LATHOM,
Lord Chamberlain.

Her Majesty's Most Gracious Speech, delivered by the Lords Commissioners to both Houses of Parliament, on Thursday, February 9, 1888.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I CONTINUE to receive from all other Powers cordial assurances of their friendly sentiments, as well as of their earnest desire to maintain the peace of the world.

My officers, in conjunction with those of the Emperor of Russia, have completed the demarcation of the Afghan boundary in conformity with the terms of the Convention of last year. I trust that the work which has thus been brought to a conclusion may tend to remove the possibility of misunderstanding between the two Powers in regard to their Asiatic possessions.

Animated by a desire to prevent the effusion of blood, I despatched a Mission to the King of Abyssinia, with the hope of dissuading him from engaging in a war with Italy. I deeply regret that my efforts have not been successful.

The deliberations of the Conference assembled at Washington to adjust questions which have arisen between the Dominion of Canada and the United States are still in progress.

The negotiations which were commenced in 1885, with respect to the regulation of the Suez Canal, have been brought to a conclusion so far as points of difference between myself and the French Republic are concerned.

I have also entered into an agreement with the French Republic for the protection of life and property in the group of the New Hebrides by a Joint Naval Commission.

A Conference of Delegates from the Powers interested in the sugar industry was summoned in London in the autumn to consider the possibility of putting an end to the injurious system of bounties; and they have made considerable progress towards the conclusion of a satisfactory arrangement.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

The Estimates for the Services of this year, which will be laid before you, have been framed with due regard to economy. You will be asked to make provision for the improvements in the defence of the ports and coaling stations of my Empire which have been rendered urgently necessary by the advance of military science. You will also be asked to sanction an arrangement for providing a special squadron for the protection of Australasian commerce, the cost of which will be partially borne by the Colonies themselves.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

The measures which, at the cost of great labour, you passed during the last session for the benefit of Ireland have been carefully carried into effect during the period which has since elapsed.

The result of this legislation, so far as it has been tested by a short experience, has been satisfactory. Agrarian crime has diminished; and the power of coercive conspiracies has sensibly abated. Measures tending to develop the resources of Ireland, and to facilitate an increase in the number of the proprietors of the soil, will be laid before you.

Your attention will be invited to the subject of Local Government in England, and measures will be submitted to you for dealing with it, in combination with proposals for adjusting the relations between Local and Imperial finance, and for mitigating the burdens at present imposed upon the ratepayers.

The prospects of commerce are more hopeful than any to which I have been able to point for many years past. I deeply regret that no corresponding improvement is observable in the condition of agriculture. I commend the interests of that great industry to your attentive care, in the hope that means may be discovered for enabling it to meet more effectively the difficulties under which it labours.

You will be invited to consider legislative proposals for cheapening the Transfer of Land; for modifying the procedure by which Tithe Rent-charge is collected; for the promotion of Technical Education; for preventing undue preferences in the Rates charged by Railway Companies on foreign and domestic produce; for remedying abuses in the formation of Companies under limited liability; and for amending the Law as to the Liability of Employers in case of accidents.

Measures for improving the position of the Scottish Universities, and for regulating the Borough Police in Scotland, will be laid before you; and proposals will be submitted to you for diminishing the cost of Private Bill Legislation.

In these and all other efforts that you may make to promote the well-being of my people, I pray that you may be guided by the hand of Almighty God.

AT the Court at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, the 7th day of February, 1888.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

thirty-ninth, in the forty-sixth, and in the forty-ninth years of the reign of Her Majesty, the provisions of the said recited Act have been amended and extended :

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased by an Order in Council of the fifteenth day of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, to order that the County Court of Essex, holden at Rochford, should be holden at Southend as well as at Rochford :

And whereas it hath been found that it is inexpedient that the said County Court should continue to be held at Rochford as well as at Southend :

Her Majesty, having taken the premises into consideration, is thereupon pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the thirty-first day of March, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, the County Court of Essex, holden at Rochford and Southend, shall cease to be holden at Rochford, and shall be holden at Southend, under the name of the County Court of Essex, holden at Southend.

Lincoln College.

At a General Meeting of the Governing Body of the College, specially summoned for the purpose on Friday, the 27th day of January, 1888, the subjoined Amendments to the College Statutes were voted upon and passed by a majority of two-thirds of those present and voting.

