A PROCLAMATION

For appointing a Day for the Celebration of the Solemnity of the Coronation of Their Majesties.

EDWARD, R. & I.

Whereas by Our Royal Proclamation, bearing date the 10th day of December last, We did (amongst other things) publish and declare Our Royal intention to celebrate the Solemnity of Our Royal Coronation and of the Coronation of Our dearly-beloved Consort the Queen upon Thursday, the 26th day of June, at Our Palace at Westminster; and whereas We were constrained to adjourn the said Solemnity to a day in August thereafter to be determined, We do now by this, Our Royal Proclamation, give notice that We have resolved, by the favour and blessing of Almighty God, to celebrate the said Solemnity upon Saturday, the 9th day of August next; and We do hereby strictly charge all Our loving subjects whom it may concern, that all persons of what rank or quality soever they be, who either upon Our Letters of Summons to them directed were charged to be present on the 26th day of June last, or by reason of their offices and tenures or otherwise were called to do any service at the time of Our Coronation, do duly give their attendance at the said Solemnity on Saturday, the 9th day of August, in all respects furnished and appointed as to so great a Solemnity appertaineth, and answerable to the dignities and places which every one of them respectively holdeth and enjoyeth, and of this they or any of them are not to fail, as they will answer the contrary at their perils, unless upon special reasons, by Ourselves to be allowed, We shall dispense with any of their services or attendances.

Given at Our Court of Saint James, this twenty-sixth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and two, and in the second year of Our Reign.

GOD save the KING.

By the KING.

A PROCLAMATION

For appointing Saturday, August 9th, a Bank Holiday and a Public Holiday.

EDWARD, R. & I.

We, considering that it is desirable that Saturday, the 9th day of August next, being the occasion of the Solemnity of Our Royal Coronation, should be observed as a Bank Holiday and as a Public Holiday throughout the United Kingdom, and in pursuance of the provisions of "The Bank Holidays Act, 1871," "The Bank Holidays Extension Act, 1875," "The Customs Consolidation Act, 1876," and "The Revenue Offices (Scotland) Holidays Act, 1880," Do hereby, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council, and in exercise of the powers conferred by the Acts aforesaid, appoint Saturday, the 9th day of August next, being the occasion of the said Solemnity of Our Royal Coronation, as a special day to be observed as a Bank Holiday and as a Public Holiday throughout the United Kingdom and every part thereof, under and in accordance with the said Acts, and We do, by this Our Royal Proclamation, command the said day to be so observed, and all Our loving subjects to order themselves accordingly.

Given at Our Court of Saint James, this twenty-sixth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and two, and in the second year of Our Reign.

GOD save the KING.

At the Court of Saint James, the 26th day of July, 1902.

And whereas it is expedient to amend the said Orders as regards the Summer Assizes, one thousand nine hundred and two, for the county of Glamorgan.

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Most Honourable Privy Council is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:—

1. The town of Cardiff shall, for the Summer Assizes, one thousand nine hundred and two, be the place where Assizes are holden in and for the county of Glamorgan.

2. So much of the said Order of the twenty-eighth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, as amended by the said Order of the tenth day of December, one thousand nine hundred and one, as is inconsistent with this Order, shall be repealed for the purposes of the said Summer Assizes, one thousand nine hundred and two.

3. Except where the context otherwise requires expressions used in this Order shall have the same meaning as in the said Order of the twenty-eighth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, as amended by the said Order of the tenth day of December, one thousand nine hundred and one.

4. This Order may be amended or added to or repealed by Order in Council.

War Office,

29th July, 1902.

The following Despatch has been received from Lord Kitchener, G.C.B., &c., Commanding-in-Chief, South Africa:—

From Lord Kitchener to the Secretary of State for War.

Cape Town,

SIR, 23rd June, 1902.

I have the honour to submit a final despatch which covers the period between the signature of the terms of peace at Pretoria and my departure from Cape Town. In this I have endeavoured to acknowledge some small portion of the kind assistance or loyal service rendered me by civilians and soldiers during my command in South Africa.

2. In my last despatch, dated 1st June, I had the pleasure of reporting the conclusion of peace. Directly the terms were signed I appointed the following three Peace Commissioners to receive the surrenders in the territories of the new Colonies:—

General Bruce Hamilton, for the Eastern Transvaal.

General W. Kitchener, for the Western Transvaal.

General Elliot, for the Orange River Colony.

I also directed General French to make the necessary arrangements for the same purpose in the Cape Colony.

3. The reports of General French and the three Peace Commissioners are herewith submitted, and it will, I think, be evident from their perusal that the Boer leaders concerned played their part with loyalty and in a thoroughly straightforward manner, whilst the burghers and rebels on commando also accepted the situation in a manly spirit which augurs well for the future of South Africa. So strongly did I feel this that I sent the following telegram to Generals Louis Botha, De la Rey, and Christian de Wet:—

“Now that the surrender of the arms in the hands of the burghers in the Transvaal and Orange River Colony has been completed, I desire to place on record my high appreciation of the unflagging energy and unfailing tact with which you have facilitated the work of my Commissioners. I recognize how much it is due to your exertions that the burghers have displayed everywhere such a loyal spirit in accepting the change of Government that has taken place, and I can inform you that the manner in which the burghers have come in has greatly pleased His Majesty the King, and deeply impressed the British people, who are heartily anxious to welcome them as fellow citizens. I feel confident that a new era of complete reconciliation between all races has now dawned in South Africa.”

