FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1911.

SCOTTISH OFFICE, WHITEHALL,
July 26, 1911.

AT the Palace of Holyrood House on the 18th day of July 1911, upon the occasion of the visit of Their Majesties The King and The Queen to Scotland, The King received upon the Throne Deputations with Addresses of Loyalty and Congratulation from the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, the Corporation of the City of Edinburgh, the University of Edinburgh, the University of St. Andrews, the University of Glasgow, and the University of Aberdeen, as follows:—

Church of Scotland.

TO THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY,
May it please Your Majesty,—

We, Your Majesty's most loyal, most devoted, and most dutiful subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Church of Scotland convened in General Assembly, desire respectfully to convey to Your Majesty and our gracious Queen our most warm welcome to this the ancient capital of Scotland, and to the historic Palace of Holyrood House, and to assure Your Majesty of our firm and sincere attachment to Your Majesty's Person and Throne.

With cordial satisfaction, in this the year of Your Majesty's Coronation, we beg leave to assure Your Majesty of the loyalty and devotion of the people among whom it is our duty and endeavour to further the reign of righteousness and the love of God as the best safeguard of the stability of the Throne and of the peace and prosperity of the Kingdom.

We and those whom we represent have received with gladness Your Majesty's assurances of Your fixed determination to maintain the Church of Scotland in the full possession of its rights and privileges, and we rejoice to note the personal interest which Your Majesty takes in its welfare.

That Almighty God, the Father of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, may encompass Your Majesty with His favour as with a shield, prolong Your days, prosper Your Councils, and continue Your reign in the affections of a dutiful people; that He may ever visit with His choicest blessings Your Majesty, the watchful guardian of our religion and liberty, Her Gracious Majesty Queen Mary, lovingly enshrined in the heart of the nation, the Prince of Wales, in whom our hopes rest, and the other members of the Royal House, all dear to the nation; and that after long swaying the sceptre over an enlightened, free, and religious people, You may be exalted to the higher glories and felicities of the Heavenly Kingdom, is the earnest prayer of,

May it please Your Majesty,

Your Majesty's most faithful, most loyal, and dutiful subjects,
The Ministers and Elders of the Church of Scotland met in General Assembly.

Signed in our name, in our presence, and by our appointment, by ALEXANDER STEWART, D.D.

Edinburgh, 2nd June 1911.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following gracious Answer:—

The Queen and I have received this loyal and dutiful Address with feelings of the deepest satisfaction.

Your assurances of the enduring loyalty and devotion of My subjects in Scotland among whom you labour strengthen Me in the duties and responsibilities to which I have succeeded; and you may rest assured of My warm interest in the affairs of the Church of Scotland and in the furtherance of all religious effort.

The Queen and I are greatly touched by the fervent prayer which you offer for Us and Our Family. With God's help I shall ever strive towards the fulfilment of the best and highest aspirations of My Scottish people.

City of Edinburgh.

TO THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY,

May it please Your Majesty,—

We, Your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the City of Edinburgh, humbly approach the Throne and respectfully offer to Your Majesty, and to Her Majesty Queen Mary, an expression of our most cordial welcome on the occasion of your visit to Your Majesty's good Town of Edinburgh.

We are exceedingly proud and gratified that Your Majesty's first visit to Edinburgh since Your Majesty's accession to the Throne should be made so soon after your Coronation, and we assure Your Majesty that the feelings of devotion and loyalty to the Throne which have so long animated Your Majesty's subjects in the City of Edinburgh remain unabated. We earnestly trust that Your Majesty's visit will be pleasant and agreeable, and that Your Majesty will take away happy recollections of the Capital of your ancient Kingdom of Scotland.

We hail with especial pleasure the opportunity of welcoming Your Majesty in this historic Palace of Holyrood House, so long the home of Your Majesty's Royal Ancestors.

We are devoutly thankful to Almighty God that under Your Majesty's constitutional rule we enjoy the inestimable blessings of just laws, wise administration, and civil and religious liberty.

We desire to take this opportunity of renewing the expression of our continued devotion to Your Majesty's Person, Throne, and Government.

Signed in name and by authority of the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the City of Edinburgh, and the Seal of the City affixed hereto at Edinburgh the eighteenth day of July 1911.

W. S. BROWN, Lord Provost.
THOMAS HUNTER, Town Clerk.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following gracious Answer:—

On behalf of Queen Mary and Myself I desire to thank you, my Lord Provost, the Magistrates and Council and the Citizens of Edinburgh, for the cordiality of your welcome on Our first visit to the Capital of Scotland after Our Coronation.

