Church Commissioners' Office,
November 5, 1842.

THE following is a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, assigning a chapelry district to St. Peter's Chapel, in the parish of Holy Trinity, in the city of Coventry, under the 16th section of the 59th Geo. 3., cap. 134 :

At the Court at Windsor, the 27th of August 1842, present, the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be, within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and it is by the 21st section of the said Act further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:"

And whereas by an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted "that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said recited Act, or this Act, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built, or which may hereafter be built or acquired under the powers of the said Act, or this Act; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to stipendary curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such curate; and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapelry shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the curate, by any grant or bounty under the provision of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding:”

And whereas by another Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled “An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;” and by another Act, made and passed in the first and second years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled “An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled ‘An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;’” and also by another Act, made and passed in the second and third years of His said late Majesty, intituled “An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled ‘An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;’” further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council, bearing date the twenty-fourth day of August one thousand eight hundred and forty-two, in the words following, viz.

“Your Majesty’s Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled “An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;” continued by an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled “An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;” and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty’s reign, intituled “An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty’s Commission for building new churches;” beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, when the last census was taken, the parish of Holy Trinity, in the city of Coventry and diocese of Worcester, contained a population of twelve thousand two hundred and eight persons:

That, besides the parish church, which will accommodate one thousand four hundred and forty-eight persons, there is one chapel in the said parish, recently erected, partly by a grant in aid from your Majesty’s said Commissioners, called St. Peter’s Chapel, which affords accommodation to one thousand two hundred and fifty-four persons, including six hundred and ninety-five free seats appropriated to the use of the poor:

“That such chapel has been consecrated, and divine service is regularly performed therein:

“Your Majesty’s said Commissioners beg leave further to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient, that a particular district should be assigned to the said chapel, under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled “An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;” and that such district should be named, “The Chapelry District of St. Peter, Coventry,” with boundaries as follow:

“The district is to consist of the township of Harnall, and is bounded on the north by the parish of Foleshill and a detached part of the parish of St. Michael, Coventry; on the east by the parish of Stoke; on the south and south west by the parish of St. Michael, Coventry; and on the west by Swanswell-brook, which separates it from the other part of the parish of Holy Trinity, Coventry, as shewn on the map hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured green:

“That marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized and performed in the said chapel; and that the fees arising therefrom should be received by and belong to the Minister of the said chapel:

“That the consent of the Lord Bishop of Worcester has been obtained thereto, as required

By the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His said late Majesty King George the Third; in testimony whereof the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument:

"Your Majesty's Commissioners, therefore, beg leave to lay before your Majesty the before-mentioned circumstances, and humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet."

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

*Church Commissioners' Office,
November 10, 1842.*

THE following is a copy of an Order of Her Majesty in Council, assigning a district chapelry to St. Barnabas Chapel, in the parish of Kensington, in the county of Middlesex, under the 16th section of the 59th Geo. 3., cap. 134:

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 27th of August 1842, present, the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto under his hand and seal; and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, molasses, or other endowments which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain and be, within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and it is by the 21st section of the said Act further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:"

And whereas by an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said recited Act, or this Act, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built, or which may hereafter be built or acquired under the powers of the said Act, or this Act; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to stipendiary curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such curates; provided always, that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, with the consent of the bishop of the diocese, to determine whether any and what part or proportion of the fees or dues for marriages, baptisms, churchings, and burials shall be assigned to any such curate; and whether banns of marriage shall be published, and marriages or baptisms, churchings or burials, shall be solemnized or performed in any such chapel or not; and in any case in which marriages shall be allowed in any such chapel, the Commissioners shall cause the boundaries of the district assigned to such chapel to be enrolled in the High Court of Chancery, and in the office of the Registry of the diocese, any thing in the said recited Act to the contrary notwithstanding; and no such chapelry shall become a benefice by reason of any augmentation of the maintenance of the curate, by any grant or bounty under the provision of any Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws for augmenting small livings, any thing in such Act or Acts of Parliament, or law or laws, to the contrary notwithstanding:

And whereas by another Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, made and passed in the first and second years of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled 'An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" and also by another Act, made and passed in the second and third years of His said late Majesty, intituled "An Act to render more effectual an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled 'An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;'" further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect:

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to Her Majesty in Council, bearing date the eighteenth day of August one thousand eight hundred and forty-two, in the words following, viz.

