RATES OF INTEREST ON LOANS BY THE PUBLIC WORKS LOAN COMMISSIONERS TO LOCAL AUTHORITIES

NOTICE

TREASURY MINUTE dated 30th August 1984.

The Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury read section 3 (2) of the National Loans Act 1968 (1968 c. 13 as amended) whereby any sums borrowed from the Public Works Loan Commissioners shall bear interest at such rates as the Treasury may determine from time to time in accordance with section 5 of the said Act.

My Lords understand that the Public Works Loan Commissioners will be operating arrangements under which local authorities are permitted to borrow from the Commissioners up to a specified quota at a certain fixed rate of interest and in excess of such quota at one of two higher fixed rates.

In accordance therewith the Chancellor of the Exchequer now recommends that with effect from 30th August 1984 and until the coming into operation of a further determination:

I. The rate of interest applicable to any such fixed rate loan will be that in force on the day the authority applies to borrow or, if the application is before noon three working days before the loan is credited to the account of the authority's banker, the rate in force at 11 a.m. two banking days before credit day;

II. Different rates of interest shall be charged on such fixed rate loans according to whether the principal of a loan is repaid by instalments or at maturity and, if repaid by instalments, whether by equal instalments of the principal with interest paid on the decreasing balance of the principal (E.I.P.), or by instalments of equal repayments of the principal and interest paid thereon (E.R.);

III. The rates of such interest shall be:

FOOTNOTES

A. Except in accordance with clause 1(2)(c)(ii) holders of the Amateur Radio Licence (B) are not permitted to use frequencies below 144 MHz, nor may they use the type of transmission known as morse (whether sent manually or automatically).

B. Definition of types of transmission and classes of emission permitted:

Under the ITU classification (see section I) emissions are designated by groups of three characters. The types of transmissions defined here are grouped according to the third character, that is the type of information being used.

1. Morse: Morse telegraphy intended for aural reception using any classes of emission ending in A, i.e. A.

Telephony: Telephony using any classes of emission ending in E, i.e. E.

Television: Television using any classes of emission ending in F, i.e. F.

This may only be used where indicated on bands above 430 MHz and the station's callsign must be sent periodically using either morse telegraphy or telephony on the centre frequency of the video channel, as required by this licence.

2. When using any of the following types of transmission the station's callsign must be sent periodically on the same frequency using either morse telegraphy or telephony.

Radio Teletypewriter (RTTY): Automatic telegraphy using any classes of emission ending in B, i.e. B.

This includes teletypewriters using any CCITT recognised codes, and morse telegraphy intended for automatic reception.

Data: Data using any classes of emission ending in D, i.e. D. The Radio Regulations require that transmissions between amateur stations in different countries shall be in plain language. Transmissions between UK amateur stations and those in different countries shall be restricted to using CCITT recognised codes (in plain language); this requirement also applies to transmissions between UK amateur stations in all bands allocated to the Amateur Service on a secondary basis.

Facsimile: Facsimile using any classes of emission ending in C, i.e. C.

Slow Scan Television (SSTV): Television operating in a reduced bandwidth using any classes of emission ending in F, i.e. F. Simultaneous use of combinations of any of the preceding types of transmission, e.g. Telephony and Data, are described as classes of emission ending in W, i.e. W.

NB: The symbol "*" when used in emission designators represents any appropriate symbol as defined in section I.

C. Maximum power levels refer to the rf power supplied to the antenna. These levels will be specified by carrier power. For emissions having a suppressed, variable or reduced carrier, the power shall be determined by the peak envelope power (p.e.p.) under linear conditions.

For pulse emissions (P) the mean power shall not exceed the carrier power, and the peak power shall not exceed the p.e.p. specified on that band.

D. For frequency bands above 1 GHz, since high intensities of rf radiation may be harmful, the following safety precaution must be taken: in locations to which people have access, the power flux density on transmit must not exceed the limits recommended by the competent authorities. (Currently, this limit is 10mW per square centimetre.)

E. The bands allocated to the amateur service at 3.5, 7.0, 10.1, 14.0, 18.068, 21.0, 24.890 and 144 MHz may in the event of a natural disaster, be used by non-amateur stations to meet the needs of international disaster communications in the disaster area in accordance with the Radio Regulations.

F. The bandwidths of emissions shall be such as to ensure the most efficient utilisation of the spectrum; in general this requires that bandwidths be kept at the lowest values which technology and the nature of the service permit.

