To the QUEENs most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Common-Council, Burgesses, Gentlemen and others, of Your Majestys Corporation of Preston Amounderness, in Your County Palatine of Lancaster, this 15th Day of May,

Anno Domini 1707.

Dread Sovereign,

THE Difficulties Your Majesty has struggled with, the opposite Interests You have reconciled, and the inveterate Prejudices in both Nations in your Incorporated Union You have removed or surmounted, oblige us to admire Your Royal Wisdom in completing that Work in so little Time, which has been the Attempt of a whole Century: A Work so vast and important, that it has been the Desire of all Your good Subjects, yet they durst scarce presume to expect it, even after so many stupendous Instances of Divine Blessings under Your Majestys Administration.

By this Your Majesty, by the Blessing of God, has effectually secured our Religion and Liberties in a Protestant Succession, and broken the Measles of that Pretender, who, whilst we were divided, waited and hoped an Opportunity to disturb our Peace.

On this remarkable Occasion, most Illustrious Queen, we humbly desire to congratulate Your Majesty, not only to testify our Satisfaction in the happy Union of this Island, but to renew the Assurance of our inviolable Resolution and ardent Affection for Your Majestys Sacred Person and Government.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Postmen, Chief Burgesses, and Freemen, of Her Majestys ancient and loyal Corporation of Orford, in the County of Suffolk; Presented to Her Majesty by Thomas Betts Esq; their Recorder, introduced by the Rt. Hon. the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain.

To the QUEENs most Excellent Majesty,

WE the Mayor, Recorder, Postmen, Chief Burgesses, and Freemen, of Your Majestys ancient and loyal Corporation of Orford, in the County of Suffolk, who have ever been congratulating Your glorious Successes abroad, cannot forbear humbly expressing our extream Joy and Satisfaction to see Your more glorious Success at home, in uniting Two divided Nations: Great was the Design, and happy the Execution.

Tis a peculiar Blessing that attends Your Religious Care, that no Difficulty can withstand it: And what Ages have been labouring after, You with Ease have finished.

That Union You have so happily effected, we for our Parts will maintain with utmost Duty and Sincerity; neither Malice nor Diffidence shall influence our Thoughts.

May the God of Peace protect Your Majesty in all Your pious Intentions and Undertakings; and secure the Blessings to us He directs You to manifest, for Your own Honour, and Great Britains Glory.

Given under our Common Seal, in our Guildhall at Orford aforesaid, this 17th Day of June, 1707.

The humble Address of the Constables, and others, Inhabitants of Her Majestys ancient Borough of Great Marlow, in the County of Bucks, together with their Representatives in Parliament: Presented to Her Majesty by Sir James Etheridge Kt. and James Giffard Esq; their Representatives; introduced by the Rt. Hon. the Lord High Treasurer.

To the QUEENs most Excellent Majesty,

May it please Your Majesty,

Among all the Glories that encircle Your Throne, we Your Majestys most dutiful and loyal Subjects beg Leave to congratulate Your Majesty in that we conceive shines brightest there: Tis, Madam, the Accomplishment of the Union between Your Kingdoms of England and Scotland. The fruitless Endeavours of former Princes, and all their Councils, in the like Attempts, must convince the World, Tis nothing, under God, but Your Majestys great Wisdom, and the Abilities of Your present Ministers, could have brought the same to Perfection; whereby Your Majesty has (as much as human Wisdom can) established to Your People their Religion and Peace at home, and Security from Your Enemies abroad. To which we can add no more than our Prayers