We are delighted to pass a few days in your beautiful City, and it affords me great pleasure to hear renewed in this historic Palace of Holyrood House the assurances of your unabated loyalty and devotion to the Throne.

Edinburgh holds an honoured place in My regard as the Capital of the Country in which ever since My childhood I have enjoyed many happy experiences: a land endeared to Me by affectionate memories and associations. I join with the Queen in thanking you for your good wishes, and in expressing a heartfelt prayer that you may be blessed with all that tends to your prosperity and general well-being.

University of Edinburgh.

TO THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY,

May it please Your Majesty,—

We, Your Majesty's loyal subjects, the Chancellor, Rector, Principal, University Court, and Senatus Academicus of the University of Edinburgh, would humbly tender to Your Majesty on the occasion of Your Coronation our sincere and heartfelt congratulations.

We would associate ourselves with all Your loyal subjects throughout the Realm and Empire in sincere wishes for Yourself and Your Gracious Consort that Your reign, so happily begun, may continue in joy to Yourself and family, and in many blessings to Your devoted subjects.

May we assure Your Majesty of our unswerving fidelity to Your Throne and Person.

It is our humble and heartfelt prayer that Your Majesty may long be spared to reign over a prosperous and united people.

WILLIAM TURNER, Principal.

JOHN RANKINE, Member of the University Court.

M. C. TAYLOR, Secretary, University Court.

L. J. GRANT, Secretary, Senatus Academicus.

University of St. Andrews.

TO THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY,

May it please Your Majesty,—

We, the University of St. Andrews, desire respectfully to present to Your Majesty our hearty welcome on this Your Majesty's first visit to Scotland as King.

In the early years of the University, the Stuart Scottish Kings came frequently to visit the University. Five hundred years ago, when the University came into existence, it was established with the approval of the King and the three Estates. The King was at the time an exile, but took an interest in the movement, and, when he returned to his native land, he came to St. Andrews, inquired personally into the workings of the University, conferred invaluable privileges on it, made wise regulations for it, and joined in the discussions of the students. His successors on the throne showed the same interest. Some of the Chancellors of the University were tutors of the Kings in their minority, and afterwards helped them in managing the affairs of the State. The monarchs themselves were generous in their maintenance of the University. One of them, the lovely Queen Mary, when she came to St. Andrews (as she often did) was in the habit of reading Livy with one of the Principals. All the Stuart Kings were patrons of literature and art, and especially the lovely Queen Mary wrote beautiful verses and encouraged poets and artists. The first of these Kings associated with the University, James the First, was one of the most notable men that Scotland ever produced. The description of his character by a contemporary historian suggests that there is a considerable resemblance between Your Majesty and your great ancestor. The historian says:—"The king was a man of the finest natural gifts and of a very lofty spirit. He took in all manly exercises a foremost place; further than all could he put a large stone or throw the heavy hammer; swift he was of foot, a well-skilled musician, as a singer second to none. With the harp, like another Orpheus, he surpassed the Irish or the Wild Scots. When he wrote the language of his own country he showed the utmost ability of that sort." In this last sentence the historian refers to the remarkable poems of undoubted genius which the King wrote. We believe that Your Majesty has received this all-round culture. The qualities which thus mark Your Majesty's character and Your wide sympathies, combined, as no doubt they will be, with the rare tact and political insight which shone through all the public acts of Your illustrious father, will render Your Throne stable, will endear You to Your subjects throughout all Your Dominions, and secure You for all time a bright place amongst the Sovereigns of the earth.

We present to Your Majesty our heartfelt allegiance, and pray that Your Majesty and Your Gracious Consort may have a long and happy reign and be spared to exercise an inspiring influence for good throughout the whole world.

JAMES DONALDSON,
Vice-Chancellor and Principal.

University of Glasgow.

TO THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY,

May it please Your Majesty,—

SIRE,—

On behalf of the University of Glasgow, the Court, Senate, and General Council, in all loyal duty, humbly beg leave to tender to Your Majesty the assurance of our steadfast devotion to Your Royal House and Person.

We share with the whole Scottish nation in the heartfelt rejoicings that have greeted in the Scottish capital the gracious presence of Your Majesty and of our well-beloved Queen. But we desire also, as members of a University that has been signally honoured by Your Royal favour, to offer a special and most cordial welcome from the West of Scotland to the King and Queen whose illustrious names are inscribed upon the roll of our graduates.

