FRIDAY, 29 OCTOBER, 1954

Whitehall, October 29th, 1954.

The following Address was presented to The QUEEN on the occasion of Her Majesty's visit to Sheffield University on the 27th instant:—

TO HER MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY QUEEN ELIZABETH THE SECOND

May it please Your Majesty,

We, the Members of the University of Sheffield, wish humbly to express our loyalty to Your Majesty and to offer you, our Visitor, a most hearty welcome.

The present Session will see the completion of the fiftieth year since Your Majesty's great-grandfather, King Edward VII, granted the Royal Charter whereby University College, Sheffield, became the University of Sheffield, and, a few weeks thereafter, came in person with Queen Alexandra to open the building in which we are now met and to greet the new University which he had thus founded. Four years later Your Majesty's grandfather, King George V, then Prince of Wales, honoured us by coming to open our Library, which had been provided by the bounty of a generous citizen, and accepted the Degree of Doctor of Letters; and we have since been honoured and encouraged by visits from other members of Your Majesty's Royal House.

Despite the disturbances of two world wars and the industrial uncertainties of the period between them, the number of full-time students has grown nearly twentyfold since our Charter was granted. Our buildings are much larger and the range of studies and the volume of research carried on within our walls has grown immensely. We believe that there has been a great increase in the contribution of this University to our nation and to the world of learning.

We rejoice that, thus early in your Reign, Your Majesty and His Royal Highness The Duke of Edinburgh have graced our University by this visit to inaugurate the celebrations that mark our Jubilee Session; and we read in this the happiest augury for the future. We pray that your Reign may be long, prosperous and peaceful; and that Your Majesty may have the happiness of seeing the ties between Crown and people, already close, grow ever stronger as the years go by.

Given under the Common Seal of the University, This twenty-seventh day of October, 1954.

(Signed) Halifax,
Chancellor.

J. M. Whittaker,
Vice-Chancellor.

H. F. B. Stephenson,
Gerard Young,
Pro-Chancellors.

Arthur W. Chapman,
Registrar.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following gracious Answer:—

Mr. Chancellor,

I thank you, and the members of the University, for your loyal Address and for your warm welcome to me and my husband. I am glad to have the opportunity of continuing the association of my family with the University and to see for myself something of the great progress made since my great-grandfather opened this building nearly fifty years ago. Your achievement has been worthy of the hopes expressed on that occasion and gives strong assurance for the future.

The generosity of those few from whose efforts this University has grown has been matched to-day by the numerous contributions towards the cost of recent extensions to these buildings. This is a practical proof of the esteem in which Sheffield is held. It shows a widening recognition not only of the part which the University has to play in the advancement of Science and its application to productive processes, but also of the importance of a liberal education to all who can benefit by it.

In this present age there is a growing necessity for men and women to take with them into life something of that store of human wisdom which may be acquired within a University. I am sure that here in Sheffield University, with its confident grasp of the scientific and technological subjects in which it is specially distinguished, every opportunity is also taken to foster and encourage this unwritten knowledge.

My husband and I are greatly enjoying our visit to the West Riding where we have been received and welcomed so generously and where we have already seen examples of the energy, imagination and high standards of quality in industrial production for which Yorkshire has long been famous. To-day I have watched with particular pleasure the display of loyalty and affection by the schoolchildren, some of whom will one day take their place among you; they and all those who live and work in these great industrial centres benefit from the skill and knowledge which is nourished in this University.

I am glad to be able to attend these celebrations to mark your Jubilee Session, which it gives me great pleasure to inaugurate.

1. Age

Candidates must have been born on or before 1st September, 1933. There is no upper age limit. In general, however, Government Departments require a reasonable period of service from persons newly appointed to the Civil Service and the Commissioners will give weight to this factor in considering candidates who are over 50 years of age.

2. Sex and Marriage

(i) Both men and women may compete under these Regulations.

(ii) Married women who have formerly been established civil servants and have drawn marriage gratuity (other than those who resigned compulsorily on marriage and whose resignation took effect before 15th October, 1946, or who are widows or divorced, or who are separated from their husbands, or whose husbands suffer without hope of recovery from total physical or mental incapacity) will not be eligible unless they undertake to refund on appointment the marriage gratuity paid. Provided that this undertaking will not be required if the break between the first period of service (including any period of unestablished service immediately following the period in respect of which the gratuity was paid) and the date of re-establishment is more than seven years.

3. Nationality

Candidates must be natural-born British subjects born within the United Kingdom or in one of the self-governing Dominions of parents also born within the United Kingdom or in one of the self-governing Dominions. No departure from this rule will be made without the special permission of the First Lord of the Admiralty and then only in exceptional cases and in favour of candidates who are British subjects and who also satisfy one of the following conditions:—

(a) If natural-born British subjects, they must either

(i) have at least one parent who is or was at death a British subject; or

(ii) have resided in Her Majesty's dominions and/or been employed elsewhere in the service of the Crown for at least five years out of the last eight years preceding the date of their appointment.

(c) If not qualified under (a) or (b) of this paragraph, they must satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners that they are so closely connected with Her Majesty's dominions either by ancestry, upbringing or residence, or by reason of national service, that an exception may properly be made in their favour.

4. Qualifications

Quantity Surveying Assistants, Grade III

Candidates must have obtained:—

(a) the Final Certificate of the City and Guilds of London Institute (Sections A and B) in Builder's Quantities, or

(b) the Ordinary National Certificate in Building, or

They must also have had five years' training and experience with a quantity surveyor or building contractor (or government department or local authority).

Lands Assistants, Grade III

Candidates must have had not less than four years' experience in the office of an approved surveyor, land agent, valuer or estate agent.

5. Health and character

Successful candidates must satisfy the Commissioners as to their health and character.

6. Competition

The Commissioners may summon to appear before a Selection Board all who are found to be prima facie eligible, or may, if they see fit, summon only those whose qualifications and experience, as shown on their application forms, are considered to be most suitable. The Selection Board will take into consideration the candidate's record of experience and education, any recommendation from persons named by the candidates as having direct knowledge of their work in the past, and the personal qualities of the candidates as shown at the interview; and on their estimation of all the above facts they will frame their recommendations. The decision of the Commissioners will be final.

7. Candidates trained as teachers

Persons upon whose training for the occupation of teacher public money has been spent cannot be appointed until the consent of the appropriate education authority (e.g., the Ministry of Education, the Scottish Education Department, the Ministry of Education for Northern Ireland) has been notified to the Commissioners.

8. Canvassing

Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support for their application through Members of Parliament or other influential persons, except as referees to be named in their application forms, will disqualify them for appointment.