"Your Majesty's Commissioners for building new churches, appointed by virtue of an Act, passed in the fifty-eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" continued by an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and further continued by an Act, passed in the first year of your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prolong, for ten years, Her Majesty's Commission for building new churches;" beg leave humbly to represent to your Majesty, that, when the last census was taken, the parish of Kensington, in the county of Middlesex and diocese of London (exclusive of the district parish of Brompton), contained a population of twenty-six thousand eight hundred and twenty-six persons:

"That besides the parish church, which affords accommodation to one thousand five hundred persons, there is one chapel, built by your Majesty's said Commissioners, called St. Barnabas, in the said parish, which will accommodate one thousand five hundred and sixteen persons, including five hundred and twenty-two free seats appropriated to the use of the poor; and that divine service is regularly performed therein:

"Your Majesty's said Commissioners beg leave further to represent to your Majesty, that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient, that a particular district, consisting of the south westernmost part of the parish of Kensington, should be assigned to the said chapel, under the provisions of the sixteenth section of an Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such district should be named, "The Chapelry District of St. Barnabas, Kensington," with boundaries as follow:

"The boundary commences in the centre of Newland-street, proceeds along the centre of that street, in a southerly direction, and then in an imaginary straight line to the north east corner of Earl's-court-terrace; thence it proceeds, in an imaginary straight line, at the back of the garden of Earl's-court-house, to the boundary line of the district parish of Brompton; thence it proceeds, in a south westerly direction, along the boundary line of that district parish and the parish of Kensington, as far as the parish of Fulham; thence it proceeds, in a northerly direction, along the boundary line (the creek or common sewer) of the respective parishes of Fulham, Hammersmith, and Kensington, as far as the High Uxbridge-road; thence it proceeds, in an easterly direction, along the centre of that road, passing Addison-road, as far as the eastern extremity of the garden of Colonel Fox; thence it proceeds, in a south easterly direction, at the back of the garden walls of the houses situated on the eastern side of Addison-road, as far as the north east corner of the chapel of St. Barnabas; thence it proceeds, in an easterly direction, by an imaginary line, in the front of, but not including, Holland-house, to the point of intersection of the two public footpaths, one of which skirts, in a northerly direction, the grounds of Holland-house, and the other leads, in an easterly direction, towards Horton-street; thence it proceeds (that is, from the point of intersection of the two public footpaths), in a southerly direction, along the boundary of Holland-park, to the centre of the high road from London to Hammersmith; thence it proceeds, in an easterly direction, along the centre of the said road to the centre of Newland-street, where the boundary commenced, as is more particularly delineated on the map hereunto annexed, and thereon coloured green :

“ That baptisms, churchings, and burials should be solemnized and performed in the said chapel; and that the fees arising from baptisms and churchings should belong to the Minister of the said chapel; and the fees arising from burials should be equally divided between the incumbent of the said parish and the Minister of the said chapel :

“ That the consent of the Lord Bishop of London has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty King George the Third; in testimony whereof the said Lord Bishop has signed and sealed this present instrument :

“ Your Majesty’s Commissioners, therefore, beg leave to lay before your Majesty the before-mentioned circumstances, and humbly pray, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into your royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to your Majesty in your royal wisdom shall seem meet.”

Her Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed assignment be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

C. C. Greville.

NOTICE is hereby given, that a separate building, named Baptist Meeting, situated at Ringstead, in the parish of Ringstead, in the county of Northampton, in the district of the Thrapston union, being a building certified according to law as a place of religious worship, was, on the 19th day of October 1842, duly registered for solemnizing marriages therein, pursuant to the Act of the 6th and 7th William 4, cap. 85.

Witness my hand this 11th day of November 1842,

Jno. Archbould, Superintendent Registrar.

