By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS His Majesty, by His Royal Proclamation, bearing date the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and one, did, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, amongst other things, appoint and declare that, with the arms or ensigns armorial of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, there should be borne, on an escocheon of pretence, the arms of His Majesty's dominions in Germany, ensigned with the electoral bonnet; and that the standard of the said United Kingdom should be the same quarterings as were therein declared to be the arms or ensigns armorial of the said United Kingdom, with the escocheon of pretence thereon, therein before described; and that the arms or ensigns armorial aforesaid should be used thenceforth, as far as conveniently might be, on all occasions wherein His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial ought to be used: and whereas His Majesty having substituted to His antient title of Elector of the Holy Roman Empire, the title of King of Hanover, it is fit that an alteration should be made in His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial, We have therefore thought fit, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, to appoint and declare that, instead of the arms of His Majesty's dominions in Germany, ensigned with the electoral bonnet, as directed by His Majesty's Proclamation above mentioned, there shall henceforth be used and borne with the arms or ensigns armorial of His Majesty's said United Kingdom, on an escocheon of pretence, the arms of His Majesty's dominions in Germany, ensigned with the Hanoverian royal crown; and that the standard of the said United Kingdom shall be the same quarterings as by His Majesty's said Proclamation were declared to be the arms or ensigns armorial of the said United Kingdom, with the escocheon of pretence, ensigned with the said Hanoverian royal crown, instead of the electoral bonnet: but, nevertheless, it is Our will and pleasure, that all such gold, silver, and copper monies, as on the day before this eighth day of this instant June were current and lawful monies of Great Britain, and all such gold, silver, and copper monies, as shall on or after this day be coined by Our authority with the like impressions, until Our will and pleasure shall be otherwise declared, shall be deemed and taken to be current and lawful monies of the said United Kingdom in Great Britain; and that all such gold, silver, and copper monies, as on the day before this eighth day of this instant June were current and lawful monies of Ireland, and all such gold and silver, and copper monies, as shall on or after this day be coined by Our authority with the like impressions, until Our will and pleasure shall be otherwise declared, shall be deemed and taken to be current and lawful monies of the said United Kingdom in Ireland; and all such monies as shall have been coined for and issued in any of the dominions of the said United Kingdom, and declared by Our Proclamation to be current and lawful money of such dominions respectively, bearing His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial, or any part or parts thereof; and all monies which shall hereafter be coined and issued according to such Proclamation, shall continue to be lawful and current money of such dominions respectively; notwithstanding such change in His Majesty's arms or armorial bearings respectively as aforesaid, until Our pleasure shall be further declared thereupon; and all and every such monies as aforesaid shall be received and taken in payment in Great Britain and Ireland respectively, and in the dominions thereunto belonging, after the date of this Proclamation, in such manner and as of the like value and denomination as the same were received and taken before the date hereof; and it is also Our will and pleasure that the several dies and marks which have been used to denote the stamp duties, and all other stamps and marks and instruments, which before the issuing of this Proclamation shall have been in actual use for any public purpose, and in which His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial, or any parts or part thereof respectively may be expressed, shall not, by reason of this Proclamation or any thing therein contained, be changed or altered, until the same may be conveniently so changed or altered, or until Our pleasure shall be further declared thereon; but that all such dies, stamps, marks, and instruments respectively, bearing His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial, used before this eighth day of June instant, or any parts or part of such arms or ensigns armorial, shall have the like force and effect, as the same had before the said eighth day of June instant.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the eighth day of June one thousand eight hundred and sixteen, in the fifty-sixth year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

At the Court at Carlton-House, the 27th of June 1816,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

ment for the local militia do take place from and after the date of this Order for the space of one year, but that the ballot and enrolment for the local militia do remain and continue suspended for the space of one year from the date of this Order.

Highly valuing the numerous advantages which this country has long enjoyed, under a succession of Princes of the House of Brunswick, we take peculiar interest in this auspicious event.

Permit us, Sir, to express our warmest wishes, that the alliance may be productive of permanent satisfaction to your Royal Highness.

From the education of Her Royal Highness, in principles adapted to give stability to a Government, and prosperity to a nation, we confidently cherish the hope, that the true dignity of our country will be preserved by the wise and beneficial exercise of the same desire to promote the welfare of the people, and by the same sacred regard to the freedom of religious profession and worship, which have characterised the reign of our venerable Sovereign, and the administration of Government by your Royal Highness.