Where bandwidth-expansion techniques are used, the minimum spectral power density consistent with efficient spectrum utilisation shall be employed.

However, whatever class of emission is in use, the bandwidth occupied by the intended emission shall be such that not more than 1% of the mean power of the transmission shall fall outside of the authorised bands. This 1% does not include the power contained in harmonic and spurious emissions.

G. The class of emissions, type P, may only be used on bands above 1 GHz.

H. Primary, permitted and secondary services: For the purpose of this licence, bands are allocated to the Amateur Service and the Amateur Satellite Service on a primary basis on the understanding that they cannot claim protection from harmful interference from any other authorised services. This applies equally to bands allocated on a secondary basis where stations of the Amateur Service and the Amateur Satellite Service are also required not to cause harmful interference to stations of a primary or permitted service to which frequencies are already assigned or to which frequencies may be assigned at a later date.

I. Designation of emissions:

The symbols used to designate the classes of emission have the meaning assigned to them in the Radio Regulations, International Telecommunication Union (Geneva 1982).

The classification is specified by three symbols. The first denotes the type of modulation of the main carrier, the second the nature of the modulating signal(s), and the third the nature of the information to be transmitted

FIRST SYMBOL

Type of modulation of main carrier

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Emission of unmodulated carrier: | N |
| 2. Emission in which the main carrier is amplitude modulated, including cases where sub-carriers are angle modulated. | |
| Double sideband: | |
| Single sideband, full carrier: | A |
| Single sideband, reduced or variable carrier: | H |
| Single sideband, suppressed carrier: | R |
| Independent sideband: | J |
| Vestigial sideband: | B |
| 3. Emission in which the main carrier is angle modulated. | C |
| Frequency modulation: | F |
| Phase modulation: | G |
| 4. Emission in which the main carrier is amplitude or angle modulated either simultaneously or in a pre-arranged sequence: | D |
| 5. Emission of pulses. | |
| Unmodulated sequence of pulses: | P |
| A sequence of pulses | |
| (a) modulated in amplitude: | K |
| (b) modulated in width/duration: | L |
| (c) modulated in position/phase: | M |
| (d) in which the carrier is angle modulated during the period of the pulse: | Q |
| (e) which is a combination of the foregoing or is produced by other means: | V |
| 6. Cases not covered above, in which an emission consists of the main carrier modulated, either simultaneously or in a pre-established sequence, in a combination of two or more of the following types of transmission—amplitude, angle, pulse: | W |
| 7. Cases not otherwise covered: | X |
- Note: Emissions where the main carrier is directly modulated by a signal which has been coded into quantized form (e.g. pulse code modulation) should be designated under 2 or 3.

SECOND SYMBOL

Nature of signal(s) modulating main carrier

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. No modulating signal: | 0 |
| 2. A single channel containing quantized or digital information without the use of a modulating subcarrier (excluding time-division multiplex): | 1 |
| 3. A single channel containing quantized or digital information with the use of a modulating subcarrier (excluding time-division multiplex): | 2 |
| 4. A single channel containing analogue information: | 3 |
| 5. Two or more channels containing quantized or digital information: | 7 |
| 6. Two or more channels containing analogue information: | 8 |
| 7. Composite system with one or more channels containing quantized or digital information, together with one or more channels containing analogue information: | 9 |
| 8. Cases not otherwise covered: | X |

THIRD SYMBOL

Type of information to be transmitted

| 7. Television (video): | F |
| 8. Combination of the above: | W |
| 9. Cases not otherwise covered: | X |

Notes:

(a) In this context the word "information" does not include information of a constant, unvarying nature such as provided by standard frequency emissions, continuous wave and pulse radars etc.

(b) For the purposes of this licence, modulation used only for short periods and for incidental purposes, such as identification or calling, may be ignored when calculating the emission designator.

(c) For the purposes of this licence, Double Sideband emissions with reduced or suppressed carrier are included in the designation A.

J. Interpretation:

Gain of an Antenna: The ratio, usually expressed in decibels, of the power required at the input of a loss free reference antenna to the power supplied to the input of the given antenna to produce, in a given direction, the same field strength or the same power flux-density at the same distance. When not specified otherwise, the gain refers to the direction of maximum radiation. The gain may be considered for a specified polarisation. The reference antenna is usually either an isotropic antenna or a half-wave dipole. The gains may be referred to as decibels relative to an isotropic antenna (dBi) or as decibels relative to a half-wave dipole (dBd).

