Whitehall, May 5.

Information having been given to the Lords of the Admiralty, that a finall Privateer from St. Sebastian was cruizing on the Coast of France, their Lordships ordered two Tenders, each mann'd with a Lieutenant and Seamen from the Men of War, to fail in quest of her, under the Command of Lieutenant Warwick Calmady, of the Advice; they sailed from the Downs the 26th past at Three in the Morning, and the next Day in the Forenoon they came up with her off Cape Havre, took her, and brought her into the Downs: She is a Barcalongo of thirty Tons, mounted with four Carriage and fix Swivel Guns, and mann'd with forty-five Men. One of the Men was killed in the Action; several jumped over board to swim on Shore, some of which were drowned; and seventeen were brought in Prisoners. This Privateer had taken two Prizes, one of which was an empty Sloop, and the other a Vessel laden with Salt for Newfoundland. Lieutenant Calmady, with the Tenders, called at Havre de Grace, and brought away four English Merchant Ships which kept in that Port for Fear of the Privateer, and convoyed them fafe over to the Coast of England.
