GENERAL ORDER of the Local Government Board: Rescinding Order as to Place of Meeting of Guardians:—

Ashbourne Union.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the Ashbourne Union;—

And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by an Order dated the 18th day of January, 1845, the Poor Law Commissioners made certain Rules and Regulations to be observed by the Guardians of the Poor of the Ashbourne Union in the administration of the laws for the relief of the Poor, and, amongst other things, directed that the first meeting of the Guardians should be held at the Green Man and Black's Head Royal Hotel, in the Parish of Ashbourne, and that it should be competent to the said Guardians, when they should think fit, to change the place for the holding of such meetings, with the consent of the Poor Law Commissioners first had and obtained;

And whereas by Article 28 of a General Order dated the 24th day of July, 1847, addressed, to the said Guardians, amongst others, it was directed that the Guardians should, upon the day of the week, and at the time of day, and at the place already appointed for holding the ordinary meetings, hold an ordinary meeting once at the least in every week or fortnight for the execution of their duties;

And whereas it is expedient that the first above-cited Order should be rescinded so far as it relates to the place of meeting of the said Guardians, and that Article 28 of the said General Order dated the 24th day of July, 1847, should be altered so far as is hereinafter mentioned:

Now therefore, We, the Local Government Board, in pursuance of the powers given to Us by the Statutes in that behalf, hereby Order as follows:—

The said Order dated the eighteenth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, is hereby rescinded so far as it directs that the place of meeting of the said Guardians shall be the Green Man and Black's Head Royal Hotel.

ORDER of the Local Government Board: Altering Name of Union:—

Hungerford (Hungerford and Ramsbury) Union.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the Hungerford Union;—

To the Overseers of the Poor of the several Parishes comprised in the said Union;—

WHEREAS by Section 13 of "The Divided Parishes and Poor Law Amendment Act, 1876," it is enacted as follows:—

"The Local Government Board may, when they see fit, by their Order change the name of any Union, and direct how such change of name shall be published; no such change of name shall affect any rights or obligations of, or securities given by or to the said Union, or render defective any legal proceedings instituted by or against the said Union; and any legal proceedings may be continued or commenced by or against the said Union by their new name which might have been continued or commenced by or against the Union by their former name."

And whereas by an Order dated the 15th day of April, 1835, the Poor Law Commissioners declared that the several Parishes and Places specified in the margin thereof should be united for the administration of the laws for the relief of the Poor, and the Union so constituted has since been known by the name of the Hungerford Union;

12. In every case where for the purpose of providing privy accommodation for a house in pursuance of the requirements of any Bye-law in that behalf, the construction of a new water-closet is necessary and where such construction so far as regards the several details hereinafter specified is not already the subject of regulation by any Statute or Bye-law in force within the district, the keeper shall construct such water closet in accordance with the following rules:—

(1.) If the water-closet is intended to be within the house he shall construct such water-closet in such a position that one of its sides at the least shall be an external wall.

(2.) He shall construct in one of the walls of the water-closet, whether the situation of such water-closet is or is not within the house, a window of not less dimensions than two feet by one foot, exclusive of the frame and opening directly into the external air. He shall in addition to such window, cause the water-closet to be provided with adequate means of constant ventilation by at least one air brick built in an external wall of such water-closet, or by an air shaft, or by some other effectual method or appliance.

(3.) He shall furnish the water-closet with a separate cistern, or flushing-box of adequate capacity, which shall be so constructed, fitted, or placed as to admit of the supply of water for use in such water-closet without any direct connection between any service pipe upon the premises, and any part of the apparatus of such water-closet other than such cistern or flushing-box.

He shall furnish the water-closet with a suitable apparatus for the effectual application of water to any pan, basin, or other receptacle with which such apparatus may be connected and used, and for the effectual flushing and cleansing of such pan, basin, or other receptacle, and for the prompt and effectual removal therefrom of any solid or liquid filth which may from time to time be deposited therein. He shall furnish the water-closet with a pan, basin, or other suitable receptacle, of non-absorbent material, and of such shape, of such capacity, and of such mode of construction as to receive and contain a sufficient quantity of water, and to allow all filth which may from time to time be deposited in such pan, basin, or receptacle, to fall free of the sides thereof and directly into the water received and contained in such pan, basin, or receptacle. He shall not construct or fix under such pan, basin, or receptacle, any container or other similar fitting.

He shall not construct or fix in or in connection with the water-closet apparatus, any trap of the kind known as the "D" trap.

20. Every keeper shall cause every part of the structure of every water-closet, belonging to his house to be maintained at all times in good order, and every part of the apparatus of such water-closet, and every drain or means of drainage with which such water-closet may communicate, to be maintained at all times in good order, and efficient action.