A. Amendment to cap. 2 § 5.

"Subject to the conditions hereinafter stated, the Rector and Fellows may from time to time, either with or without Examination, elect to a Fellowship, tenable for a period not exceeding seven years from the date of his admission as a Probationer, any person who undertakes to perform a definite literary or scientific work to be approved by the College at the time of election.

"The conditions under which an election may be made under this clause are as follows:—

"No election shall be made unless the Candidate shall have obtained two-thirds at least of the votes given at the election.

"No person who holds a Fellowship with emoluments in any other College shall be eligible.

"There shall not be at any one time more than one Fellow holding a Fellowship under this clause.

"If at a Special Meeting held in full Term, of which at least 30 days' notice shall have been given, a resolution shall be passed that, in the judgment of the Rector and Fellows, a Fellow elected under this clause has ceased to perform the work he has undertaken, such Fellowship shall thereupon cease and determine.

"A Fellow elected under this clause shall not at any time be a Tutor or Officer of the College, nor shall he be capable of re-election.

B. Amendment to cap. 2 § 10.

"Any Fellow may make application to the Rector and Fellows for leave to retain his Fellowship after marriage. Such application shall be made before marriage, and leave shall not be granted except in accordance with the following conditions:—

"1. Such leave shall be granted only by a majority of at least two-thirds of the votes given—such votes being taken by secret ballot, at a Special Meeting held in full Term, of which at least 30 days' notice shall have been given.

"2. No such leave shall be granted unless at the time there shall be at least two unmarried Fellows, besides the applicant, holding the office of Tutor, Lecturer, or Bursar, resident in the College.

"Any Fellow to whom such leave shall be granted shall retain his Fellowship, the provisions of cap. 2 § 10 notwithstanding, for a period not exceeding seven years from the day on which such leave is granted, provided he shall remain so long in the service of the College as Lecturer: but he shall not be deemed eligible for the office of Tutor, or Sub-Rector, or Bursar. At the end of that period he shall not be incapable of retaining his Fellowship for a further period not exceeding seven years, and so on from time to time, subject to the granting of leave by the Rector and Fellows under the same conditions."

Privy Council Office, February 7, 1888.

THE following Statute, passed by the Governing Body of Exeter College, Oxford, and sealed on the thirtieth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, has been submitted for the approval of Her Majesty in Council, and notice of its having been so submitted is published in accordance with the provisions contained in the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877:—

AMENDMENTS to the Statutes of Exeter College, Oxford, passed by a majority of two-thirds of the Governing Body of the College, at a Meeting specially summoned for the purpose.

That in Statute III § 7 for the words, "Whenever the Chaplain Fellowship becomes vacant, the College shall proceed to the election of a fit and proper person to be Probationary Chaplain Fellow. Such election may be with, or without examination, as the College shall think fit" shall be substituted the words

"The election to the Chaplain Fellowship may be with or without examination as the College shall think fit. If at the time when a vacancy in the Chaplain Fellowship occurs there shall be two members of the Governing Body of the College resident in Oxford in Holy Orders of the Church of England, it shall be lawful for the College if it shall think fit to suspend the election to the Chaplain Fellowship. But if at the time when the vacancy occurs, or at any time during the suspension of the election, there shall be fewer than two members of the Governing Body of the College resident in Oxford in Holy Orders of the Church of England then the College shall proceed to the election of a fit and proper person to be Probationary Chaplain Fellow."

And that in the same Statute and Section after the words "on the ordinary day of election" shall be inserted the Clause:—

"During any temporary vacancy of the Chaplain Fellowship the College shall make due provision for the performance of the services in the College Chapel."

And that in Statute V in the part entitled "The Exhibitioners" § 1 in the clause referring to the Symes and Michell Exhibitions the words "who shall be of not less than two Terms standing in the University on the day of election" be struck out.

The College Seal was ordered to be affixed to the above Amendments at a Meeting of the Rector and Fellows being the Governing Body of the College specially summoned for the purpose on the thirtieth day of January 1888.

Privy Council Office, February 7, 1888.

THE following Statutes, passed on the 1st day of February, 1888, by the Governing Body of Magdalen College, Oxford, have been submitted for the approval of Her Majesty in Council, and notice of their having been so submitted is published in accordance with the provisions contained in the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877:—

STATUTES for Magdalen College, made by the College under the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877.

Preliminary.

These Statutes are supplementary to the existing Statutes, dated the 16th day of June, 1881, made for the College by the University of Oxford Commissioners, and hereinafter referred to as the existing Statutes.

Election of President.

