Downing Street, 24 June, 1907.

The following summary account relating to the operations in connection with the native disturbances in Natal last year, which formed the subject of despatches already presented to Parliament (cd.2905,3027,3247), has been received from the Governor of Natal by the Secretary of State for the Colonies:—

Government House, Pietermaritzburg,
Natal, 4th May, 1907.

MY LORD,

Whilst the native rebellion was in progress last year I sent a despatch to Your Lordship every week narrating in detail the different events which had occurred and which I considered would be of interest to His Majesty's Government. These are to be found in the pages of the different Blue Books which have been laid before Parliament at Westminster.

Its outbreak was premature. A party of Natal Police was attacked at Byrnetown, near Richmond, by a body of "amakolwa," or Christianised natives, belonging to Mveli's tribe, a Sub-Inspector and a trooper being killed. Rumours had for some time been current that a general rebellion of natives was in contemplation. My Ministers therefore determined to make a demonstration in force in order to show the malcontents that the Government were ready to suppress any insurrection by force of arms. A column was mobilized consisting of the Natal Carabineers, two sections of the Natal Field Artillery, a company of the Natal Royal Regiment, and half the Border Mounted Rifles, under the command of Colonel Duncan McKenzie, C.B., C.M.G., V.D., and Martial Law was proclaimed throughout the Colony.

The demonstration had the desired effect. Tribes which had armed and were defiant to the magistrates were cowed by the presence of the Colonial troops, who marched through very difficult country to the coast, punishing tribes who had defied the law and imposing fines of cattle. These operations under Colonel McKenzie lasted seven weeks, and orders were then given for the demobilization of the column.

The anticipations which had been formed that the rebellion had been quelled were unfortunately not realised.

It was, therefore, determined to mobilize practically the whole of the active Colonial forces and also to call out the Reserves to maintain order and quiet in districts which were still removed from the actual scenes of the outbreaks. In all some 7,000 men were called out, and although civil business was by this proceeding much hampered, the difficulties were cheerfully faced, as it was considered that under the conditions upon which Responsible Government had been given to the Colony, it was their duty to do everything in their power to cope with this rebellion without the intervention and assistance of Imperial troops.

In a true South African spirit which has been gratefully acknowledged by the Colony, help was given to us by the Government of the Transvaal, who sent to our assistance two separate contingents—the Transvaal Mounted Rifles, 450 strong, under Colonel Barker, and the Lancashire and Yorkshire contingent raised by Mr. Abe Bailey for the purpose.

The Cape Government also furnished much-needed assistance by providing a maxim detachment of the Cape Mounted Rifles.

A supply of Rexer guns was also purchased in England by friends of the Colony and sent out with equipment complete under the direction of Major-General Sir John Dartnell, K.C.B., C.M.G., who formerly occupied the positions of Commandant of Volunteers and Chief Commissioner of Police in this Colony.

The forces were finally demobilized on September 4th, after a series of operations extending over seven months.

I have much pleasure in submitting to your Lordship a list of officers whose good services have been brought to my notice by the Commandant, Colonel H. T. Bru-de-Wold, C.M.G. I am proud to submit these recommendations to the favourable notice of His Majesty, and enclose detailed statements explaining the gallant nature of the conduct shown by Inspector Dimmick and Lieutenant Blamey for which their names have been included.

Colonel McKenzie, who has since succeeded Colonel Bru-de-Wold in the command of the Colonial Forces, also presses for mention of Lieutenant William Henry London, who served under him. The services rendered by this officer were of a particularly valuable character as may be seen from the statement which I enclose herewith.

Colonel Bru-de-Wold, C.M.G., Commandant of the local forces, remained at headquarters during the rebellion and did yeoman service. The pressure which devolved upon him in connection with administrative work was immense, and culminated in a temporary break-down, whereupon Major-General Sir John Dartnell, K.C.B., C.M.G., who was on a visit to the Colony, acted for him. Colonel Bru-de-Wold was ably and indefatigably assisted by his Staff, particularly by his Chief Staff Officer, Major Thomas Harry Blew.

As regards civilians I have much pleasure in referring in the first place to the splendid work done by the Prime Minister, the Honourable Charles John Smythe. For the whole seven months I was closely in contact with him, attending as I did every day a meeting of the Cabinet as a Council of War. I was much struck with his clear level-headed conception of the true position of affairs during the different phases of the campaign, with his cool determination, quiet resolution, and absence of fuss. I consider that the Colony was most fortunate in having as a Premier at such a critical time a statesman of the calibre and character of Mr. Smythe.

Of his colleagues, the Honourable Thomas Watt, who was Minister of Defence, has already received a mark of His Majesty's favour. The Minister for Native Affairs, the Honourable Henry Daniel Winter, occupied a position of peculiar responsibility, and gave me valuable assistance. His cool physical courage during the early stages of the rebellion, in entering unarmed a veritable hornets' nest of rebels, was referred to by me in one of my early despatches.