The total numbers of the surrenders of armed burghers in the Transvaal were 11,166, in the Orange River Colony 6,455, and in the Cape Colony 3,635. Total, 21,256.

4. I well understand that the accompanying list, which is in continuation of the other lists submitted periodically by me, of Departmental, Staff, and Regimental Officers, who have in my opinion rendered exceptionally good service during the campaign, is incomplete, and that, notwithstanding all my care, there must necessarily be a proportion of officers omitted, who have rendered equal, or even better, service than those who have been mentioned. This, however, is the fortune of war, and will, I am sure, be well understood by the Army I have been so proud to command.

In the first place, I wish to convey to his Excellency the High Commissioner my cordial thanks for the past, and my best wishes for the future. In the many difficult situations in which I have had to co-operate with Lord Milner, it has been the greatest relief to me to feel that I could always rely upon his unfailing sympathy and ungrudging assistance.

I find it difficult in the short space at my disposal to acknowledge the deep obligation of the Army in South Africa to the Governments of Australia, New Zealand, Canada, Cape Colony, and Natal. I will only say here that no request of mine was ever refused by any of these Governments, and that their consideration and generosity were only equalled by the character and quality of the troops they sent to South Africa, or raised in that country.

I am greatly indebted to Admiral Moore, the Commander of His Majesty's Naval Forces in South African waters, for the kind manner in which he has always endeavoured to meet the requirements of the Army in the field.

I have already, in a farewell order, expressed to Major-General Baden-Powell my deep appreciation of the services rendered by the South African Constabulary, but I am glad to have this opportunity to again testify to the good work rendered by this fine body of men.

Sir Richard Solomon, K.C.M.G., K.C., Legal Adviser, has been much more than a legal adviser to me. His quickness and his ability, joined to his intimate knowledge of South Africa and its people, have always been fully and loyally placed at my disposal.

I beg to take this opportunity of acknowledging with gratitude the obligations under which the Army in South Africa has been placed by the ungrudging assistance given me by Mr. T. R. Price, C.M.G., and the staff of the Cape Government Railway, as well as by Sir David Hunter, K.C.M.G., and the staff of the Natal Government Railway.

Major-General (local Lieutenant-General) Sir I. S. M. Hamilton, K.C.B., D.S.O. At much personal inconvenience, Lord Roberts lent me his Military Secretary, Sir Ian Hamilton, as my Chief of Staff. His high soldierly qualities are already well known, and his reputation does not require to be established now. I am much indebted to him for his able and constant support to me as Chief of Staff, also for the marked skill and self-reliance he showed later, when directing operations in the Western Transvaal.

Brevet Colonel H. I. W. Hamilton, A.D.C., D.S.O., Military Secretary, has displayed most untiring zeal in the performance of his duties. His reliability, accuracy, and unfailing attention to business are deserving of my special recognition.

Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel W. N. Congreve, V.C., Rifle Brigade, has been my private secretary since I took over the chief command; during that period he has dealt with many troublesome matters to my complete satisfaction.

Major-General W. F. Kelly, K.C.B., has an unrivalled knowledge of regulation and precedent, whereby his advice has been of great value to me in a time when my mind was perforce occupied with important operations.

Brevet Colonel J. S. Ewart, Cameron Highlanders, is a Staff Officer of considerable ability. He has rendered good service in connection with the distribution and movements of troops.

Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel W. R. Birdwood, 11th Bengal Lancers. This young officer has held a difficult position as Assistant Adjutant-General, Mounted Troops, and responsible adviser as to the distribution of remounts. In carrying out these duties he has proved himself to possess exceptional ability, and he has shown, moreover, remarkable tact in dealing with and conciliating the various interests which he had to take into consideration.

Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel D. Henderson, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, has held the responsible post of Director of Military Intelligence during my tenure of command, and he has invariably done his best to cope with the great difficulties of his position.

Brevet Colonel H. C. Sclater, C.B., R.A., has been my C.R.A. throughout. He possesses an unusual combination of ability and common sense. I consider him to be a Staff Officer of exceptional value, to whom all ranks of the Royal Artillery in South Africa owe much.

Colonel (local Major-General) E. Wood, K.C.B., R.E., has been indefatigable in rendering me all the assistance in his power.

Brevet Major (local Lieutenant-Colonel) Sir E. P. C. Girouard, K.C.M.G., D.S.O., R.E., has been my principal adviser in all the numerous and intricate questions pertaining to railway administration in South Africa. He is an officer of brilliant ability, and I wish him all success in his new capacity as head of a great civil department.

Brevet Major H. C. Nanton, R.E., has satisfactorily carried out his work in connection with armoured trains.

Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel W. J. R. Wickham, Indian Staff Corps. As Assistant Adjutant-General, Transport, this officer has frequently had to grapple with sudden emergencies and many difficulties. In a campaign of this sort his post has been a most responsible one, and I recognize the hard work and ability he has displayed in rendering his department efficient.

Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel (local Colonel) H. G. Morgan, D.S.O., Army Service Corps, has brought much ability and administrative experience to bear on the unprecedented task of supplying, not only an Army, but also a proportion of the civil population inhabiting the extensive territories in which military operations were being conducted.

Surgeon-General Sir W. D. Wilson, K.C.M.G., has given me satisfaction as regards his supervision of his own department, as well as the advice he has given me on sanitary matters.

Colonel (local Principal Ordnance Officer) E. B. Appelbe, Army Ordnance Department, has conducted the affairs of his department with energy and forethought. His reorganization of the department in the second phase of the campaign has worked with great success.

Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel (local Colonel) W. H. Birkbeck, as Assistant Inspector of Remounts, has had the administration of a large department, which he practically had to form during the progress of hostilities. He has shown considerable ability, and is perturbed by nothing.

In carrying out his duties he has been much assisted by Colonel C. J. Long, Royal Artillery, who possesses exceptional experience in horse-management, and has done very good service by his inspections of horse depôts in South Africa.

Lieutenant-General P. S., Lord Methuen, K.C.B., K.C.V.O., C.M.G., has done more than most Officers towards maintaining throughout this campaign the high standard for personal courage, modesty, and humanity which characterize the British Army. I share his own deep regret that his wounds have prevented him from remaining in the field until the conclusion of peace.

Major-General (local Lieutenant-General) Sir J. D. P. French, K.C.B., has had a most difficult task to carry out. His willingness to accept responsibility, and his bold and sanguine disposition have relieved me from many anxieties, and, after I had appointed him to conduct the operations in Cape Colony, enabled me to devote myself, more completely than would otherwise have been possible, to the conduct of operations in the territories of the late Republics.

Lieutenant-General Sir C. Tucker, K.C.B. I am indebted to this Officer, who has never feared responsibility, or failed in giving emphatic pronouncement to the good common-sense of which he is possessed.

Lieutenant-General the Honourable N. G. Lyttelton, K.C.B., has latterly commanded in Natal, and I am sure that in his new position he will deal with the many important administrative questions which must now arise in the Transvaal and Orange River Colony to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Major-General C. E. Knox, K.C.B., has given me satisfaction; first, when in command of a group of mobile columns operating in the Orange River Colony, and latterly as General Officer Commanding, Bloemfontein, where he has carried out his responsible duties with ability and discretion.

Colonel (local Major-General) R. A. P. Clements, D.S.O., A.D.C., is possessed of fine soldierly qualities, which his misfortunes have served rather to accentuate than to obscure.

Brevet Colonel (local Major-General) T. E. Stephenson, C.B., is an excellent Officer, who has displayed good sense wherever he has been employed.

Major-General F. W. Kitchener is an exceptionally keen and energetic Officer, who has done good service, first of all in the Northern and Eastern, and latterly in the Western Transvaal.

Brevet Colonel (local Major-General) J. G. Maxwell, K.C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., has been Governor of Pretoria until comparatively recently, when he was transferred to the command of the Western District. He has an energetic mind, and a sound judgment, which, coupled with his kindly and considerate disposition, have enabled him to render valuable service.

Major-General B. M. Hamilton, K.C.B., is possessed of qualities of boldness, energy, and resolution in no common degree. His work has of late lain chiefly in the Eastern Transvaal, and he has had the good fortune repeatedly to deal serious blows to the enemy in that quarter.

Colonel (local Major-General) E. L. Elliot, K.C.B., D.S.O., has held a very important command in the east of the Orange River Colony, and has worked hard, and with some measure of success, to subdue the enemy in that quarter.

Major-General Sir H. H. Settle, K.C.B., D.S.O., has rendered valuable service in the difficult position of General Officer Commanding, Cape Colony. I have every cause to feel grateful to him for the judgment and tact which he has displayed, when dealing with the innumerable difficult questions which have arisen in connection with the administration of martial law, and other kindred matters.

Major-General M. W. Willson, C.B., did useful work whilst in charge of Krugersdorp district, and subsequently in command of the district west of Johannesburg, where he carried out the duties of supplying the mobile columns in that neighbourhood. In the construction of block-house lines he showed considerable capacity for organization.

Brevet Colonel (local Brigadier-General) H. C. O. Plumer, C.B., A.D.C., throughout the campaign has invariably displayed military qualifications of a very high order. Few officers have rendered better service.

Brevet Colonel (local Brigadier-General) J. Spens, C.B., A.D.C., has proved himself on many occasions a reliable Brigadier.

Brevet Colonel (local Brigadier-General) M. O. Little, 9th Lancers, has twice held command of British Cavalry Brigades, and has proved himself a capable leader of mounted troops in the field.

