LOCAL GOVERNMENT (SCOTLAND) ACT, 1889.

COUNTY COUNCIL ELECTIONS.

Order by the Secretary for Scotland, under Section 108.

I THE Most Honourable Schomberg Henry, Marquis of Lothian, K.T., Her Majesty's Secretary for Scotland, considering that certain difficulties have arisen as to holding the first Election of County Councillors in Scotland, in pursuance of the Local Government (Scotland) Act, 1889, and that it is necessary to remove such difficulties, Do hereby, in virtue of the powers vested in me by Section one hundred and eight of the before-mentioned Act, Order as follows:—

1. Any notice required by the Acts regulating Municipal Elections in Scotland, or by the Ballot Act, 1872, or by the Local Government (Scotland) Act, 1889, to be given within a certain time, shall be deemed to be duly given if it is delivered at any Post Office in Scotland within the statutory period, addressed to the Police Officer, or other person who is directed by the Returning Officer or his Deputy to post up the same, and is posted up as required by law as soon as practicable after receipt thereof by such officer or other person.

2. The nomination papers shall be delivered for the County Clerk at such office or place as the Returning Officer may specify in the Notice of Election, and may be delivered by any person, or may be sent by post, provided always that they are actually delivered at the specified office or place, not later than four o'clock afternoon on the second Tuesday preceding the day of Election. Any Elector who sends to the Returning Officer or County Clerk an envelope stamped and addressed, shall have a form of Nomination Paper posted to him.

3. The Ballot Boxes and other requisites for the Election, properly sealed up and secured, may, where practicable, be sent to the Presiding Officers by Parcels Post, or by such other mode of conveyance as may be approved of by the Returning Officer or his Deputy; and after the poll, the Ballot Boxes, Ballot Papers, and other documents and things required to be transmitted to the Returning Officer or his Deputy, properly sealed up and secured, may in like manner be transmitted to such Returning Officer or his Deputy.

4. It shall be no objection to the use of a stamping instrument at an Election, that the official mark on it has been used at an Election in the same County within the previous seven years, nor shall it be necessary to have the same official mark for all the Electoral Divisions in a County, provided always that within each Electoral Division only one official mark shall be used.

5. Immediately on the receipt of the Ballot Box or Boxes from any Electoral Division, or as soon thereafter as may be convenient, the Returning Officer or his Deputy may, without regard to the hour, count the votes for that Division, and forthwith declare the result of the poll therefor. The votes may be counted and the results of the polls declared at any place which the Returning Officer may appoint. The declaration of the due Election of Candidates returned unopposed shall be made on the day succeeding the Election, at the place appointed for the counting of the votes.

6. Where the number of voters appointed to poll at any polling station does not exceed 300, it shall not be necessary for the Returning Officer or his Deputy to appoint a Poll Clerk to act at such polling station.

7. Presiding Officers, Clerks, and Assistants shall be deemed to be properly appointed and authorised to act in or for any Electoral Division, if their names be contained in a List, entitled 'Presiding Officers for the County Council Election of shire' (or as the case may be), and subscribed by the Returning Officer or his Deputy; and a circular addressed to these persons respectively intimating their appointment by the Returning Officer or his Deputy, or by the Sheriff Clerk or his Deputy, shall be deemed sufficient evidence of such appointments if challenged.

Given under my hand and seal at the Office of the Secretary for Scotland, Whitehall, the 11th day of December 1889.
