Department of the EnvironmentTHE DEPARTMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT HAS MADE A STATUTORY RULE ENTITLED THE MOTOR VEHICLES (WEARING OF SEAT BELTS) (AMENDMENT) REGULATIONS (NORTHERN IRELAND) 2007 (S.R. 2007 NO. 7)

These Regulations make provision relating to the wearing of seat belts and other restraints by children and adults in motor vehicles.

They amend the Road Traffic (Northern Ireland) Order 1995 (the “Road Traffic Order”) and the Road Traffic Offenders (Northern Ireland) Order 1996 (the “Offenders Order”). They implement requirements of Council Directive 2003/20/EC (OJ No L115 9.5.2003, p. 63).

Regulation 4(1) inserts a new paragraph (1A) into Article 24 of the Road Traffic Order to provide that a child should not be transported in the front of a motor vehicle other than a bus using a rear-facing child restraint unless any front air bag has been deactivated entirely or is designed or adapted in such a way that it cannot inflate enough to pose a risk of injury to a child travelling in a rear-facing child restraint. Transporting a child in a motor vehicle other than a bus in circumstances where the front air bag has not been so deactivated or is not so designed is made an offence (regulation 4(2)) punishable on summary conviction with a maximum fine of level 2 on the standard scale (see regulation 7 which makes consequential changes to the Offenders Order to this effect).

Regulation 4(3) amends Article 24(3) of the Road Traffic Order to prohibit, except as provided by regulations, a motor vehicle being driven with a child under the age of 3 years in the rear of the vehicle unless the child is restrained by a seat belt conforming with regulations. The amended Article 24(3) also applies the same prohibition to a child aged 3 or more but less than 14 where any seat belt is fitted in the rear of the vehicle.

The Regulations (regulation 5) also insert a new Article 24A into the Road Traffic Order requiring bus operators to take reasonable steps to ensure that bus passengers are notified that they are required to wear a seat belt. This may be done, by means of an announcement by the driver or by a courier, conductor or group leader or by means of an audio-visual presentation or by signs displayed at every seating position. New Article 24A(2) of, and schedule 2A, to the Road Traffic Order also specify a form of sign which may be used to meet the notification requirement (regulation 5 and 6). A new Article 24B defines a “local service”.

Operators who fail to take reasonable steps to ensure passengers are notified as set out above are guilty of an offence (regulation 5). Consequentially amendments to the Offenders Order make the offence punishable on summary conviction with a maximum fine of up to level 4 on the standard scale (regulation 7).

The requirement to notify bus passengers does not apply where the bus is being used to provide a local service in a built up area or where the bus is constructed or adapted for the carriage of standing passengers on services in which standing is permitted.

A copy of the regulatory impact assessment has been produced and may be obtained from the Department of the Environment, Road Safety Division website at www.roadsafetvni.gov.uk.

The Department of the Environment has made a Statutory Rule entitled The Motor Vehicles (Wearing of Seat Belts by Children in Front Seats) (Amendment) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2007 (S.R. 2007 No. 9). These Regulations, which come into operation on 27th February 2007-01-23

These Regulations make provision relating to the wearing of seat belts and other restraints by children in the front of motor vehicles.

They amend the Motor Vehicles (Wearing of Seat Belts by Children in Front Seats) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1993 (the "Principal Regulations"); They implement for Northern Ireland requirements of Council Directive 2003/20/EC (OJ No L115 9.5.2003, p. 63).

The Regulations prescribe the types of seat belt or child restraints to be worn in the front seats of motor vehicles by children under 14 of different ages and sizes. Different provision is made depending on whether a child is a "small child" or a "large child". Regulation 3 amends the definition of a "small child" for the purposes of the Principal Regulations so that a "small child" is now a child aged under 12 years and less than 135 centimetres rather than 150 centimetres in height. A "large child", for the purposes of the Principal Regulations, is a child under 14 years who is not a "small child".

The Regulations also amend the exceptions in relation to the prohibition against driving a motor vehicle with a child in the front of the vehicle unrestrained by the appropriate restraint. In particular, the exception allowing small children aged 3 or over to wear adult belts in cases where no appropriate child restraint is available for them is removed, except in relation to buses. Also removed are exceptions for children under 1 year travelling in a carry cot and for children riding unrestrained in the front seat of a motor car first used before 1st January 1965, where that car has no rear seat and no seat belt is provided which is appropriate for the child. The existing exception for a child riding in a vehicle which is being used to provide a local service is replaced with an exemption for a child riding in a bus—

- (a) which is providing a local service in a built up area; or
- (b) which is constructed of adapted for the carriage of standing passengers and on which standing is permitted.

The Regulations also amend the description of the types of child restraint (or adult belt, in the case of large children) which may be worn in order to permit restraints or belts approved by other member States to be worn in all classes of motor vehicle. Previously restraints approved by other member States could only be worn in a "relevant vehicle", that is to say, light goods vehicles, passenger cars and small buses.

A separate regulatory impact assessment has not been prepared for this instrument. Reference should instead be made to the regulatory impact assessment prepared in relation to the Wearing of Seat Belts Amendment Regulations which provides an assessment of the impact of the changes made both by those Regulations and these Regulations. A copy of that regulatory impact assessment has been produced and may be obtained from the Department of the Environment Road Safety Division website at www.roadsafetyni.gov.uk.
