The Genealogist, in his mantle, chain, and badge.

KNIGHTS GRAND CROSSES.

The Earl of Rosslyn.

Sir Charles Morice Pole.

Lord Viscount Exmouth.

Sir William-Henry Clinton.

Sir Harry Calvert.

The Marquess of Anglesey.

Sir John Doyle. Sir William Keppel.

Lord Viscount Strangford.

Sir Richard-John Strachan.

Sir Alured Clarke.

The Dean of Westminster, Dean of the Order, in his mantle, chain, and badge.

His Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany, First and Principal Knight Grand Cross of the Order.

Then, by command of the Sovereign, Admiral Sir Edward Thornbrough was introduced into the Presence between the Earl of Rosslyn and Sir Charles-Morice Pole, the two Junior Knights Grand Crosses present, preceded by the Gentleman Usher of the Order; and, Deputy Bath King of Arms presenting the ribband and badge to His Royal Highness the Duke of York, the Senior Knight Grand Cross, His Royal Highness delivered the same to His Majesty, when, Sir Edward Thornbrough kneeling, the Sovereign was graciously pleased to put them over his right shoulder; the Admiral being thus invested, and, having received from the Sovereign the star of the Order, kissed His Majesty's hand and withdrew.

Then, Admiral Sir Eliab Harvey was, in like manner, introduced into the Presence and invested; and, having also received from the Sovereign the star of the Order, kissed His Majesty's hand and withdrew.

The Knights Grand Crosses were then called over, and the procession returned in the order above mentioned.

Carlton-House, April 27, 1825.

The King was this day pleased to invest Rear-Admiral Sir William Charles Fahie with the ensigns of a Knight Commander of the Most Honourable Military Order of the Bath.

By His Majesty's command, Rear-Admiral Sir William Charles Fahie was conducted, with the usual reverences, to His Majesty, preceded by Sir George Nayler (the Officer of Arms attendant upon the Knights Commanders), bearing, upon a crimson velvet cushion, the star, ribband, and badge of the second class of the Order.

The sword of state was thereupon delivered to His Majesty, the Rear-Admiral, kneeling, was knighted therewith, after which he had the honour to kiss His Majesty's hand.

Then Field-Marshal His Royal Highness the Duke of York, First and Principal Knight Grand Cross of the Order, having received from the Officer of Arms the ribband and badge of a Knight Commander, presented them to the Sovereign, and His Majesty was graciously pleased to invest Sir William Charles Fahie with the same. The Rear-Admiral having again had the honour to kiss the Sovereign's hand, and having received from His Majesty the star of a Knight Commander, retired.
