2. Candidates may take optional subjects up to a total of 500 marks. A candidate who wishes to offer subjects the value of which exceeds 500 marks must name a subject to be marked on a reduced maximum in order to bring the total to 500. This option cannot be exercised by a candidate who can reduce his total to 500 by omitting one or more of the subjects he proposes to offer.

3. The following restrictions apply to particular optional subjects:—

(a) Candidates may not offer more than two of the three periods of European History (7-9).

(b) Industry and Trade (34), Money, Banking, and Exchange (35), Public Finance (36), Social Economics (37), may be taken only by candidates who offer General Economics (33), or any two of the following:—

History of Political Thought (28), Political Theory (29), Political Organisation (30), Modern British Government (31).

(c) International Relations (32), may not be taken by a candidate who offers European History, Period III (9) or Public International Law (18).

(d) SUBJECTS 47-57

(i) Natural Science (Essay Paper) (47), may be taken only by candidates who offer one or more of the subjects 48-57.

(ii) Candidates may not offer more than three of the subjects Chemistry, Part I (48), Physics, Part I (50), Botany, Part I (52), Geology, Part I (54), Zoology, Part I (56).

(e) Candidates may not offer more than two of the three periods of English Literature (66-68).

(f) Greek Literature (75) may be taken only by candidates who offer Greek Translation (72), and Latin Literature (79) only by those who offer Latin Translation (76).

(g) Candidates may not offer language papers (modern languages, Latin or Greek) totalling more than 400 marks. Similarly Literature or Civilisation papers (including English Literature) may not be offered carrying a maximum of more than 400 marks. Thus no candidate may offer French Language, German Language, and Spanish Language, or French Civilisation, German Civilisation, and English Literature. The papers on the History of the French Language, the History of the German Language, Old English, Middle English, and English Criticism, do not come within the scope of this restriction.

4. The continued inclusion of the following subjects will be reviewed after the examination of 1957:—Scottish History (6), History of the United States of America (10), Psychology (27), Social and General Anthropology (62), Physical Anthropology and Prehistoric Archaeology (63), English Criticism (69, 70), Welsh Civilisation (71), Classical Archaeology (80, 81).

The Civil Service Commissioners further give notice that an Open Competition will be held under the above Regulations, the written examination commencing on 1st July, 1957.

Applications on the prescribed form for admission to the Competition should be received by the Secretary of the Civil Service Commission on or before 28th February, 1957. Application forms may be obtained from the Secretary at once.