Brevet Colonel R. G. Kekewich, C.B., has throughout this long campaign maintained his high reputation as a fine soldier of character, loyalty, and discretion. He is well qualified to hold high command.

Brevet Colonel A. N. Rochfort, C.B., R.A., is fearless of responsibility, never makes difficulties, and has, I think, all the qualifications for a leader in the field.

Brevet Colonel C. W. Park, A.D.C., Devonshire Regiment, is a deserving Officer, who has done good service throughout the campaign.

Brevet Colonel H. J. Scobell, 5th Lancers, is a Cavalry leader of ability and resolution.

Brevet Colonel M. F. Rimington, C.B., 6th Dragoons, is a leader of mounted troops, who is particularly well qualified for the conduct of special and independent raids or enterprises. His knowledge of the theatre of operations, his energy, and his soldierly instincts have enabled him to render exceptional services.

Brevet Colonel J. S. S. Barker, R.A., is an excellent Column Commander, ready to take responsibility, and to disregard unnecessary details.

Brevet Colonel the Honourable J. H. G. Byng, M.V.O., 10th Hussars, has been an ideal commander of an irregular corps.

Brevet Colonel Sir H. Rawlinson, Bart., C.B., Coldstream Guards, possesses the qualities of Staff Officer and Column Commander in the field. His characteristics will always ensure him a front place in whatever he sets his mind to.

Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel (local Colonel) A. W. Thorneycroft, C.B., Royal Scots Fusiliers, is an absolutely reliable officer of great experience, common-sense, and force of character.

Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel (local Colonel) E. H. H. Allenby, C.B., 6th Dragoons, has proved himself a popular and capable Cavalry Brigadier.

Lieutenant-Colonel (local Colonel) D. Haig, C.B., 17th Lancers, is, in my opinion, one of the most thoughtful and best educated of our Cavalry Officers in his own rank. He has also shown considerable skill in handling men in the field.

Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel F. D. V. Wing, R.H.A., has a high reputation for boldness and dash. He has rendered good service.

Captain (local Lieutenant-Colonel) H. De B. De Lisle, D.S.O., Durham Light Infantry, is an Officer of remarkable force of character. He has soldierly qualities, and is a fine leader.

I would also beg to bring to notice the following names:—

Lieut. - General Sir H. M. L. Rundle, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., D.S.O.

Lieut.-General H. J. T. Hildyard, K.C.B.

APPENDICES.

From Major-General B. Hamilton to the Chief of the Staff, Pretoria.

Johannesburg,
19th June, 1902.

Sir,

I have the honour to report that, in accordance with instructions, I have received the surrender of the Boer Commandos in the Eastern Transvaal.

2. I arranged with Commandant-General Botha that he should personally visit the Heidelberg, Standerton, Ermelo, Wakkerstroom, and Vryheid Districts, and that I should accompany him, and I deputed Officers to visit the remaining districts, as stated below:—

Captain Bradford, D.A.A.G., to accompany General Muller in the district north of the Delagoa Bay Railway.

Major Pratt, Durham Light Infantry, to accompany General Grobler to Carolina.

Captain Neish, Gordon Highlanders, to accompany General Beyers to Pietersburg and Nylstroom.

I attach the reports of these Officers.

3. Commandant-General Botha joined me at Elandsfontein on the 5th instant, and we proceeded to Kraal Station near Heidelberg. General Botha then went out to meet the Commandos at a farm 3 miles away, which he had appointed as a rendezvous, and in the meantime arrangements were made for the reception of the burghers on their arrival at Kraal; a hot meal was provided and rations were ready for issue to those who required them.

General Botha brought the men in about 1 p.m., and I addressed them, welcoming them as Subjects of King Edward, and telling them that the fact of their surrendering their arms would be taken as an acknowledgment of King Edward VII. as their lawful Sovereign. Nominal rolls of all burghers were then made out, and, with the exception of the officers who were granted permits to retain their rifles, they filed past Officers appointed for the purpose and laid down their arms.

4. I went on to Standerton that night, and the following day proceeded to Leeuwspruit (10 miles east), where I received further surrenders. The procedure on this and subsequent occasions was the same as that pursued at Kraal Station. In each case General Botha first addressed the men. I followed him, and the lists were made out, permits given, and arms laid down.

I visited in succession the following places:—

Winkelhaak (12 miles north of Ermelo) ..	7th June.
Ermelo	9th June.
Wakkerstroom	12th June.
Knight's Farm (near Utrecht)	13th June.
Vryheid	16th June.

5. The total number of burghers who surrendered to me or to Officers deputed by me was 6,210. I believe this number to represent practically the whole of the Boers remaining in the Transvaal east of the line Pietersburg—Pretoria—Vereeniging.

The manner of the men on their surrender was all that could be desired. If they did not display enthusiasm, they certainly appeared quite ready to lay down their arms, and to accept the terms which had been arranged by their leaders. The feeling appeared to be that they had made a good fight, and that now was the time when the war should be ended, and their general desire was to get back to their farms as quickly as possible, and to begin the work of rebuilding and restocking them. There is no doubt that the quiet and unostentatious way in which the surrenders were conducted, and the general arrangements for their comfort gave universal satisfaction, and I am quite sure that there is no feeling of hostility on the part of the Boers against the British Army, with whom they have, for so long a time, been fighting.

