Town and Country Planning

Amber Valley Borough Council

PLANNING (LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS) ACT 1990 SECTION 69: EXTENSION TO BELPER AND MILFORD CONSERVATION AREAS

TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (GENERAL PERMITTED DEVELOPMENT) ORDER 1995

NOTICE OF CONFIRMATION OF ARTICLE 4(2) DIRECTION: BELPER AND MILFORD CONSERVATION AREA

Notice is hereby given that at the meeting of the Cabinet on 16 July 2003, Amber Valley Borough Council, in exercise of its duty to determine which parts of its area are special historical or architectural interest, the character or appearance of which it is desirable to preserve or enhance, has extended the boundaries of Belper and Milford Conservation Areas and formed a single conservation area. It has also confirmed a Direction pursuant to Article 4(2) of the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995.

The conservation areas have been extended to include:

Crossroads and Dalley Farm to the north, the wash lands of the River Derwent to the north-west and the area between the south of Belper town centre and Milford. A listed firing range wall and North Lane together with adjacent walls and trees to the west of Milford. To the North of Milford wooded areas including Chevin Wood and Swainsley Plantation. To the south of Milford the route of the railway line and land adjacent.

The effect of the Article 4(2) Direction and conservation area is that from 16 July certain types of development may no longer be carried out without the grant of planning permission. Certain development at residential properties that would front a waterway, highway or open space now requires planning permission. The demolition of most buildings requires consent and anyone proposing to carry out works to trees in the conservation area is required to give prior notice to the Borough Council. The Borough Council will take into account in exercising certain functions including the determination of planning applications, the desirability of preserving or enhancing the character or appearance of the conservation area. Certain planning applications will be advertised and representations taken into account.

A plan showing the extent of the designated area, a copy of the Direction and full details of the effects are available for inspection at Amber Valley Borough Council, Town Hall, Ripley, Derbyshire during office hours.

RESTRICTION ON THE USE OF LEAD SHOT

The Government wishes to announce proposed changes to The Environmental Protection (Restriction on the Use of Lead Shot) (England) Regulations 1999 as amended.

In November 1999, following the introduction of the Regulations, the Government announced that a Review Group would be set up particularly to review the list of wetland sites covered by the Regulations in light of the first year's experience. The Group concluded that some changes were required to ensure that the Regulations operated appropriately and effectively so as to achieve their objective whilst minimising unnecessary restrictions on shooting and land management. During 2001 a public consultation exercise was undertaken in order to formally consult involved parties on the recommendations put forward by the Lead Shot Legislation (England) Review Group. Ministers agreed the recommendations put forward. However, in laying the amending Regulations last August five errors occurred. The new amendments will correct those errors. Except for Stanford Training error, which is an erroneous error, all were subject to public consultation and Ministerial agreement. It is proposed that the date that these Regulations will come into force is 31 October 2003. A copy of the draft Regulation may be inspected at Temple Quay House, 2 The Square, Temple Quay, Bristol BS1 6EB (contact Sarah Jones, telephone 0117 372 6236). From the date of advertising there is fourteen days in which to make representations. All representations should be sent to the above address.

The proposed amendments to Schedule 1 for the Regulations shall be as follows:

Site of Special Scientific Interest	Date of notification under section 28(1)(c) of the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981	Location (Ordnance Survey Grid Ref see note below)	Action
Avon Valley	9 August 1985	SP 066 476	To be removed from Schedule 1
River Derwent and Tributaries	11 September 1997	NY 159 239	To be removed from Schedule 1
Stanford Training Area	1 August 1985	TL 866 945	To be removed from Schedule 1
The New Forest	28 February 1996	SU 224 075	To be removed from Schedule 1
Tweed Estuary			To be added to Schedule 1

NOTE. The Ordnance Survey National Grid Ref gives a point within the site of special scientific interest.

NOTE TO EDITORS:

During the late 1990's the United Kingdom Government worked together with shooting, farming and conservation organisations, along with the gun and ammunition industry, to phase out the use of lead shot over wetlands in the United Kingdom.

Since 1991, the UK Lead Poisoning in Waterfowl Working Group has encouraged the development of alternatives to lead shot and encouraged people who shoot in or near wetlands, where it would pose a threat of poisoning to waterfowl, to switch to non-toxic alternatives.

Following a four-year voluntary phase-out of lead shot, on 1 September 1999 the Government introduced new regulations, the Environmental Protection (Restriction on Use of Lead Shot) (England) Regulations 1999 SI No 2170, to prohibit the use of lead shot over certain wetlands and for waterfowl shooting in England. The objective of these Regulations was to protect waterfowl against poisoning from lead shot and to help the United Kingdom meet its commitment under the African-Eurasian Waterbird Agreement (AEWA) to endeavour to phase out the use of lead shot over wetlands by the year 2000. The Regulations were not intended to unnecessarily restrict shooting but to alter shooting practices, and to ensure that spent lead shot does not cause unnecessary deaths. In Northern Ireland, Wales and Scotland this is a matter for the devolved administrations. Following introduction of the Regulations, the Government announced on 9 November 1999 that a Review Group would be set up particularly to review the list of wetland sites covered by the Regulations as well as the effectiveness of the Regulations in the light of the first year's experience. The Government therefore convened the Lead Shot Legislation (England) Review Group. The Group comprised of representatives from conservation, land owning, farming, shooting and ammunition industry organisations.

The Group considered issues relating to the list of sites in Schedule 1 and to the effectiveness of the Regulations. The Group concluded that some changes were required to ensure that the Regulations operated appropriately and effectively so as to achieve their objective while also minimising unnecessary restrictions on shooting and land management. The Group's recommendations were set out in a formal Report.

During 2001 a public consultation exercise was undertaken on the recommendations put forward by the Lead Shot Legislation (England) Review Group in their final report.

The majority of changes were undertaken in August 2002. However, during the drafting and laying of the amended Regulations, five errors occurred. Specifically, three sites remained on the list that should have been removed, one site did not go onto the list, and one site was placed onto the list in error. No errors occurred when amending Schedule 2.

It was agreed through public consultation and by Ministerial agreement that the New Forest, Avon Valley (Hereford) and River Derwent and Tributaries (Cumbria) should be removed from the list of sites as not being important to waterfowl and the Tweed Estuary should remain because it has significant importance for these species. Stanford Training Area was neither subject to public consultation nor to Ministerial approval and is therefore being removed as an erroneous addition.

Once in force a copy of the amending Regulations can be obtained, free of charge, from Defra Publications, Admail 6000, London SW1A 2XX, telephone 08459 556000. (507)