21. Every keeper shall cause every yard, area, forecourt, or other open space within the curtilage of his house to be maintained at all times in good order, and to be thoroughly cleansed, from time to time, as often as may be reasonably necessary for the purpose of keeping such yard, area, forecourt, or other open space in a clean and wholesome condition.

22. Every keeper shall cause all such means of ventilation as may be provided in or in connection with any room or passage in his house, and in or in connection with any water-closet, earth-closet, or privy belonging to such house to be maintained at all times in good order.

23. Every keeper shall cause the windows of every room in his house, which may be appointed for use and occupation as a sleeping apartment, to be kept fully open for one hour at least in the forenoon, and for one hour at least in the afternoon of every day provided that such keeper shall not be required in pursuance of this bye-law to cause any such window to be opened or to be kept open at any time when the state of the weather is such as to render it necessary that the window should be closed, or when any bed in such room may be occupied by any lodger in consequence of sickness or of other sufficient cause.

24. Every keeper shall in the first week in the months of April and October in every year cause every part of his house to be cleansed.

He shall at the same time, except in such cases as are hereinafter specified, cause every area, the interior surface of every ceiling and wall of every water-closet, earth-closet, or privy belonging to the premises, and the interior surface of every ceiling and wall of every room, staircase, and passage in the house, to be thoroughly cleansed with hot lime-wash.

Provided that the foregoing requirements with respect to the lime-washing of the internal surface of the walls of rooms, staircases, and passages, shall not apply in any case where the internal surface of any such wall is painted, or where the material of or with which such surface is constructed or covered is such as to render the lime-washing thereof unsuitable or inexpedient, and where such surface is thoroughly cleansed and the paint or other covering is renewed, if the renewal thereof be necessary, for the purpose of keeping the house in a cleanly and wholesome condition.

25. Immediately after any keeper shall have been informed or shall have ascertained that any person in his house is ill of an infectious disease he shall give written notice thereof to the Medical Officer of Health.

26. In every case where, in pursuance of the statutory provision in that behalf, an order of a Justice has been obtained for the removal from a house to a hospital or other place for the reception of the sick, of a person who is suffering from any dangerous infectious disorder, and is without proper lodging or accommodation, the keeper of such house shall, on being informed of such order, forthwith take all such steps as may be requisite to secure the safe and prompt removal of such person, in compliance with such order, and shall in and about such removal adopt all such precautions, as in accordance with any instructions which such keeper may receive from the Medical Officer of Health, may be most suitable for the circumstances of the case.

27. Every keeper shall cause every room in his house, which may be appointed for use and occupation as a sleeping apartment, to be furnished with such number of beds and bedsteads, and with such a supply of bed-clothes and necessary utensils as may be sufficient for the requirements of the number of lodgers received in such room.

28. Every keeper shall cause all bed-clothes and bedding, and every bedstead used in his house, to be thoroughly cleansed, from time to time, as often as shall be requisite, for the purpose of keeping such bed-clothes, bedding and bedstead in a clean and wholesome condition.

29. Every keeper shall cause the bed-clothes of every bed in his house to be removed from such bed as soon as conveniently may be after such bed shall have been vacated by any lodger, and shall cause all such bed-clothes, and the bed from which such bed-clothes may have been removed, to be freely exposed to the air for one hour at least in the forenoon or for one hour at least in the afternoon of every day.

30. Every keeper shall, for the use of the lodgers received into his house, cause to be provided a sufficient number of basins or other receptacles for water, of adequate capacity and suitably placed, and a sufficient supply of water, and a sufficient number of towels for use in connection with such basins or other receptacles. He shall cause such basins or receptacles to be kept clean and in good order, and the supply of towels to be renewed from time to time, as often as may be requisite.

31. No keeper shall at any time cause or suffer any room which may be appointed for use as a kitchen or scullery to be used or occupied as a sleeping apartment.

32. Every keeper shall put up or affix and keep up or affixed a copy of these Bye-laws in a suitable and conspicuous position in the common sitting room of his house, and in such a manner that the contents of such copy or copies may be clearly and distinctly visible and legible, and shall enter upon the space left for the purpose at the end of that copy, a scale of the charges per day for board and lodging and necessities to be made by him, and he shall not make a higher charge than is provided by the scale on any pretence whatever.

He shall not, at any time, conceal, deface, alter, or obliterate or permit or suffer to be concealed, defaced, altered or obliterated, any part of the contents of such copy or copies, or injure or destroy such copy or copies.

33. Every keeper shall keep a register in which he shall enter the name, age and nationality of every seaman lodger received into his house, the name of the last vessel such seaman lodger was discharged from, and the port of discharge, together with the name and port of registry of any vessel he may join while resident in such house, or his declared destination on leaving.

“Seamen's Licensed Lodging-house.”
(Name of Licensed Keeper to be inserted here)

And also the full name of the licensed keeper, as shown above, in legible and durable capital printed letters not less than one inch square.