6. I am strongly of opinion that it is most desirable that, for the present at all events, the services of some of the Boer Field-Cornets should be utilized in their districts. The Boers have always been accustomed to look to these officials as the representatives of the Government, and to go to them for advice on innumerable petty personal matters. It is a position much so sought after by the farmers, and the occupants of it have always been the best men. By retaining them in their post much friction and possible difficulty would be guarded against. There are many questions between the Government and the Boers which will now have to be settled, and the decisions of Government should be communicated to them by those who know how to deal with them, otherwise difficulty will very probably arise. I am quite satisfied that the Boers will be easy to manage by people whom they know and understand, and the new magistrates, however capable, may not have had much experience in dealing with this particular class. In this opinion I am supported by Commandant-General Botha and the principal Boer leaders, with whom I have come in contact: no doubt the Field-Cornet system is expensive, but these men would be quite willing to give their services gratuitously for a few months until things settle down, and General Botha has assured me that he could arrange this. It would, moreover, help to bind these men to the new Government if they were given a voice in the management of local affairs.

7. It is also most necessary for the protection of the now disarmed farmers that police should be sent as soon as possible to those districts, such as Swaziland and Vryheid, where the natives exist in large numbers, and where they are not well disposed towards the Boers. In the Vryheid District especially, where the natives and Boers have lately been in open conflict, feeling runs high, and I have told both the Boers and the natives that General Cheere Emmet, lately the Boer General of this district, will assist the magistrate and the troops in carrying out the British administration.

8. I should like to bring to your notice the great assistance rendered to me by General Louis Botha, who, by his tact and good management, has smoothed all difficulties, and also by Lieut.-Colonel F. C. Shaw, A.A.G., Captain E. R. Bradford, D.A.A.G., Major Pratt, Durham Light Infantry, and Captain Neish, Gordon Highlanders.

I have, &c.,

JOHANNESBURG,

17th June, 1902.

REPORT ON SURRENDER OF ARMS, WESTERN TRANSVAAL.

From Major-General Walter Kitcheners, to the Chief of Staff, Army Head-Quarters.

Sir,

Klerksdorp,
14th June, 1902.

The surrender of arms having been completed yesterday in a most loyal spirit throughout the district, I have the honour to submit the following report of the procedure followed; also to attach Reports from Colonel Kekewich and Major Montgomery, who received a portion of the surrenders. Colonel Rochfort's Report from the extreme south-western area has not yet come to hand.

2. Before leaving Vereeniging on 2nd June, I arranged with Assistant Commandant-General Delarey that we should personally, together, visit the Northern Districts while our deputies carried out surrenders in the south. Generals Delarey, Kemp, Celliers, left for the Northern Districts on the 3rd, while I went to Klerksdorp, met Colonel Kekewich and Generals Liebenburg and Du Toit, and arranged for the southern area to be dealt with as under:—

Colonel Kekewich—

Potchefstroom Commando at Hartebeestfontein.
Wolmaranstad Commando at that town.

Colonel Rochfort—

Bloemhof Commando.
Griqualand rebels at Schweizer Reneke.

These surrenders have been satisfactorily carried out, and detailed reports are furnished by the Officers concerned.

3. At Tafel Kop, on 6th June, I received a helio message from General Delarey to say the commandos were assembling, and that the Rustenburg Commando and most of the Krugersdorp and West Pretoria Commandos, the Staats Artillery and Zarps, all of General Kemp's command, would be ready for me at 10 a.m. next day at Doonkom, 15 miles to north.

4. On 7th June, General Delarey met me half way, and accompanied me to Doonkom. We found the commandos assembled below a small kopje, their arms piled in heaps a little distance away. The men were grouped in no military order to hear General Delarey's address, and after being introduced to the officers, I accompanied the General to a commanding buttress of rock. The officers appeared to me to be divisible into two classes. A few, such as Commandant Steenkamp, were grey bearded, tall, typical, "old" Boers, keen-eyed, and shrewd of feature. These were extremely cordial, and, I should judge, genuinely satisfied with the peace. The majority of the officers were younger men of a more foreign, that is, European type. They wore goatbeards, and had a generally alert, soldierlike appearance. They were enthusiastically glad the war was over, and eager to return to their avocations in various towns.

5. General Delarey addressed the men in Dutch, which was translated to me as he went on. He introduced me to the burghers as representing the British authority, and went on: "I now formally hand you over to General Kitcheners as British subjects, and I assure him, on your behalf, that you will serve your new Government with the same loyalty you have shown to the late Government."

I then addressed the burghers, and called upon them to formally acknowledge their allegiance, which they did with every demonstration of earnestness. The form of oath used was as follows:—

"I now call upon you formally to testify your allegiance to King Edward the Seventh, his Heirs and Successors. Burghers! You here, in the presence of our God, acknowledge King Edward to be your liege Sovereign, and that you will henceforth maintain his authority throughout the land. So help you God."

