[ABERDEEN, No. 4.—FOUNDATION OF CHALMERS
CHAIR OF ENGLISH LITERATURE.]

At Edinburgh, the sixteenth day of October Eighteen hundred and ninety-three years.

WHEREAS by the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1889, the Commissioners under the said Act are empowered by Section 14, Sub-section 8, to found new Professorships where such course seems desirable, and where there are sufficient means for their endowment or support either from the funds administered by the Commissioners or otherwise, and to determine in what authority the patronage of such Professorships shall be vested.

And whereas by assignation, dated the Twenty-second, and recorded in the Division of the General Register of Sasines applicable to the County of Aberdeen on the Twenty-fifth, both days of March, Eighteen hundred and ninety-three, the Trustees acting under the General Trust Disposition and Settlement and relative Codicils of the late John Gray Chalmers, sometime residing at Balnacraig, Banchory, have assigned, transferred, and made over to the University of Aberdeen, and the University Court thereof, a Bond and Disposition in security for the sum of Ten Thousand Pounds sterling, granted by Ainslie Douglas Ainslie, Esquire of Delgaty, in the County of Aberdeen, dated the Twenty-third, and recorded in the Division of the General Register of Sasines applicable to the County of Aberdeen on the Twenty-eighth, both days of December, Eighteen hundred and ninety-one: And whereas by Deed of Foundation and Endowment, dated the Third day of April, Eighteen hundred and ninety-three, executed in pursuance of the directions contained in the said testamentary writings, the said Trustees directed and appointed that the said sum should be held by the said University of Aberdeen and the University Court thereof for the purposes, and subject to the conditions and provisions following, videlicet:—In the first place, That the bequest of the said sum of Ten Thousand Pounds be regarded as a memorial of the long connection of the family, to which the said deceased John Gray Chalmers belonged, with Aberdeen and its University. In the second place, That the said capital sum of Ten Thousand Pounds and any accumulations of interest thereon shall be applied and held for the Foundation and Endowment of a Professorship of English Literature in the University of Aberdeen to be called 'The

Chalmers Chair of English Literature in the University of Aberdeen.' In the third place, That the Patronage of the said Professorship shall be in the gift and appointment of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen and her Royal Successors. In the fourth place, That the said University Court shall hold and invest the said sum of Ten Thousand Pounds and any accumulations of interest thereon as a separate fund distinct from the other funds of the University. In the fifth place, That the said University Court shall apply the annual income arising from the said sum and from any invested accumulations of interest thereon, along with the fees payable by students for attendance on the lectures or classes conducted by the Professor holding the said Professorship, or such share of a fee fund, should such be instituted by the said University Court or otherwise, as may accrue or be payable to the said Professor, in payment of the salary of the said Professor. In the sixth place, That the said Professor shall be bound to teach or lecture in conformity with the provisions for the Department of English contained in the Ordinance No. 11, General No. 6, of the foresaid Commissioners under 'The Universities (Scotland) Act, 1889,' or in any other Ordinances now in force, or which may hereafter be enacted by the foresaid Commissioners, and thereafter according to whatever Ordinances or other Regulations may be in force for the time being in the University of Aberdeen, regarding the Department of English. In the seventh place, That, on or before the appointment of the said Professor, arrangements be made for the discontinuance of the Lectures on English Literature at present delivered by the Professor of Logic. In the eighth place, That the chief subject of the Professorship shall be the History and Criticism of English Literature, both Prose and Verse, including that portion of it known as Lowland Scotch; but the said Professor shall also be bound to give systematic instruction in (a), the principles of English Style and Composition and Essay Writing, including the principles of Rhetoric; and (b), the Philology of the English Language. In the ninth place, That the said Professor shall be bound and obliged, if required by the said University Court, in addition to teaching the class or classes of Art students according to the immediately preceding provision, to give a separate course of a more popular character, and available for students paying a modified entrance fee in place of a matriculation fee; and that, subject to any regulations made, or to be made, by the said University Court, attendance on this latter class be accepted in the case of students studying for a Degree in Law, and not already possessed of an Arts Degree. In the tenth place, That, in the event of the recognition of Assistants to Professors as an ordinary part of the University teaching staff, the said Professor shall have an equal claim with other Professors in the Faculty of Arts to the services of an assistant. In the eleventh place, That the said Professor shall be entitled to all the privileges, and the full position of a Professor in the University, including right to pension after service, but, at the same time, shall be subject to the whole bye-laws, conditions, and regulations in force for the time being affecting Professors. In the twelfth place, That, should changing circumstances require any variation or alteration on the conditions and provisions contained and set forth in the foregoing paragraphs, in the sixth, eighth, ninth, and eleventh places respectively, it shall be in the power of the University Court of the University of Aberdeen for the time being to initiate the procedure under the 'Universities (Scotland) Act, 1889,' or any Act amending the same necessary to carry into effect such variations or alterations as they may deem expedient; but before such procedure is initiated, and before such variations or alterations come into operation, or become of any force or effect, they must be submitted to, and approved of in writing by the Trustees foresaid, or the survivors or survivor of them, and after the death of the last survivor must, in like manner, be submitted to, and approved of in writing by, the Chancellor of the University of Aberdeen for the time being.

Therefore the Commissioners under the said Act statute and ordain with reference to the University of Aberdeen as follows:—