1. When a vacancy occurs in the office of President, the Vice-President if in residence, or if he be not in residence then the senior Fellow in residence, shall within seven days of the vacancy becoming known to him and by notice to all Fellows given or sent as mentioned in the existing Statute as to Meetings and their powers, convene an Extraordinary General Meeting of the Fellows, to be held not less than seven nor more than fourteen days from the date of such notice, for the purpose of appointing a day and hour for a General Meeting of the Fellows for the election of a President, which day shall not be less than one calendar month nor more than two calendar months from the day for which the first-mentioned Meeting shall be convened, unless the vacancy shall take place between the 30th day of June and the 1st day of September, in which case the said Meeting for election may be on any day not earlier than the 1st nor later than the 14th day of October.

2. The Vice-President if in residence, or if he be not in residence then the senior Fellow in residence, shall within one week next after the day for which the said first-mentioned Meeting shall be convened and by notice to all Fellows given or sent as mentioned in the said existing Statute as to Meetings and their powers and also by notice affixed to the doors of the College Chapel, convene a General Meeting of the Fellows accordingly for the election of a President to be held on the day and at the hour so appointed.

3. On the day and at the hour appointed a General Meeting of the Fellows for the election of a President shall be held accordingly in the College Chapel, unless some other place shall have been appointed for that purpose by the resolution fixing the day for the Meeting, in which case the Meeting shall be held at the place so appointed. The Vice-President if present at the commencement of the Meeting, or if not then the senior Fellow present at the commencement thereof, shall preside thereat, and the two seniors of the Fellows present, other than the Vice-President or the Fellow presiding, shall act as scrutators and receive the votes, and on any voting the Fellows present and voting other than the scrutators shall give their votes in writing to the scrutators, who shall record in writing their own votes last. Each written vote shall bear the voter's name, and on the conclusion of any voting the scrutators shall report the result thereof to the Vice-President or other Fellow as the case may be presiding at the Meeting, and the person, if any, who on any voting shall have an absolute majority of the votes given at that voting shall be declared elected.

4. If on the first voting no person has an absolute majority, then the names of the persons voted for and the number of votes given for each person shall be declared; and there shall be a second voting, and persons may be voted for thereat who may not have been voted for at the first voting.

5. If on the second voting no person has an absolute majority, then the names of all the persons voted for and the number of votes given for each person at each voting shall be declared, and there shall be a third voting, but no person shall be voted for at the third or any subsequent voting who shall not have been voted for at the first or second voting, and if any such vote shall be given it shall not be counted.

6. If on the third or any subsequent voting no person has an absolute majority of votes, then the person, if any, who has the least number of votes shall be withdrawn from the election, or if two or more persons have the same least number of votes, or if all the persons voted for have the same number of votes, then, and in either of such cases, the person for whom the junior of all the Fellows voting for such persons shall have voted shall be withdrawn, and there shall be another voting between the persons not withdrawn, and save as mentioned in the next clause this process shall be repeated until an absolute majority is obtained.

7. If on the third or any subsequent voting two persons only be voted for and have the same number of votes, then the person for whom the junior of all the Fellows voting for such two persons shall have voted shall be withdrawn, and the other person voted for shall be declared elected.

8. The Meeting for the election of a President shall after the declaration of the result of each voting stand adjourned for a period not greater than one hour or less than half an hour, and further may by resolution of a majority thereat be adjourned from time to time within the period, whether original or extended as hereinafter-mentioned for the election of a President.

9. The Visitor shall have power from time to time on the request in writing of any three or more Fellows, and either before or after the expiration of the period hereinbefore limited for convening the hereinbefore-mentioned Extraordinary General Meeting, or the period for convening the Meeting for the election of a President, to extend the period for convening each or either of the same Meetings, and shall also have power upon the request in writing of the Vice-President, whether he shall or shall not have presided at the said Meeting for the election, or of the other Fellow, if any, presiding at the said Meeting, or of any three or more Fellows, to decide conclusively any questions that may arise upon or with respect to any such election.

10. The clauses numbered 2 and 3 of the existing Statute as to the President are hereby repealed.

Fellows.

1. On the election of any person to an Official Fellowship, his period of probation may be dispensed with by a resolution then passed by all or a majority of two-thirds at least of the electors present and voting.

2. Any Fellow who shall before, or within one calendar month next after, the determination of his Fellowship be again elected to a Fellowship, shall retain in respect thereof the same rank and seniority in the College that he had in respect of the first-mentioned Fellowship.