To which General Delarey, followed by his burghers, testified their assent.

6. The general feeling of the meeting, and of subsequent meetings, was intense satisfaction at peace having been concluded, and there was a universal, and, in my opinion, sincere expression of loyalty, to their new allegiance.

7. After the meeting the Field-Cornets assembled their men for the issue of rations, writing of names, &c. The arms were loaded on wagons, and the officers came to lunch at the mess tent where the Union Jack was flying. The escort then came off duty and mixed in the most friendly way with the burghers, the Highlanders and their pipes affording evident pleasure.

8. At Doonkom, 1,173 men surrendered, 1,115 rifles, 195 licenses were issued to men to retain their arms, 45 officers, 150 on border farms. These were certified to by General Kemp as men that can be trusted.

9. As Van Tonder's Commando of Zwartengen and Eland's River men had been unable to reach the meeting, I left Major Montgomery, D.S.O., to receive their surrender on the following day, when 453 men handed in 382 rifles.

10. On 10th June I met the Marico Commando at Waterkloof. These formed part of the command of fighting General Celliers. The procedure followed was practically the same as before, but the men were formed up 2 deep on three sides of a square, men standing correctly to "Attention" when addressed. There were a score of women at this meeting, who all expressed themselves as delighted at the ending of the war.

11. Here 765 men gave up 825 rifles, and 374 licenses were issued—41 to officers and 333 to border farmers selected by General Celliers.

12. The Marico district in which these meetings were held has suffered very little from the war. The farmsteads in their orange groves generally boasting of poultry, cattle, and wagons, and there was no sign of any shortage of necessary food. The men were in rags, but in fine condition—well-grown men in the prime of life, with a small sprinkling of grey beards, and lads. The women were all quite neatly turned out.

13. We now left the low county, and, passing through Lichtenburg, met the Lichtenburg Commando on the 12th June at Goedgedacht (112), on the Klein Harts River. These were General Celliers' best fighting men, almost all men in the prime of life and of a most workmanlike appearance. They handed in almost universally Lee-Metford rifles, and were dressed in our men's uniforms. It was clear that, in making their submission, these men were conforming to the sense of discipline conspicuous throughout the commando.

14. It appears to me that this is essentially a district where care should be taken in the selection of the Executive Administrative Officer. He should be an Englishman of strong character, capable of assembling his burghers, and speaking straight to the point. I feel sure absolute impartiality and a strong character will be of more value than aptitude in Dutch or local experience.

15. At every meeting the burghers begged me to submit their earnest request that they may not be put under the magistracy of one of their countrymen who has fought against them. In my opinion, they honestly intend to become good subjects, but they foresee bitterness on both sides if their political differences during the war are emphasised by making one side rulers over the other. From the experience I gained by mixing with the people at the meetings, and from having three Generals and their staffs in our mess for a week, I am convinced it will be found a cheap policy to put high class Englishmen to run these districts for the first few years.

16. Of the Lichtenburg Commando 501 men handed in 500 rifles, and 18 licenses were issued to officers.

17. General Celliers, who is not a man of this district, and appeared to have few local sympathies, is a man of strong character and iron nerve, young and ambitious. If given a position and prospects in our service he could, in my opinion, be depended upon for loyalty and good work.

18. The southern districts dealt with by Colonels Kekewich and Rochfort were even more demonstrative in their appreciation of the Peace than the Northern Commandos, which is to be expected when taken into account their losses from the war.

19. Total surrenders were:—

Men.	Rifles.	Small-arm ammunition.	Pompom ammunition.
4,956	4,713	102,698	144

One 15-pr. gun and one Maxim.

20. In conclusion, I would bring to the Commander-in-Chief's notice the loyal assistance throughout, which I received from Assistant Commandant-General Delarey. I would also beg to bring to his notice the assistance I received from—

Colonel Kekewich, C.B.

Colonel Rochfort.

Major Montgomery, D.S.O.

KLERKSDORP,

13th June, 1902.

From Major R. A. K. Montgomery, D.S.O., to Major-General Walter Kitchener.

Klerksdorp,

14th June, 1902.

Sir,

In accordance with your instructions, I have the honour to report that at Brakfontein (278) on the 9th June I took the surrender of 453 men, chiefly of the Zwartenggen and Elands River Commandos under Field-Cornet R. Van Tonder. This commando handed in 382 rifles and 4 revolvers, and I gave licenses for 9 rifles on the guarantee of Field-Cornet Van Tonder.

A number of the burghers having arrived the night before the meeting, friendly relations were established at a camp concert. Van Tonder arrived about 8 a.m. on 9th June, the arms were immediately handed over and packed on wagons by Captain Williams, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders. As soon as this was done, the corporals brought their squads to tables at which

Major White, D.A.A.G., Lieutenant Burgess, Signalling Officer, and Lieutenant Willows, Intelligence Officer, took down their names and particulars, and at another table I issued licenses to those allowed to retain their arms. The burghers then assembled near a Kraal. Field-Cornet Van Tonder addressed the burghers. I then spoke, administered the Oath, and called for three cheers for the King, General Delarey, and Field-Cornet Van Tonder, all of which were given with the greatest enthusiasm. I then handed over the supplies of food to Field-Cornet Van Tonder, who distributed it, and he and Field-Cornet Van Hereden had lunch with me.