Influenced by these sentiments, we fervently offer our prayers to the King of Kings for the continued health and happiness of your Royal Highness, and of those illustrious personages whose nuptials have called forth from His Majesty's subjects such lively testimonies of approbation.

of Wales, a Princess eminently endowed with every virtue and accomplishment. WE, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders, and others of the County of Worcester, humbly request to be permitted to add our heartfelt congratulations, to those of the nation at large, on an union which unites all the virtues of private life to exaltation of rank. It would become us to address the language of praise to an illustrious pair so justly distinguished for their personal merits, and to whom all are proud to pay the homage of respect and admiration; but we trust that we may be permitted to express our earnest hopes that the virtues which are universally acknowledged may, under the protection of Providence, meet with their full reward in the happiness of that illustrious pair, and in the prosperity of those realms, which derive increased security and lustre from an union founded upon the pure basis of private virtue and political wisdom.

Jos. Lea, Sheriff.

Other considerations, resulting from your Royal Highness's elevated rank and prospective situation, have been duly consulted, and if, in the fulness of time, your Royal Highness should ascend the throne of which you are the presumptive heiress, we trust and hope that its dignity will be so maintained by your Royal Highness, as to invest your reign with the glory which illustrates those of the two female Sovereigns who are so pre-eminently conspicuous in the British annals.

We anticipate, with peculiar pleasure and satisfaction, the happiest results from so distinguished and happy an union, primarily to your Royal Highness and your illustrious and amiable Consort, and secondly to all ranks of His Majesty's subjects, in the hearts of whom sentiments of the strongest affection and reverence, will ever be indelibly engraven, by the affectionate regard to the interest and happiness of this highly favoured Isle, which your Royal Highness has so fully manifested by this illustrious alliance.

We earnestly hope that in this happy union every felicity may attend your Royal Highness and your Royal Consort; and that you may be crowned with every blessing which can promote and insure to your Royal Highness all earthly happiness.

Given under our common seal, the twenty-fifth day of May, in the fifty-sixth year of His Majesty's reign.

May your Serene Highness and your Royal Bride long live to partake of the blessings which Providence has kindly preserved for you, and may every happiness attend you throughout a long and virtuous life.

WE, the Inhabitants of the Ancient Town and Borough of Southwark, in Town-Hall assembled, beg leave to offer your Royal and Serene Highnesses our sincere congratulations on your recent marriage; and to express our anxious but confident hope, that your union may prove a source of perpetual happiness to your Royal and Serene Highnesses, and a lasting benefit to the British empire, as it adds additional lustre to the House of Brunswick. Witness These, High-Bailiff.

[Presented by Lieutenant-Colonel Gaitskell (Mover), Mr. Thomas Starling Beisau (Second), Charles Calvert and Charles Barclay, Esqrs. (Representatives for Southwark), and Messrs. Florence Young, Samuel Herbert, James Freeman, Joseph Prestwick, and John Clutton.]

To which Address Her Royal Highness and His Serene Highness were pleased to return the following Answer:

"It will ever afford us satisfaction, to remember this instance of regard and attention in the inhabitants of the borough of Southwark; we are assured of their interest in our happiness, and we receive their congratulations with every heartfelt satisfaction and pleasure."

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the General Body of Protestant Dissenting Ministers of the Three Denominations, residing in and about the Cities of London and Westminster, beg leave to present to your Royal Highness our sincere congratulations on the event of your alliance with His Serene Highness Prince Leopold of Saxe-Cobourg, and to tender our warmest wishes for your truest felicity through every succeeding period of your existence.

Descended from an illustrious line of royal ancestors, who have meritoriously and successfully laboured to advance the general improvement of the nation, and confirm our much valued liberties, we are persuaded that your Royal Highness will derive the highest satisfaction from emulating such laudable examples.

Should your Royal Highness be ever called to fill the arduous and elevated situation of a Sovereign, we are confident that the conduct of your Royal Highness will evince the unceasing conviction, that a devoted attention to the intellectual and moral improvement of a cultivated and loyal people, will afford your Royal Highness more solid gratification, and confer more real splendour, than the outward ornaments of royalty.

To His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick, Duke of Saxe, Margrave of Meissen, Landgrave of Thuringen, Prince of Cobourg of Saalfeld, &c.

May it please your Serene Highness,

WE, the General Body of Protestant Dissenting Ministers of the Three Denominations, residing in and about the Cities of London and Westminster, have sincere pleasure in hailing the arrival of your Serene Highness in this kingdom on the present important occasion, and in presenting our warmest congratulations on your alliance with our amiable and illustrious Princess, Charlotte Augusta.

