HONOURS FOR OPERATIONS OFF TERSCHELLING ON THE 11TH AUGUST, 1918.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the award of the following honour and decorations to the undermentioned Officers of Coastal Motor Boats in recognition of their gallantry during a reconnaissance of the West Frisian coast on the 11th August, 1918:—

To be a Companion of the Distinguished Service Order.

Lieut.-Cdr. Anthony Launcelot Henry Dean Coke, R.N.

During the course of the operation the Coastal Motor Boats were attacked by hostile aircraft, and, although greatly outnumbered, succeeded in bringing down two enemy aircraft. Lieut.-Cdr. Coke, who was Senior Officer of the flotilla, showed great determination, gallantry and courage in continuing his reconnaissance in spite of the presence of the enemy.

The Coastal Motor Boats led by Lieut.-Cdr. Coke fought a very gallant action against superior odds, and continued to do so until all their ammunition was expended or their Lewis guns rendered useless by jamming.

To receive the Distinguished Service Cross.

Lieut. Edward Rowsell Lewis, R.N.

Displayed great gallantry as Second in Command of the Senior Officer's boat. In the middle of the fight he partially stripped down and reassembled a gun in an endeavour to bring it into action again. Lieut. Lewis, although hit in the arms and thighs by five or six bullets, continued his duty throughout the action with absolute cheerfulness and without remark or complaint.

His boat being riddled with bullets and a hole blown in her hull by the explosion of a bomb, was destroyed by a demolition charge. The crew were picked up three hours later by a Dutch torpedo boat in a very exhausted condition.

Lieut. Lewis, in spite of his wounds and three hours' immersion in the water, showed indomitable courage, and by his cheerfulness kept up the spirits of his men, who were nearly exhausted.

Lieut. Guy Leslie Cockburn, R.N.

For the gallantry shown by him in command of a Coastal Motor Boat under very trying conditions. His boat caught fire and of the crew two were badly wounded. Having brought his boat to within half a mile of the shore, Lieut. Cockburn first placed the two wounded men in the water and then blew her up. He managed to get the wounded, who were unconscious, a little way towards the shore, when Dutch seamen swam out and brought them in.

Lieut. Robert William Bateman, R.N.R.

For the exceptional gallantry and courage shown by him.

In the middle of the fight Lieut. Bateman, who was serving in the Senior Officer's boat, stripped down and reassembled a gun in an endeavour to bring it into action. He undoubtedly saved the boat by spotting bombs as they left enemy aircraft. One bomb exploded close to the boat and blew a hole in her hull, and would have destroyed her if Lieut. Bateman had not warned his commanding officer in time for course and speed to be altered.

ADDITIONAL AWARD FOR SERVICES IN THE ACTION IN THE HELIGOLAND BIGHT ON THE 17TH NOVEMBER, 1917.

The King has been graciously pleased to approve of the following award in addition to those announced in the London Gazette of the 17th May, 1918:—

To be a Companion of the Distinguished Service Order.

Lieut. Henry Cecil Courtney Clarke, R.N.

In recognition of his services in command of H.M.S. "Calypso" in action after the Captain had been mortally wounded.

ADDITIONAL AWARD FOR SERVICES IN THE OPERATIONS AGAINST ZEEBRUGGE AND OSTEND ON THE NIGHT OF THE 22ND-23RD APRIL, 1918.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the following award in addition to those announced in the London Gazette of the 23rd July, 1918:—

To receive the Distinguished Service Cross.

Act. Lieut. (now Lieut.) Leopold Joseph Hegarty, R.N.R. ("Daffodil").

Throughout the operations was of the greatest assistance, performing any duty required of him with promptness and fearlessness in an exposed position, and at times under very heavy fire.

The undermentioned Lady has been brought to notice for valuable service in connection with the war:—

Miss Winifred Whitworth, V.A.D. Nurse, Royal Naval Auxiliary Hospital, Truro.

HONOURS FOR THE MERCANTILE MARINE.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the award of a decoration to the undermentioned Officer of the Mercantile Marine in recognition of zeal and devotion to duty shown in carrying on the trade of the country during the war:—

To receive the Distinguished Service Cross.

Capt. Thomas McMullan.

The KING has further been graciously pleased to give orders for the publication of the names of the undermentioned Officers in the London Gazette as having received an expression of commendation for their services:—