The whole proceedings passed off without a hitch, and with the utmost cordiality.

I would like to bring to your notice Landrost Wannieburg, late of Rustenburg, and formerly of Johannesburg, I am certain he is a very able and very honest man, and judge of the latter by his having asked me where he should hand over a wagon, cart, and nine mules belonging to the late Z.A.R. He is very anxious to get employment for his late Police on the Native Border.

Also Field-Cornet Van Tonder, a young man who has been selected over the heads of many others to command. He evidently has a wonderful hold over his people, and should be very useful.

I have, &c.,

R. A. K. MONTGOMERY, Major, R.F.A.

SURRENDERS IN THE ORANGE RIVER COLONY.

From Major-General Elliot, Commanding Mobile Column, South Africa, to the Military Secretary, Pretoria.

In accordance with your telegraphic communication, I have the honour to report as follows on the method observed in taking the surrenders of the commandos in the Orange River Colony.

Previous to leaving Pretoria, I arranged with General de Wet the most convenient centres and dates to suit requirements, and steps were at once taken to send out the necessary information to the commandos on the Veldt and the General Officers Commanding Districts concerned.

On arrival at the fixed date at the surrender centres, General de Wet and his staff (including a signaller) proceeded at once to the farm where the commandos were assembled.

I had previously arranged with the General as to information required from commandos regarding names and ages of burghers, with details of arms and ammunition to be surrendered. As a rule, these lists were well on the way to completion by the time I arrived.

On receipt of a signal that the commandos had assembled, I proceeded with my personal staff to the meeting. On arrival, General de Wet introduced the Generals and Commandants, and the latter their Field-Cornets. After explaining to these Officers the way in which the details of the surrender were to be carried out, the officers then returned to their commandos and explained to their burghers.

The men were then fallen in, counted, had their arms collected in convenient places. Passes were given to each burgher to the effect that they had surrendered, date and place being noted.

The officers entitled to keep arms were then given the necessary permits.

General Officers Commanding of Districts had arranged for one day's rations for men and horses being sent to the proximity of surrender centres under a small escort.

These escorts were utilised for counting and checking the arms, placing them on the wagons on which the rations had been sent out, and acted as returning escort for arms collected.

After business was over, rations were distributed, including coffee, and a tot of rum per man, and the Commandants and Field-Cornets lunched with me.

The burghers were then assembled, and I addressed them briefly (Commandant Van Niekerk, of Vredefort Commando, acting as interpreter) explaining that the arrangements were with regards to the signing of the Declaration of Allegiance (herewith attached), and the return of the burghers to their families and farms.

After informing them of the King's telegram, eulogising the bravery on the field, and congratulating them on the termination of hostilities, I urged them to be as good and "loyal subjects" to the new Government as they had been to the old. "Hats off, and three cheers for the King" was then called for, and responded to by everybody most heartily.

This concluded the arrangements. The commandos then saddled up and rode back with us to nearest camps.

DECLARATION OF ALLEGIANCE.

I, the undersigned, declare herewith that I signify my consent to the resolution of the representatives of the people, taken on the 31st May, 1902, at Vereeniging, Transvaal, whereby our former Government was empowered to accept the proposals of His Majesty's Government, and I acknowledge herewith His Majesty, Edward VII., as my Sovereign.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The state of prosperity of the commandos varied much in the different districts, in inverse proportion to the amount of attention that had been paid them lately by the columns.

Van Niekerk and Van der Merwe's Commandos, who surrendered at Vredefort Road, were destitute of everything except much-patched clothes covering bodies looking as if soap had been an unknown substance in the laager for months. In one case, a burgher had a springbok's skin coat sewed round his body. The men were tough, weather-beaten specimens, with unkempt hair and beard.

The next lot who surrendered at Reitz were better off, having 40 or 50 Cape carts amongst the 2,000 who surrendered. Many of these had carts consisting of two wheels, and an axle with corrugated iron fastened across, forming the body of the cart. These burghers, although wearing much patched clothes, were clean and healthy looking, and appeared as if their Spartan diet of meat, mealie meal, and coffee made from wheat or dried peaches, had not disagreed with them. As we travelled south, and left the haunts of De Wet between the Heilbron—Frankfort—Vrede and Kroonstad—Lindley—Bethlehem blockhouse line, so did the prosperity of the commandos increase.

The Boschrand surrenders were slightly better off than the Reitz ones.

Whilst at Winburg the commandos who surrendered had been able to save a considerable amount of their Cape carts and transport by hiding them in the rocky and wooded kloofs of the Koranaberg and Wittebergen.

The horseflesh of these commandos showed no signs of wear and tear, in marked contrast to those of the earlier commandos at Reitz and Vredefort Road.

