HEALTH AND SAFETY EXECUTIVE

SPECIAL EXEMPTION ORDER

Changes in the legislation which restrict the hours worked by women and young people age under 18 employed in factories, introduced by the Sex Discrimination Act 1986, took effect on 27th February 1987, although the prohibition on women working at night remained in force until 26th February 1988. The provisions in the Factories Act 1961 and related legislation now apply only to young people.

Section 117 of the Factories Act 1961 remains thereby enabling the Health and Safety Executive (HSE), subject to certain conditions, to grant exemptions from these restrictions for young people aged 16 and 17 by making special exemption orders in respect of employment in particular factories. Orders are valid for a maximum of one year, although exemptions may be continued in response to renewed applications.

During the quarter ended March 1989, the H.S.E. granted or renewed special exemption orders relating to the employment of 3,432 young persons. On the day of the count a grand total of 10,990 young persons were covered by 1,515 orders. (15SI)