3. The clause numbered 14 of the existing Statute as to Fellows, so far only as is necessary for the purposes of the last preceding clause is hereby repealed.

4. During the discussion at any College Meeting of any resolution for the election or re-election of any Fellow to any Fellowship, such Fellow shall not be present nor shall he vote on such resolution.

5. It shall be lawful for the President and Fellows at any Stated General Meeting upon twenty-eight days' notice by the President to all Fellows given or sent as mentioned in the existing Statute as to Meetings and their powers, and by a majority of not less than three-fourths of the votes of those present and voting, to elect or re-elect and admit to a Fellowship without emolument any person who is or shall have been an actual Fellow of the College, and whose services as a Fellow would in their opinion be of advantage to the College as a place of religion, learning, and education, and that without public notice and without examination and without any period of probation, and although the person elected be married, and although he be in possession of any benefice, property, pension, or office, which would in ordinary cases render the possessor ineligible, and any Fellowship under this clause shall be held for the same term and subject to the same power of deprivation, and generally in the same manner as an Ordinary Fellowship under the existing Statute as to Fellows, save that the holder thereof shall not be subject to vacate the same by reason of his becoming entitled to any benefice, property, pension, or office which would cause him to vacate the same if it were an Ordinary Fellowship under the said existing Statute. The number of Fellows elected under this clause shall not at any time exceed one-eighth of the total number of Fellows otherwise elected existing at the time of any such election, and they shall not be counted in estimating the maximum number of forty Fellows allowed by the said existing Statute, and the time of filling up any vacancies in Fellowships under this clause shall be wholly at the discretion of the President and Fellows.

6. A person elected under the last preceding clause to a Fellowship without emolument shall not, save as provided by the said existing Statute as to Fellows, be entitled to rooms in College, nor shall he be entitled to any allowance in respect of his dining at the common College Dinner.

Pensions.

In clause 1, sub-clause (c), of the existing Statute as to Pensions, the words General Meeting shall mean and be read Extraordinary General Meeting.

Demyships.

1. Every Junior Demy hereafter to be elected shall hold his Demyship for two years from a day to be fixed by the Board of Electors to such Demyship, which day shall not be after he shall have attained the age of nineteen years and six calendar months, and his Demyship shall determine at the expiration of such period of two years, unless the Tutorial Board shall by certificate in writing have declared themselves satisfied with the industry and good conduct of the Demy, in which case the tenure of his Demyship shall be renewed for a further term of two years. At the end of the latter term the Tutorial Board may extend the tenure of any such Demyship for one year longer, if for special reasons they deem it advisable so to do. Provided always that nothing in this clause shall prevent the exercise at any time for any sufficient cause of the power of deprivation conferred by clause 12 of the existing Statute as to Demyships, or of any power of inflicting fines or penalties less than deprivation under any Bylaw of the College for the time being in force.

2. The clause numbered 5 of the said existing Statute as to Demyships is hereby repealed as regards Junior Demies hereafter to be elected.

Visitor.

The Visitor shall have power at any time at his discretion, on the application or request in writing of the President and any three Fellows, absolutely to make valid and confirm anything done that might be done under the Statutes for the time being of the College, but which by reason of any irregularity or omission, or other matter whatever preliminary thereto or connected therewith, may be invalid or of doubtful validity, if in the judgment of the Visitor such irregularity or omission or other matter is not one of substantial importance with reference to the thing proposed to be made valid or confirmed.

 - (6.) A Parcel shall not be given up or returned by post to the sender except upon payment by him of any charge for redirection or other charge to which the Parcel has become liable under the provisions of this Warrant, or of any such Regulations as are referred to in section 14 of "The Post Office (Parcels) Act, 1882."
 - (7.) Where the sender requests a Parcel to be returned to him by post, such Parcel shall not be returned to the sender except upon payment by him of a new and distinct rate of postage, according to the rates fixed by this Warrant, and all other charges to which the Parcel has become liable.
 - (8.) The Postmaster-General may require proof to his satisfaction that an applicant for a Parcel is entitled to receive the same.
 - (9.) Where no application is made for a Parcel within the period specified in any such notice as aforesaid, or an applicant fails to prove to the satisfaction of the Postmaster-General that he is entitled to receive the Parcel, or refuses or fails to pay the charges to which the Parcel has become liable under this Warrant, the Parcel may be dealt with or disposed of in such manner as the Postmaster-General may direct or authorize.