In the high privilege of direct access to the Throne lately accorded to us by Your Majesty's gracious command, we recognise with respectful gratitude a further token of Your Majesty's sympathetic interest in our ancient and royal foundation. During the four hundred and sixty years that have passed since the University of Glasgow had its beginning under James II, King of Scots, it has been graced with many benefits at the hands of the Sovereigns of Scotland: and a noble academic heritage has thus been created and transmitted to our days for the furtherance of sound learning among Your Majesty's subjects.

As the administrators of this heritage we are sustained in our efforts to fulfil the responsibilities laid upon us by the consciousness of Your Majesty's personal solicitude for the moral and intellectual welfare of Your people, and of Your constant desire to aid and encourage all who faithfully endeavour to promote it.

That it may be granted to the University we represent to contribute in due measure to the accomplishment of Your Majesty's exalted purposes for the Empire, by fostering national education and advancing the bounds of knowledge, is our fervent aspiration: and that the Almighty may preserve Your Majesties in health and happiness, to bear rule over us during many peaceful and fruitful years, we ever devoutly pray.

On behalf of the University of Glasgow, we humbly and dutifully subscribe ourselves,

ROSEBERY, Chancellor.

CURZON OF KEDLESTON, Rector.

DONALD MACALISTER, Principal.

ALAN E. CLAPPERTON, Secretary of the University of Court.

G. MILLIGAN, Clerk of Senatus.

ARCHIBALD CRAIG, Clerk of the General Council.

W. INNES ADDISON, Registrar of the University.

At Glasgow, July 1911.

University of Aberdeen.

TO THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY,

May it please your Majesty,—

We, the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, Rector, and other Members of the University of Aberdeen, would present to Your Majesty our humble duty, homage, and allegiance, on the occasion of Your first visit to Scotland after Your Majesty's Coronation.

While mindful of the constant goodwill of the Throne to learning and the education of the people, we feel a particular gratitude in recalling the personal associations with our University which Your Majesty's predecessors have been graciously pleased to form. Our older College, dedicated to St. Mary the Virgin, is styled in Acts of the Scots Parliament, under King James the Fourth, the College "of our Sovereign Lord," and still, alone among Scottish Universities, bears in its name of King's College, Your Majesty's Royal Title. Her Majesty Queen Victoria endowed the Balmoral Bursaries for the encouragement of learning in this University; and these Bursaries are under Your Majesty's patronage and appointment. Their Majesties, King Edward the Seventh and Queen Alexandra, honoured us by opening in 1906 the new buildings of Marischal College. And by Your Majesty's pleasure, we have recently received the privilege of presenting Addresses to the Sovereign by deputation.

For four centuries it has been given to the University of Aberdeen not only to fulfil the first aims of her Founders in the promotion of learning, morality, and religion among the people of the North-East and North of Scotland;

but to train also a large number of their sons for work abroad; and to-day we think with pride of the many hundreds of our graduates who are either in the immediate service of Your Majesty, or filling other posts of honourable usefulness, in the British Dominions beyond the Seas.

In the Chapel of King's College, and beneath its Tower which perpetually uplifts to heaven, and as if for the blessing of Almighty God, the Crown of this realm, we have already as a University made worshipful acknowledgment of the solemn Coronation of Your Majesties, our King and Queen. And we now desire to assure Your Majesty of our affection and allegiance to Your Person; of our prayers to God to prosper You in the administration and exercise of all those powers which He has given You, and to grant You, with Her Majesty Queen Mary, long to continue in the same in all health and happiness, as well as of our desire and resolution, under Your Majesty's patronage, faithfully to discharge our own various duties, as members of this University and Your Majesty's obedient and loyal subjects.

STRATHCONA, Chancellor.

H. H. ASQUITH, Rector.

GEORGE ADAM SMITH, Principal.

DONALDSON ROSE THOM, Secretary.

ROBERT WALKER, Registrar.

His Majesty was pleased to return the following gracious reply to each of the University Addresses:—

It is an especial pleasure to Queen Mary and to Myself to receive with the representatives of the University of Edinburgh, those of the other Universities who attend here to-day in the exercise for the first time of the privilege which I granted to them with great satisfaction.