From the elevated descent, various accomplishments, and excellent qualities of your Serene Highness, we are led to entertain the most pleasing expectation of the felicity attendant upon these auspicious nuptials.

It is our ardent wish, that this country may afford your Serene Highness facilities for every active, liberal, and beneficial pursuit congenial to your taste and inclination.

In promoting the happiness of our beloved Princess, the country's hope, affording her kind and constant support on all occasions conducive to her advantage, and aiding her benevolent designs for extensive usefulness, your Serene Highness will be entitled to the gratitude and affection of a free, enlightened, and loyal people.

Duly appreciating excellence, we rejoice to see it transplanted, naturalized, and flourishing in our land; and it is our wish and prayer, that your Serene Highness may enjoy to a distant period all the happiness which your exalted situation can bestow.

To which Addresses Her Royal Highness and His Serene Highness were pleased to return the following Answer:

Be assured that we receive the congratulations of the Protestant Dissenting Ministers of the Three Denominations with every cordial satisfaction and pleasure; and we are well assured in those fervent hopes they express for our mutual happiness, and for the prosperity of His Majesty's kingdoms."

To Her Royal Highness, the Princess Charlotte Augusta of Wales.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Burgesses, and loyal Inhabitants of the Borough and Parish of Barnstaple, request permission to approach your Royal Highness with our most sincere congratulations on the joyful occasion of your recent marriage.

From scenes of violence, and the operations of a just and necessary war, in which, under the auspices of your illustrious House, and the superintending care of Providence, the wisdom and valour of Britons have been so successfully and so decisively exerted in frustrating the ambitious and destructive views of an inveterate foe, and vindicating the national honour, we are allowed to turn our undivided attention to the more pleasing duties and occupations of peace; and at this early period of it, we contemplate with exultation your union with the noble House of Cobourg as one of its most favourable omens, as promising to your Royal Highness the greatest portion of domestic felicity, and encouraging the firmest hopes of continued prosperity and happiness to the British nation.

We, with confidence, indulge these pleasing hopes, on account of the numerous virtues and excellent qualities which distinguish your Royal Highness and your august husband, which, while they shed a lustre over your exalted station, endear you to a great and grateful people, and are the surest means of permanently securing their loyal attachment and affection.

We beg leave most dutifully to express to you our most ardent wishes for the uninterrupted health and happiness of your Royal Highness and your illustrious consort, in which the most important interests of this nation are essentially concerned.

Henry Drake, Town Clerk.

Barnstaple, June 19, 1816.

To His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick, Duke of Saxe, Margrave of Meissen, Landgrave of Thuringuen, Prince of Cobourg of Saalfeld.

May it please your Serene Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Burgesses, and loyal Inhabitants of the Borough and Parish of Barnstaple, beg leave to address to you our warmest congratulations on your marriage with the presumptive heiress to the British throne.

The merits of an illustrious ancestry are justly deemed a strong and legitimate recommendation to public respect, and in estimating the character of your Serene Highness, we find that respect heightened by the gallant spirit and heroic qualities which have at so early a period marked your military career, and enlisted in your favour the generous and manly feelings of Britons. On the present occasion, however, it is not to the sterner virtues, which delight to display themselves in the glorious achievements of war, that we look with so much satisfaction, as to that strength of understanding, that amiable disposition, and those sound principles which your Serene Highness is known to possess. These endowments conciliate general esteem, ensure to yourself and your royal bride all possible connubial and domestic happiness, and sanction the most cheering confidence, that the inestimable blessings of our excellent Constitution, our civil and religious rights will be perpetuated among us.

We should have rejoiced in any fortunate concurrence of circumstances that brought such a character to our shores; how greatly then must our gratification be augmented, when we behold you united with that illustrious Personage, on whom our hopes so much depend, and in whose welfare we have such mighty interests at stake.

That you may both ever continue to enjoy the favour and the choicest blessings of Heaven, is the fervent wish of every loyal heart.

Henry Drake, Town Clerk.

Barnstaple, June 19, 1816.

[Presented by Sir Matthew Lopez, Mr. Franco, and Captain Gribble.]

To which Addresses Her Royal Highness and His Serene Highness were pleased to return the following Answer:

"Assure the inhabitants of Barnstaple with what happiness we must remember their attachment, and the interest they have expressed in our happiness; we receive their address and congratulations with the highest satisfaction."
