"LIII. And be it further enacted, that in case of any sudden and violent death occurring on board any ship, vessel, or boat, or in any other place within this jurisdiction, the Harbour-Master shall hold an inquest on the body of the deceased in the same manner, and shall have the same powers of summoning medical practitioners and witnesses; and all such medical practitioners shall be entitled to the same remuneration, and subject to the same penalties in case of non-attendance, as is provided in the case of inquisitions appointed to be held in the case of persons slain, or suddenly dead, within the districts of rural police, in and by a certain Ordinance, intituled "An Ordinance for establishing a system of rural police."

"LIV. And, for the protection of persons acting under this Ordinance, be it enacted, that all actions to be commenced against any person, for any thing done in pursuance of this Ordinance, shall be brought and tried in the Court of First Instance of Civil Jurisdiction, and not in the Complaint Court, or in any other court or tribunal; and that all persons, against whom any such action shall be brought, shall be entitled to, and have and receive, the same protection as magistrates are entitled to, under the provisions of a certain Ordinance, intituled "An Ordinance for rendering magistrates more safe in the execution of their duty."

"LV. And be it further enacted, that for the purposes of this Ordinance, the harbour of Port of Spain shall extend to, and comprise, all such parts of the Gulph of Paria as lie within four miles from the south end of the jetty at the King's Wharf, in the town of Port of Spain.

"LVI. And be it further enacted, that this Ordinance shall take effect from and immediately after the promulgation thereof.

"Passed in Council this twenty-sixth day of May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and forty.

Thomas F. Johnston, Clerk of Council."

And whereas it is enacted, by the fifty-fourth clause of the said Ordinance, that, for the protection of persons acting under the said Ordinance, all actions to be commenced against any person for any thing done in pursuance of the Ordinance, shall be brought and tried in the Court of First Instance of Civil Jurisdiction in the said island of Trinidad, and not in the Complaint Court, or in any other court or tribunal in the said island:

And whereas it has been represented to Her Majesty, that it would not be advisable to prevent actions from being brought in the Complaint Court of the said island of Trinidad, by any person who may suffer wrongs in consequence of things alleged to be done in pursuance of the said Ordinance:

And whereas Her Majesty, with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to disallow so much of the fifty-fourth clause of the said Ordinance as enacts, that all such actions as aforesaid shall be brought and tried in the Court of First Instance of Civil Jurisdiction, and not in the Complaint Court, or in any other court or tribunal:

It is, therefore, ordered, by Her Majesty, by and with the advice aforesaid, that the same shall be, and the same is hereby, disallowed accordingly; and it is hereby further ordered, that it shall be competent for the Complaint Court, in the said island of Trinidad, to try and determine all such actions as aforesaid, under the Ordinance above recited, notwithstanding any thing to the contrary contained in the said Ordinance :

And it hereby ordered, that, subject to the above amendment, the above recited Ordinance shall be, and the same is hereby, confirmed and allowed :

And the Right Honourable Lord John Russell, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

THE following is a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, for the assignment of a consolidated district to Christ Church, at Lothersdale, in the parish of Carleton, taken from parts of the respective parishes of Carleton and Kildwick, in the county of York, under the 6th section of the 59th Geo. 3, cap. 134:

At the Court at Windsor, the 10th day of November 1841, present, the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits, which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided; and it is by the 21st section of the said Act further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the Bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary, for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels, to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:" and whereas by an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" reciting that a considerable population is frequently collected together at the extremities of, and locally situate in, parishes or extra-parochial places contiguous to each other, at a distance from the respective churches or chapels of such respective parishes or extra-parochial places, it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with such consent as is required by the said recited Act, in the case of district parishes, to unite and consolidate any such contiguous parts of such parishes, and extra-parochial places, into a separate and distinct district for all ecclesiastical purposes, and to cause such district to be named, ascertained, and marked out by described bounds; and such name, and the description of such bounds, when approved by His Majesty in Council, to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese to which such district shall belong under the provisions of this Act, and to make grants or loans for or towards the building of, or to build any chapel or chapels with or without cemeteries in, and for the use of the inhabitants of such district, in such manner, and under such regulations, as may in the judgment of the Commissioners appear, from the circumstances, to be most expedient; and to constitute any such district a consolidated chapelry; and every such chapelry shall be under the superintendence of such spiritual person as shall be appointed under the provisions of this Act, to serve any such chapel; and such spiritual person shall have cure of souls in such district, and the right of presentation and appointment of such spiritual person shall thenceforth belong to such person or persons, and be exercised in such manner as may be agreed by the several patrons of the churches or chapels of such parishes and extra-parochial places respectively, with the approbation of the Commissioners; and banns of marriage may be published, and marriages, christenings, churchings, and burials may be solemnized and performed in any such chapel immediately, and at all times after the consecration thereof; and the pew rents in such chapel shall be fixed, and salaries to the minister and clerk assigned therefrom, in such manner as is directed in the said recited Act, or in this Act, concerning pew rents and salaries in separate or district parishes, and all fees and offerings which may arise and accrue within such chapelry, according to such table of fees as the said Commissioners shall make, with the approbation of the Bishop, may be demanded, received, sued for, prosecuted, and recovered by the spiritual person having cure of souls therein, and by the clerk and sexton of such chapelries in like manner as if every such chapelry was a distinct parish; and it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, and they are hereby required in every such case, to ascertain and make compensation in manner directed in like cases under the said recited Act, for any loss which may be sustained by the incumbent of any contiguous parish or extra-parochial place, which shall form part of any such district, by reason of any fees, oblations, and offerings being transferred to the spiritual person serving any such chapel, and all such chapelries shall be deemed to be benefices, and be subject to the jurisdiction of the Bishop and Archdeacon within whose diocese and archdeaconry the altar of such chapel shall be locally situate, and to all the laws in force concerning presentation and appointment to benefices and churches, and lapse, and all other laws relating to the holding of benefices and churches; and it is, in and by the said Act, further enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said hereinbefore recited Act, or the said Act now in recital, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial already existing, or to any chapel built, or which might thereafter be built, or acquired under the powers of the said former Act, or the said Act now in recital; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the Curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such Curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the Bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to Stipendiary Curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such Curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such Curate; and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapel shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the Curate, by any grant or bounty under the provisions of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding; and whereas by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the 1st and 2d year of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the 2d and 3d year of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council, in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and continued by an Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the 1st year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's commission for building new churches;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, when the last census was taken, the parish of Carleton, in the county of York and diocese of Ripon, contained a population of 1265 persons, and that the adjoining parish of Kildwick, in the same county and diocese, contained a population of 9926 persons:

