WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ACT, 1925.

The Secretary of State for the Home Department announces that in response to an application from the National Federation of Freestone Quarry Owners and the Trade Unions represented on the Freestone Section of the Joint Industrial Council for the Quarrying Industry, he proposes to make a Special Scheme under Section 47 of the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1925, providing for compensation in respect of the disease known as Silicosis for workmen employed in the Sandstone Industry. This Scheme would provide for payment of the compensation out of a Special Trade Compensation Fund, and generally would follow the lines of the Compensation Scheme made some years ago for the Refractories Industries. It would supersede the Various Industries (Silicosis) Scheme which was made on the 11th December last, so far as the Sandstone Industry is concerned, and for the purposes of the new Scheme, it is proposed that the Sandstone Industry should be defined as meaning all processes in or incidental to the getting or manipulation of sandstone with a view to manufacture or sale, which are carried on at or within the close or curtilage of any mine or quarry or at any premises worked in conjunction with a mine or quarry, wherever situate. Certain exceptions would be provided for, and in particular it is proposed that the Scheme should not apply to a mine or quarry in which sandstone is worked occasionally only and where no explosive or mechanical power is used.

The draft Scheme, which has been prepared in consultation with the Joint Industrial Council, has now been issued, and any employers or others affected who may desire to submit any observations upon it for consideration of the Secretary of State are asked to do so in writing to the Under Secretary of State, Home Office, London, S.W. 1, by the 14th February.

Copies of the Scheme may be obtained on application to the Home Office.
