POISONS

The Minister of Home Affairs has made the Poisons (Amending) (No. 2) Regulations (Northern Ireland), 1958, which impose appropriate restrictions and requirements regarding the new substances now added to the Poisons Schedule.

Restrictions have been made upon the sale of monofluoroacetic acid and its salts, similar to the restrictions already placed upon the sale of strychnine; provision is made for its sale to certain persons for use as a rodenticide on production of a prescribed certificate. Special restrictions are imposed on fluoroacetamide and fluoroacetanilide but relaxation is given for preparations for agriculture, horticulture or the destruction of rats and mice.

Under the Pharmacy and Poisons Act (Northern Ireland) and the Poison Regulations (Northern Ireland), 1956, the container in which a poison is sold is required to be labelled with the name of the poison, and for this purpose names given in the British Pharmacopoeia, the British Pharmaceutical Codex or the National Formulary are permissible. These Regulations now place the British Veterinary Codex in the same position. The change of name of the national Formulary to the British National Formulary has been recognised.

These Regulations come into operation on 1st February, 1959, and bring the Northern Ireland Poison Law generally into line with that in Great Britain.

Copies of the Regulations S.R. & O. (N.I.) (No. 199) may be obtained from Her Majesty's Stationery Office, or through any bookseller.
