towards Fort Amherstburg, about twelve miles distant. Part of the enemy's force having since advanced to within six miles of that fort, several skirmishes have taken place between them and the troops of the garrison, which have constantly terminated in favour of the latter, with the loss of several men on the part of the enemy, and of only one soldier of the 41st killed, and another wounded, and a similar loss on the part of the Indians; and, I am happy to say, that on these occasions, His Majesty's 41st regiment in a particular manner distinguished themselves.