I desire also to bring to your Lordship's notice the services rendered by Mr. George Thomas Plowman, Secretary to the Prime Minister, and by Mr. Arthur John Hedgeland, my own Private Secretary. The work which they put through was immense; night after night they had to sit up until the early hours of the morning to meet the abnormal pressure which fell to their lot, and right well did they do it.

I have, &c.,

HENRY McCALLUM.

List of Officers whose Services were brought to Notice by the Commandant of Militia.

Brevet Colonel Duncan McKenzie, C.B., C.M.G., V.D., Officer Commanding, Natal Carbineers.

Did magnificent service when in temporary command of the Helpmakaar Field Force and later at the head of his regiment in the Mapumulo District.

Major R. A. Buntine, Natal Medical Corps.

As Senior Medical Officer, during the operations in Zululand and later in the Mapumulo-Stanger District, did excellent service.

Major S. B. Woollatt, Officer Commanding, Natal Veterinary Corps.

Major W. H. Smith, Natal Mounted Rifles.

Rendered excellent service throughout the campaign, and for his dash and pluck in leading a small detachment against the rebel chief Ndhlovu ka Timuni, on the 19th June, at Otimati, inflicting heavy loss on the enemy.

Major W. A. Vanderplank, Officer Commanding, Zululand Mounted Rifles.

Performed particularly good service during the rebellion in Zululand, especially by the prompt manner in which he mobilized his regiment. Within 20 hours after the receipt of orders to mobilize he was 30 miles on his way to N'Kandhla from Eshowe.

Major S. Carter, Umvoti Mounted Rifles.

As Chief Staff Officer, Umvoti Field Force, and later as Chief Staff Officer to Colonel Leuchars, when commanding troops in Natal, did particularly good service.

Major S. G. Campbell, Durban Light Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry on several occasions, particularly at the fight near Nkomo Hill in Zululand, and when in charge of a convoy from Bond's Drift to Thring's Post, was attacked at McRae's Store, driving off the enemy and bringing convoy through.

Captain G. A. Labistour, Natal Royal Regiment.

Attached to the Militia Staff during the rebellion, rendered excellent service in his professional capacity as a lawyer.

Did excellent work in the field throughout the campaign and rendered good service in assisting in the organization of medical arrangements, especially in sanitary matters.

Lieutenant Alfred Harry Garnet Blamey, Natal Mounted Rifles.

H. T. BRU-DE-WOLD, Colonel,
Commandant of Militia.

Particulars of Services in respect of which the name of Inspector Oliver Dimmick, Natal Police, was brought to the notice of the Commandant of Militia.

During the night attack on the Natal Police at the Impanza River on the night of the 4th April, 1906, Inspector Oliver Dimmick, Natal Police, displayed great gallantry in rescuing Trumpeter Milton of the same Corps from falling into the enemy's hands.

Trumpeter Milton was wounded and surrounded by the enemy, but was eventually conveyed to a place of safety by means of Inspector Dimmick's action in proceeding to his rescue and keeping the enemy at bay.

H. T. BRU-DE-WOLD, Colonel,
Commandant of Militia.

Particulars in respect of which the name of Lieutenant A. H. G. Blamey, Natal Mounted Rifles, was brought to the notice of the Commandant of Militia.

Lieutenant A. H. G. Blamey, Natal Mounted Rifles, in the action at Nkomo Hill on the 5th

May, 1906, at the risk of his own life rescued Corporal Acutt, Natal Mounted Rifles, from a perilous situation.

The latter had become detached from his troop, and having lost his horse, would certainly have fallen into the hands of the enemy but for Lieutenant Blamey's timely assistance. The enemy were pressing close, and Lieutenant Blamey had considerable difficulty owing to the nature of the ground in effecting the rescue of the non-commissioned officer mentioned, but eventually succeeded in keeping the enemy off, and bringing Corporal Acutt within our own lines.

H. T. BRU-DE-WOLD, Colonel,
Commandant of Militia.

14th September, 1906.

Statement of services rendered by Lieutenant William Henry London, Border Mounted Rifles.

Conspicuous gallantry throughout the operations, particularly at the Itata Gorge, where he, owing to the non-arrival of a column, and with a few men, effectually blocked the Gorge, thereby preventing the escape of many of the rebels.

Ships and vessels of all kinds are not permitted to pass, cruise, or anchor, &c., in the practice area as long as the red double pennant is hoisted at any of the forts.

For the better protection of the area, hulks and torpedo boats will be used as police boats under the command of naval officers, whose orders are to be obeyed immediately and unconditionally.

Searching for projectiles during the practice is strictly prohibited. Persons who find live shell unexploded must mark the position by a stake and report the fact to the Artillery Depot at Wilhelmshaven. They are also warned that the removal of shell, as well as any meddling with the fuse, is attended with the greatest danger. Live shell may be recognised by having black points, which are fitted with an exploding apparatus having a coating of red lead on each of its iron parts.

Contravention of the above regulations or of the orders of the captains of the police boats will be punished according to law, by a fine not exceeding 150 marks, or by imprisonment.