NOTICE is hereby given, that a separate building, named Bethesda Chapel, situated in New-street, in the town and parish of Mold, in the county of Flint, in the district of Holywell, being a building certified according to law as a place of religious worship, was, on the 4th day of November 1842, duly registered for solemnizing marriages therein, pursuant to the Act of the 6th and 7th William 4, cap. 85.

Witness my hand this 7th day of November 1842,

J. Oldfield, Superintendent Registrar.
Pendre, Holywell.

The Liverpool New Gas and Coke Company.

NOTICE is hereby given, that application is intended to be made to Parliament in the ensuing session, for leave to bring in a Bill to alter, amend, and enlarge the powers and provisions of an Act, passed in the fourth year of the reign of King George the Fourth, intituled “ An Act for lighting with oil gas the town of Liverpool, and certain places adjacent thereto;” and of another Act, passed in the session of Parliament held in the fourth and fifth years of the reign of King William the Fourth, intituled “ An Act to empower the Liverpool oil gas-light company to produce gas from coal and other materials, and to amend the Act relating to the said company.”

And it is intended by the said Bill to empower the Liverpool New Gas and Coke Company, incorporated by the said two several recited Acts, to light with gas the several townships and places of Walton-on-the-Hill and Bootle-cum-Linacre, respectively, in the parish of Walton-on-the-Hill, in the county palatine of Lancaster; and the several townships or places of Litherland and Great Crosby, in the parish of Sephton, in the said county; and the several townships and places of Childwall, Much Woolton, Little Woolton, Wavertree, Allerton, and Garston, in the parish of Childwall, in the said county, or some of them, and to make and levy rates, rents, or charges for the furnishing of such light. And generally to exercise such powers, rights, and privileges within the said townships and places as the said company is or may be empowered to exercise within the town and parish of Liverpool, in the said county, and the several townships or places of Toxteth-park, Everton, Kirkdale, and West Derby, in the said parish of Walton-on-the-Hill.

And further it is intended to insert in the said Bill provisions enabling the said company to raise a further sum of money, and to increase their present capital by the creation of new shares, or by such other means as may be deemed expedient.— Dated this 26th day of October 1842.

John Buck Lloyd, Solicitor to the said Company.

NOTICE is hereby given, that application is intended to be made to Parliament in the next session, for an Act to alter, amend, and enlarge, or to repeal some of the powers and provisions of an Act of Parliament, passed in the seventh year of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled “ An Act for making and maintaining a railway from the town of Lancaster to the town of Preston, in the county palatine of Lancaster;" and of another Act, passed in the third year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to enable the Lancaster and Preston Junction Railway Company to raise a further sum of money, and to amend the Act relating to such railway." And to enable the said Company to lease their railway, works and other property to any Company or person, and to enable such Company or person to accept such lease, and also to specify and limit the amount of rates to be charged for the carriage of passengers upon the said railway; and otherwise to amend the said Acts.—Dated this 28th day of October 1842.

NOTICE is hereby given, that application is intended to be made to Parliament in the ensuing session, for leave to bring in a Bill to alter, amend, and enlarge the powers and provisions of an Act, passed in the fifty-seventh year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for making and maintaining a turnpike road from the town of Cromford to the town of Belper, and for making a branch of road from and out of the said road, near the river Amber, to join the turnpike road, at Bull-bridge, all in the county of Derby;" or to repeal the said Act, and grant more effectual powers instead thereof; and in the said Bill provision is intended to be made to alter or increase the existing tolls authorised to be collected by the said Act, and to levy additional tolls upon the said roads, and to vary or extinguish certain exemptions from payment of toll contained in the said Act, and to adopt wholly or in part, the exemptions, rights, and privileges contained in the Acts now in force, relating to turnpike roads in England; and also to repeal certain restrictions as to the position of the toll gate, near the said town of Belper, and to make certain alterations in the application of the tolls and sums of money collected upon or in respect of the said roads.—Dated this twenty-seventh day of October 1842.

James Milnes, Clerk to the Trustees or Commissioners of the above turnpike roads.
