Countries, I can make no Doubt, but you will, in your respective Stations, exert your selves in promoting His Majetty's Service, with the same Zeal and Spirit which you have shewn in the Course of this Selsion, and which so highly becomes a People truly sensible of the Happinels they enjoy under His Majesty's most gracious Government.

I think myself obliged at this Time, when Corn bears so excessive a Rate, to recommend to your particular Care, the preventing all Abuses of Forestallers and others which may enhance the Price of it, to the Detriment of the Kingdom, and the Oppression of the Poor.

Nothing could be more acceptable to me, than to find by the Addresses of both Houses, that my Endeavours for the publick Service have been to your Satisfaction: The many Marks of Loyalty and Affection which you have shewn to His Majesty's Sacred Person and Royal Family, during my Administration, lay me under the highest Obligations to promote the Good of this Kingdom upon all Occasions to the utmost of my Power; and I shall, on my Return into His Majesty's Presence, make a faithful Representation to His Majesty of your most loyal and dutiful Behaviour.