The road into Winburg after the surrender looked much like one leading from a big race meeting. Burghers galloped along, shouting and laughing, and challenging any officer from the General down to race with them. Whilst every sort of conveyance rolled at its top speed along the bumpy veldt road. Riders and drivers all heading for the Concentration Camp, delighted that the surrender was over, and they were at last able to count the minutes on their fingers before they would see their wives, daughters, sisters, and mothers.

Here, as elsewhere, the burghers appeared only too eager to lay down their arms, have peace at last, join their families, and look forward to shortly being able to return to their farms.

Many said they regretted having to give up their rifles; but far from wishing to keep back any, each and all appeared feverishly anxious to find out what they ought to do if arms were dug up on their farms by Boer prisoners when they returned to South Africa; and they appeared greatly relieved at being told they would be held blameless if they handed the unearthed rifles at once into the nearest military post.

The Brandfort and Bloemfontein surrenders were by far the best off, possessing many Cape carts. These latter had not been molested for several months.

Although a small percentage were young boys of 12 to 15 years and old men of 60 and upwards, the large majority were tough, hardy, weather-beaten men in the prime of life, and looking, with few exceptions, none the worse for the privations they had undergone.

The tone of the burghers was much the same everywhere. They were all proud to think they had fought it out to the end, and everywhere they said to us, "We have been loyal to our Government to the end, and are now prepared to serve the new Government with the same loyalty." A spirit of camaraderie exists between the burghers and the Army; not a trace of bitterness being detectable.

With regard to the future administration of the country, the burghers all declared they hoped they would be closely associated with British Officers, in whom they have complete confidence.

The majority of burghers evidently had small sums of money hidden away, or were assisted by their richer friends; for after a commando had been in a town a few days a transformation scene occurred; white collars, respectable clothes and hats, and shaven faces taking the place of dirty shirts, leather-patched clothes, and greasy felt or home made straw hats over bearded faces.

Few amongst the burghers could speak or read English, except the Commandants and Field-Cornets, who had evidently been chosen partly on this account. Their power over the burghers seemed absolute, the latter being willing to accept anything that their leaders agreed to, whilst they were all completely under the influence of General De Wet.

De Wet appears a man of great character and firmness, and after living with him for 10 days I have no hesitation in saying that he intends using his great influence, loyally, to further the interests of the British Government, and to maintain a lasting peace.

During the whole of the tour nothing but deference and civility was shown by the burghers to the few Officers and unarmed soldiers who superintended and assisted in the task of accepting the surrenders and taking in the arms. The general manner, although independent, was respectful to a marked extent.

E. LOCKE ELLIOT, Major-General,
Commanding Midland District, Orange River Colony.

From Lieut.-General Sir John French, K.C.B., Commanding in Cape Colony, to the Chief of Staff, Pretoria.

Cape Town,

Sir, 23rd June, 1902.

1. In accordance with your instructions, I forward herewith a statement showing the progress made with the surrender of rebels and burghers in Cape Colony up to 21st June, the date on which I handed over the command to Major-General Sir H. Settle, K.C.B., preparatory to embarkation.

2. As the surrenders were not then complete, I am unable to attach the reports of the various Officers who conducted them, but the verbal and telegraphic reports made to me showed that the rebels were deeply impressed with the generous terms offered them, and that all were animated with the same spirit which characterized the surrenders in the Transvaal and Orange River Colony.

3. On 4th June, General Smuts (late Assistant Commandant-General of the Federal Forces in Cape Colony) arrived at my Head-quarters at Middelburg, bearing letters from the Commander-in-Chief directing me to confer with that Officer and make all arrangements with him to bring about the surrender of the rebels and burghers in the field.

4. In pursuance of these arrangements, flags of truce were sent out to all the commandos, and selected Officers were appointed by me to conduct the surrenders at certain centres.

A list of these centres, with the names of the Officers conducting the surrender and of the various commandos, is shown in the attached statement.

5. General Smuts then proceeded to the commandos, commencing with those under Commandant Fouché in the Cradock District.

Together we interviewed Fouché, and, judging from what I saw and heard as to the tone and temper of the rebels in the Eastern Districts, I considered the influence and authority of that Commandant quite sufficient to carry out the surrenders.

General Smuts proceeded to the Western Districts.

Commandant Fouché rendered every assistance, and by the 8th instant the surrenders in those districts were practically complete.

6. The procedure I directed was carefully observed at each centre. The few burghers accompanying each commando were, on surrender, separated from the rebels. The latter were placed in a wired camp guarded by troops, and handed over as prisoners to the civil authorities.

A magistrate was sent to each place by the Attorney-General to conduct the trial of rebels. The burghers were sent at once to their homes in the Transvaal and Orange River Colony.

7. I received the greatest assistance from General Smuts, who threw himself into the work with the utmost energy. He displayed considerable skill and tact, and I was much struck with the ready obedience he exacted and secured from rebel and burgher alike.

8. I regret this report is necessarily incomplete, owing to my hurried departure for England.

I have, &c.,

J. D. P. FRENCH, Lieut.-General.
