DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRY

BRITISH TELECOMMUNICATIONS ACT 1981

(c. 38)

Licence under Section 68.

1. The Secretary of State, in exercise of the powers conferred on him by section 68 of the British Telecommunications Act 1981 and after consultation with the Post Office, hereby grants to the persons specified in paragraph 3 below a licence to do any of the acts and perform any of the services specified in paragraph 4 below (being acts and services falling within the exclusive privilege of the Post Office of conveying letters as mentioned in section 66(1) of that Act), but subject to the conditions specified in paragraph 5 below and to the provisions as to revocation specified in paragraph 7 below.

2. For the purpose of this licence—

(1) "document exchange" means any premises on which facilities are provided—

(a) for the receipt of letters which—

(i) are to be conveyed from those premises and delivered to other premises on which similar facilities are provided, or

(ii) have been conveyed to and delivered at those premises from such other premises; and

(b) for the collection and taking delivery of such letters;

(2) "document exchange operator", in relation to premises on which such facilities are provided, means the person providing them, and, where they are provided by an unincorporated association of persons, any of those persons, and "operator" shall be construed accordingly;

(3) "member", in relation to a document exchange, means a person who has made written arrangements with the operator of that exchange for the use of any such facilities for a period of not less than three months beginning with the date on which the arrangements were made, and includes an unincorporated association of persons which has made such arrangements; and

(4) "person" includes an incorporated body.

3. The persons referred to in paragraph 1 above are—

(a) any document exchange operator;

(b) any employee of a document exchange operator; and

(c) any other person authorised by a document exchange operator to act on his behalf for the purpose of doing any of the acts or performing any of the services specified in paragraph 4 below.

4. The said acts and services are—

(a) the receipt of letters at, and their collection from, a document exchange; and