It is My earnest desire by every means in My power to foster the interests of those Ancient and truly National Foundations on whose prosperity depends so largely the moral and intellectual culture of the youth, not only of Scotland but of many distant parts of My Dominions. Among the seats of learning the Universities of Scotland occupy a distinguished position, and I have every confidence that they will continue faithfully in the execution of the great and honourable trust committed to them.

On behalf of The Queen and Myself I thank you heartily for your good wishes and for the loyal sentiments expressed in your Addresses.

A deputation from the Convention of Royal Burghs of Scotland was also introduced and presented their Address as follows:—

UNTO THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY,

May it please Your Majesty,—

We, the Convention of the Royal Burghs of Scotland, representative of the Royal, Parliamentary, and Police Burghs thereof, humbly approach Your Most Gracious Majesty with an expression of our congratulations and loyal welcome on this the occasion of the first State visit of Your Majesty and Her Majesty Queen Mary to this Ancient Kingdom of Scotland.

We humbly assure Your Majesty of the devoted loyalty and attachment of the Burghs of Scotland; and we earnestly pray that Your Majesty may long be spared in health and strength to reign over a happy and united people.

Signed and sealed at Edinburgh this 18th day of July 1911, on behalf of, and by authority of, the Convention.

W. S. BROWN, Lord Provost of Edinburgh, Preses of the Convention.

J. L. OFFICER, Agent and Clerk of the Convention.

The King's gracious reply was as follows:—

It gives Me great pleasure on this special occasion to be able to receive in person this loyal Address of Congratulation and Welcome from the Ancient Convention of the Royal Burghs of Scotland.

I am very glad to have this opportunity of assuring you of My interest in all that concerns the welfare of the Scottish Burghs, whose history has been so intimately connected with that of the Royal House of Scotland, and I offer my best wishes for the welfare of all classes of the Community represented here to-day. I am well aware of the public spirit and devotion to duty of those who conduct the affairs of the Municipalities of whom you are the chosen representatives, and on behalf of Queen Mary and Myself I tender to one and all of you Our thanks for your kindly welcome on the occasion of Our Visit to Scotland.

SCOTTISH OFFICE, WHITEHALL,

July 26, 1911.

The following Address was presented to The King on Wednesday the 19th instant, upon the occasion of the visit of Their Majesties The King and The Queen to Edinburgh:—

TO THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY,

May it please Your Majesty,—

We, Your Majesty's loyal subjects, the President and Committee of Management of the Edinburgh University Union, on behalf of the Union offer our respectful homage to Your Majesty and to Her Majesty Queen Mary on this auspicious occasion.

The members of the Union, consisting of Professors and Graduates of the University, as well as of Undergraduates gathered hither from all parts of the United Kingdom, from the Empire of India, from all of Your Majesty's Dominions beyond the Seas, and from most of the civilised countries of the world, and forming the centre of the social life of the University, join with the People of Scotland and the Citizens of Edinburgh in offering a most cordial welcome to Your Majesty and to Her Majesty Queen Mary on this the first visit to the Capital of Your Majesty's Ancient Kingdom since Your accession to the Throne.

With devout gratitude we remember that our Alma Mater—Academia Jacobi Sexti—owes its Charter of Foundation to the gracious favour of Your Majesty's farseeing and illustrious ancestor, James the Sixth of Scotland.

We recall with the utmost pride and gratification that our predecessors, the students of 1859-1860, enjoyed the great honour of having among their number Your Majesty's Royal Father, the late King Edward of glorious memory.

That Your Majesty and Your gracious Consort may long be spared in health to strengthen the ties that bind the Empire, to reign over a happy and contented people, and to promote the peace of the world, is our devout and humble prayer.

(Signed)

L. GORDON GRANT, President.

L. B. C. MARKSMAN, Hon. Secretary.

JAMES WALKER, Treasurer.

J. E. HENDERSON, Assistant Secretary.

The King's gracious reply was as follows :—

The Queen and I have received the loyal Address of the Edinburgh University Union with great pleasure and interest.

We rejoice to hear of the world-wide membership of your Union as an evidence of the far-reaching influence and usefulness of the University of Edinburgh, and We appreciate the good offices of your Society in promoting good fellowship among students of such manifold origin, being assured that it will help those who have come from distant homes in the British Dominions beyond the Seas, in My Indian Empire, and in foreign lands, to look back on their Alma Mater with true filial affection.

I thank you heartily for your kind reference to the time which My Beloved Father, King Edward, spent as a student among you; and the members of your Union have our best wishes for their success in the careers which lie before them.