Equivalent Isotropically Radiated Power (e.i.r.p.): The product of the power supplied to the antenna and the antenna gain in a given direction relative to an isotropic antenna.

Effective Radiated Power (e.r.p.) (in a given direction): The product of the power supplied to the antenna and its gain relative to a half-wave dipole in a given direction.

By convention, e.r.p. is used below 1GHz, and e.i.r.p. above 1GHz; e.i.r.p. is 2.1dB greater than e.r.p.

Mean Power (of a radio transmitter): The average power supplied to the antenna by a transmitter during an interval of time sufficiently long compared with the lowest frequency encountered in the modulation taken under normal operating conditions.

Carrier Power (of a radio transmitter): The average power supplied to the antenna by a transmitter during one radio frequency cycle taken under the condition of no modulation.

Peak Envelope Power (p.e.p.) (of a radio transmitter): The average power supplied to the antenna by a transmitter during one radio frequency cycle at the crest of the modulation envelope taken under normal operating conditions.

Telegraphy: A form of telecommunication which is concerned in any process providing transmission and reproduction at a distance of documentary matter, such as written or printed matter or fixed images, or the reproduction at a distance of any kind of information in such a form.

For the purposes of the Radio Regulations, unless otherwise specified therein, telegraphy shall mean a form of telecommunication for the transmission of written matter by the use of a signal code.

Telephony: A form of telecommunication primarily intended for the exchange of information in the form of speech.

Television: A form of telecommunication for the transmission of transient images of fixed or moving objects.

Facsimile: A form of telegraphy for the transmission of fixed images, with or without half-tones, with a view to their reproduction in a permanent form.

These licence conditions represent the situation in the United Kingdom. Frequency allocations may differ from the international allocations given in Article 8 of the Radio Regulations.

WATER ACTS

NORTH WEST WATER AUTHORITY

DROUGHT ACT 1976

Water Abstractions from Windermere

Notice is hereby given that the North West Water Authority have applied to the Secretary of State for an Order under section 1 of the Drought Act 1976 to authorise for a temporary period (i.e., until 31st March 1985) a further variation of the conditions to which their abstraction of water from Windermere is subject.

The Authority's present powers of abstraction as amended by the recent North West Water Authority (Windermere) (Drought) Order 1984—S.I. 1984/1212 are to abstract up to 45 million gallons of water per day provided that the flow out of Windermere into the River Leven is not less than 7.5 million gallons per day. The releases of water into the River Leven to support their abstraction are however subject to the condition that the water level in Windermere immediately upstream of Newby Bridge Weir shall not normally be lowered to less than 127.5 feet AOD (Liverpool), before the 1st October 1984, and thereafter to less than 126 feet AOD (Liverpool).

The only circumstances when the water level in Windermere can be drawn down below 127.5 feet before 1st October 1984 is if the water in store in Haweswater, Thirlmere and Wet Sleddale is less than 8,000 million gallons.

The Authority are now applying for further powers to enable them to continue abstractions after the 1st October 1984 when the level in Windermere is less than 126 feet AOD (Liverpool) whenever:

- (i) the volume of water in store in Haweswater, Thirlmere and Wet Sleddale is less than 8,000 million gallons, and
- (ii) the level of water in Ullswater is less than 472.6 feet AOD (Liverpool).

NOTE. The Authority have also applied to the Secretary of State for the Environment for an Order authorising the temporary removal of the weir in their Ullswater intake at Gale Bay and the abstraction of water down to a lake level of 472.6 feet. Condition (ii) above is therefore dependent on the Secretary of State approving the Authority's application for Ullswater.

Any objections to the proposed Order must be made in writing to the Secretary of State for the Environment, Rooms B545 and B464, Romney House, 43 Marsham Street, London SW1P 3EB, within 7 days of publication of this notice and it is requested that a copy of any such objection to be sent at the same time to W. H. Crackle, Secretary and Solicitor, North West Water Authority, Dawson House, Great Sankey, Warrington WA5 3LW.

A map showing the locations of the Authority's abstraction from Windermere and the Newby Bridge Weir may be inspected during normal office hours for a period of seven days from the publication of this notice at the Authority's offices at Oakland House, Talbot Road, Old Trafford, Manchester, and Mintsfeet Road South, Kendal, Cumbria.
