PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the "Burial Grounds (Scotland) Act, 1855," as amended by "The Secretary for Scotland Act, 1885," it is enacted that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty from time to time, by Order in Council, upon the Representation of the Secretary for Scotland, that a copy of an Interlocutor of a Sheriff of a County of Scotland under certain provisions of the said firstly named Act has been received, in pursuance thereof, to order that no new burial ground shall be opened within certain limits specified in such Order, save with the previous approval of the Secretary for Scotland (or as the case may require) that after a time mentioned in such Order burials within certain limits, or in certain burial grounds or places of burial shall be discontinued wholly or subject to any exceptions or qualifications mentioned in such Order, and that such Order in Council shall thereupon have like force and effect as if the same were embodied in the said firstly named Act: Provided always that notice of such Representation, and of the time it shall please Her Majesty to order the same to be taken into consideration by the Privy Council, shall be transmitted to the Crown Agent in Edinburgh, and the Sheriff Clerk of the County in which such burial ground is situated; and that the same shall be by them respectively published in the Edinburgh Gazette, and fixed on the doors of the Church of, or on some other conspicuous places within, the Parishes affected by such Representation, one month before such Representation is so considered:

And whereas the Secretary for Scotland has, under the provisions of the Burial Grounds (Scotland) Act, 1855, made a Representation stating that he has received copies of two Interlocutors by the Sheriff of the County of Fife, finding that the churchyard or old burying ground in the Village and Parish of Kettle, in the County of Fife, is offensive and injurious to health:

And whereas in the said Representation it is recommended that burials be discontinued in the said churchyard or old burying ground:

And whereas notice of the said Representation, and of the time when it pleased Her Majesty to order the same to be taken into consideration by a Committee of the Lords of the Privy Council, has been duly published in the Edinburgh Gazette, and has been affixed as required by the Burial Grounds (Scotland) Act, 1855:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order as follows, viz. :—

That burials be forthwith discontinued in the said churchyard or old burying ground in the Village and Parish of Kettle, in the County of Fife, except for the burial of any person (widow or widower at death) whose husband or wife has been buried in the said churchyard.