"That the parish church of Carleton affords accommodation to 310 persons, and the parish church of Kildwick to 999 persons:

"That there is a chapel at Selsden, in the said parish of Kildwick, which affords accommodation to 432 persons; and there is a chapel, recently erected, at Lothersdale, in the said parish of Carleton, near the extremity of the said parish, where it adjoins to the said parish of Kildwick, which affords accommodation to 320 persons, including 220 free seats appropriated to the use of the poor:

"That the said chapel at Lothersdale is distant about three miles from the parish church of Carleton, and about three miles from the parish church of Kildwick, and about four miles from the said chapel at Selsden, which are the places nearest to the said chapel at Lothersdale, appropriated to the celebration of divine service according to the rites of the Church of England:

"That the extremities of the said parishes of Carleton and Kildwick, which lie contiguous to each other at Lothersdale, and are delineated in the accompanying plan, contain a population of 930 persons:

"Your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave further to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances above mentioned, it appears to them to be expedient to unite and consolidate the said contiguous parts of the said parishes of Carleton and Kildwick into a separate and distinct district to be assigned to the said chapel at Lothersdale, for all ecclesiastical purposes, and to constitute such district a consolidated chapel, under the 1th section of an Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," for the purpose of affording accommodation for attending divine service to the persons residing in the said district, and for enabling the spiritual person serving such chapel to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the said district, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the moral habits of the persons residing therein; that such district should be named "The Consolidated District of Christ Church, Lothersdale," and that the boundaries thereof should be as follows:

"The boundary to commence at Gill-foot, and then proceed in a north westerly direction along a certain brook, called Peat Gill-brook, to an occupation road, where the parish of Kildwick joins the parish of Carleton; thence following the same to the highway leading from Gisburn to Keighley, turning at the road's end to the left till it comes opposite an ancient stone cross; from thence by a straight line on the Mow to Calf-edge corner; thence in a north westerly direction to Pinnow-pike, and thence by the boundary line, between the township of Lothersdale and the parish of Broughton, to the boundary (a turnpike road from Colne to Shipton) between the township of Lothersdale and the parish of Thornton, along which it proceeds by the north west side, in a south westerly direction, to the boundary between the parishes of Carleton and Kildwick, and the parish of Colne, following the same to the Old-road, from Colne to Keighley; then along the centre of that road as far as Cowling-hill; then north, along the centre of Northwood-lane, to Ley's-brook; then south east along the brook as far as Ley's-bottom; then along the footpath to the east of Birk's-house; then due north, by an imaginary straight line, to the east of a cottage house on the road-side leading from Gisburn to Keighley; it then takes the road a little towards Gisburn to a fence that intersects the boundary line between the townships of Gisburn and Cononby, at the angle of an occupation road, which it follows till it passes the further of two farm houses; thence in an imaginary straight line to Gill-foot, where the boundary commenced, as is more particularly delineated in the plan annexed, that part of the district taken from the parish of Carleton, being coloured green, and that from the parish of Kildwick, coloured pink:

"That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Ripon has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third; and in testimony of such his approbation, the said Lord Bishop hath signed and sealed this present instrument:

"Your Majesty's Commissioners beg leave, therefore, to lay before your Majesty the above-stated circumstances, and humbly to pray that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto, as to your Majesty's royal wisdom shall seem meet."

No. 19935.

C

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the plan thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed consolidation and assignment be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.
