BOARD OF TRADE, WHITEHALL GARDENS,
June 22, 1891.

Her Majesty the Queen has been graciously pleased to confer the Decoration of the Albert Medal of the Second Class on—

WILLIAM SEED, Chief of Police, Gibraltar, and WILLIAM M'QUE, Corporal, 3rd Battalion,
King's Royal Rifles.

The following is an account of the services in respect of which the Decoration has been conferred:—

On the occasion of the sinking of the British steam ship 'Utopia,' through collision, off Gibraltar, on the 17th March 1891, when 551 lives were lost, a number of boats were put out by the vessels of the Channel Squadron to the assistance of the shipwrecked persons.

The launch of Her Majesty's ship 'Immortalité,' while engaged in the work of rescue, fouled her screw, became uncontrollable, and was beaten on to the shore near the breakwater, where she eventually became a total wreck. Two of her crew were drowned, two others swam safely ashore, and the remainder, with eight emigrants from the 'Utopia,' were rescued in an exhausted condition by officers and men of the Port Department and of the King's Royal Rifles.

Among the rescuers, WILLIAM SEED, Chief of Police, and Corporal WILLIAM M'QUE, of the Rifles, particularly distinguished themselves.

Although the night was intensely dark, with a strong gale blowing, and a strong current and heavy sea dashing on the breakwater (which is a low line of jagged rocks, giving no foothold outside the wall of the fortifications), they plunged into the waves with ropes, and, although washed back on the rocks, renewed their attempt until they succeeded in reaching the launch, which was eighty yards off shore, when the rescue was effected.
