3. For the purposes of this licence fully cooked meat and meat products (including pigmeat products) in hermetically sealed containers which are on sale to the public in countries of the European Community (including Sardinia and the whole of Spain) and which can be stored at ambient temperature shall be presumed to have been produced in accordance with the requirements of Article 4 of Directive 80/215.

Hermetically sealed containers are any containers which are designed and intended to protect the contents against the entry of micro-organisms both during and after heat treatment. They include cans, glass jars and flexible pouches.

4. Under Regulation 23 of the Products of Animal Origin (Import and Export) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1993, in the event of the occurrence in another country of a disease, zoonosis or other cause liable to present a serious threat to public or animal health, the Department of Agriculture for Northern Ireland may issue a declaration giving notice of the problem. Such a declaration may specify types of meat products which may not be imported from the affected country or region.

5. Under Council Directive 90/667/EEC the term "high risk" material includes:

- (a) meat and products from all bovine animals, pigs, goats, sheep, solipeds, poultry and all other animals kept for agricultural production, which have died or been killed on the farm but were not slaughtered for human consumption, including stillborn and unborn animals;
- (b) meat and products from animals other than those slaughtered for human consumption, which are killed in the context of disease control measures.
- (c) animal by-products including blood originating from animals which show, during the veterinary inspection carried out at the time of slaughtering, signs of disease communicable to man or other animals;
- (d) with the exception of hides, skins, hooves, feathers, wool, horns, hair, blood and similar products, all those parts of animals slaughtered in the normal way which are not presented for post mortem inspection;
- (e) all meat, poultrymeat, fish, game and foodstuffs of animal origin which are spoiled in such a way as to present a risk to human and animal health;
- (f) meat and products from farm animals which have died in transit other than those slaughtered for reasons of welfare;
- (g) animal by-products containing residues of substances which may pose a danger to human or animal health; milk, meat or products of animal origin rendered unfit for human consumption by the presence of such residues.

6. Nothing in this licence gives exemption from any prohibition or restriction imposed by the Imported Food Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1991, or the Medicines Acts 1968 and 1971 or by any regulations superseding or amending the same.

7. Any breach of any condition attached to this licence will constitute an offence against the Diseases of Animals (Northern Ireland) Order 1981.

8. Prospective importers are advised to check the current situation with Department of Agriculture, Animal Health Br I, Room 714, Dundonald House, Upper Newtownards Road, Belfast BT4 3SB, Telephone: Belfast 524824, 524825, 524289.

The regulations come into operation on 1st August, 1994.

The regulations give effect in part to Council Directive 89/677/EEC (O.J. No. L398, 30.12.1989, p. 19) which amended Council Directive 79/769/EEC (O.J. No. L262, 27.9.76, p.201) on the approximation of the laws, regulations and administrative provisions of the member States relating to restrictions on the marketing and use of certain dangerous substances and preparations.

Regulation 4 prohibits the use of certain lead paint other than its use, under certain conditions, for the restoration or maintenance of historic buildings and their interiors or of works of art.

Regulations 5, 6 and 7 prohibit the use of mercury compounds for the impregnation of heavy-duty textiles, mercury, arsenic and organostannic compounds for the treatment of industrial waters, and DBB in a concentration of, or above, 0.1 per cent unless it is for conversion into finished products with a concentration below that level.

Regulation 8 makes it a criminal offence to contravene regulations 4 to 7, the penalty for which, on summary conviction, is a fine not exceeding £2,000. On conviction on indictment the penalty is a fine, or a term of imprisonment not exceeding 2 years, or both.

The Department of the Environment has made a Statutory Rule entitled The Marketing and Use of Dangerous Substances (No. 3) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1994 (S.R. 1994 No. 224).

The regulations come into operation on 1st August, 1994.

The regulations give effect to Council Directive 91/339/EEC (O.J. No. L186, 12.7.91, p.64) which amended Council Directive 79/769/EEC (O.J. No. L262, 27.9.76, p. 201) on the approximation of the laws, regulations and administrative provisions of the Member States relating to restrictions on the marketing and use of certain dangerous substances and preparations.

Regulation 4 prohibits the marketing and use of the substance known as Ugilec 141 and of preparations and products (including plant and machinery) containing Ugilec 141, subject to exceptions in relation to certain plant and machinery in service on 18th June, 1994.

Regulations 5 and 6 prohibit the marketing and use of the substances known as Ugilec 121 or Ugilec 21, and DBBT.

Regulation 7 makes it a criminal offence to contravene regulation 4, 5 or 6, the penalty for which, on summary conviction, is a fine not exceeding £2,000. On conviction on indictment the penalty is a fine, or a term of imprisonment not exceeding 2 years, or both.

The Department of the Environment has made a Statutory Rule entitled The Marketing and Use of Dangerous Substances Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1994 (S.R. 1994 No. 222).

The regulations come into operation on 1st August, 1994.

The regulations give effect to certain requirements of Council Directive 79/769/EEC (O.J. No. L262, 27.9.76, p. 201), as amended, which relate to restrictions on the marketing and use of polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) and polychlorinated terphenyls (PCTs). Council Directive 83/478/EEC (O.J. No. L263, 24.9.83, p.33) redesignated the Annex to the 1976 Directive as Annex 1. Council Directive 85/467 (O.J. No. L269, 11.10.85, p.56) provided for the phasing out of the use of PCBs and PCTs, and Council

Directive 89/677 (O.J. No. 398, 30.12.89, p.19) reduced the allowable concentration of PCBs and PCTs in preparations.

Regulation 2 defines "dangerous substance" as a substance which is a PCB or PCT, or a preparation (as defined in that regulation) or a waste oil with a PCB or PCT content of more than 0.005 per cent. by weight.

Regulation 3 sets out certain operations to which the regulations do not apply.

Regulation 4, read with the Schedule, prohibits the use of certain dangerous substances, subject to certain exceptions. In particular the Department is given power to except any manufacturing process by means of which a dangerous substance will cease to be a substance which is prohibited by Directive 76/769/EEC as amended and which will not in its opinion constitute a danger to health or the environment (regulation 4(2)(c)). The continued use of dangerous substances is not prohibited where the use is one included in the Schedule to these Regulations but only if the equipment, plant or fluid containing the dangerous substance was in service before 30th June, 1986 (regulation 4(2)(a)).

Regulation 5 lays down procedural requirements regarding exemptions under regulation 4(2)(c) (which relates to certain powers of the Department to approve processes).

Regulation 6 prohibits the second hand marketing, other than for disposal, of dangerous substances or equipment, plant or fluids containing them.

Regulation 7 makes it a criminal offence to contravene regulations 4 to 6, the penalty for which, on summary conviction, is a fine not exceeding £2,000. On conviction on indictment the penalty is a fine, or a term of imprisonment not exceeding 2 years, or both. It also provides that it shall be a defence for an accused person to prove that he took all reasonable steps and exercised all due diligence to avoid committing an offence.

These regulations replace, with certain amendments, the provisions of the Control of Pollution (Supply and Use of Injurious Substances) Regulations 1986, (S.I. 1986/902) which have ceased to have effect in Northern Ireland by virtue of the repeal by section 162 of, and Part IX of Schedule 16 to, the Environmental Protection Act 1990 (1990 c.43) of section 100 of the Control of Pollution Act 1974 (1974 c.40) under which they were made.
