PRESENT,

The King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Secretary for Scotland has, under the provisions of the Burial Grounds (Scotland) Act, 1855, made a Representation that he has received a copy of an Interlocutor of the Sheriff-Substitute of Fifeshire at Kirkcaldy, dated the 29th October 1913, and made on a Petition of the Parish Council of the Parish of Wemyss, finding that the Old Burial Ground at Methil Mill, in the said Parish of Wemyss, is in a condition of being so overcrowded as to be contrary to decency:

And whereas in the said Representation it is recommended that the said Old Burial Ground should be closed in terms of the said Act as a place of sepulture, except for the burial of any

PRESENT,

The King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the Dockyard Ports Regulation Act, 1865, it is enacted that it shall be lawful for His Majesty in Council from time to time, by Order in Council, to define the limits of a Dockyard Port for the purposes of that Act, and to make regulations in relation to any Dockyard Port for all or any of the purposes in the said Act particularly mentioned, and for such other purposes as from time to time seem necessary, with a view to the proper protection of His Majesty's vessels, dockyards, or property, or to the requirements of His Majesty's Naval Service:

1. All merchant or other private vessels shall be subject to the direction of the King's Harbour Master.

2. Moorings for His Majesty's vessels, mark buoys, and other aids to navigation, and such other buoys as may be required for any purpose in connection with naval or military operations, may be placed by the King's Harbour Master in such positions as he may from time to time consider the requirements of His Majesty's Service demand.

4. If at any time the anchor of any merchant or other private vessel hooks any Government moorings, or any electric cables or moorings of buoys, the master of such vessel shall not proceed to unhook the same, but shall forthwith give notice thereof to the King's Harbour Master, in order that aid may be given for clearing such moorings or cables without doing damage to the same.

5. No merchant or other private vessel of above five tons, compelled or allowed to anchor in or near any of the navigable channels of the Dockyard Port, shall be left at any time without a shipkeeper.

6. No boats are to approach within 100 feet of any Government establishment, afloat or ashore, unless proceeding to or from the same on duty or with permission from the King's Harbour Master, and no fishing from boats shall be carried on within the same distance from an Government establishment.

9. No merchant or other private vessel shall be anchored or moored within 75 fathoms from the centre of any Government moorings, nor in such a position as to be liable to foul any of His Majesty's ships at those moorings.

10. No merchant or other private vessel shall lie or be moored so as to impede the free approach to any dock or pier or quay in the Dockyard Port used for purposes of regular passenger traffic, and when buoys are placed by the King's Harbour Master to mark an approach to such pier no vessel shall lie within the space so marked.

11. No merchant or other private vessel shall make fast to or lie at any of the buoys marking the channels or shoals in the Dockyard Port.

12. No merchant or other private vessel shall, without permission in writing from the Senior Naval Officer or King's Harbour Master, be moored or fastened to any of the forts, Government moorings, buoys, piles or vessels in the Dockyard Port.

First.—A test certificate from the port of shipment, signed by a person skilled in the testing of petroleum, and countersigned, if the port of shipment be a foreign port, by the British Consul, and if the port of shipment be a British port, by the Collector or other proper Officer of Customs, to the effect that the oil does not give off inflammable vapour below the temperature of 73 degrees of Fahrenheit's thermometer.

Any ship laden as above shall anchor in the Examination Anchorage.

PENALTIES.

1. Any ferry vessel plying across the Harbour, however propelled, shall, between sunrise and sunset, when there is risk of collision, keep out of the way of all seagoing vessels and of tugs towing trains of barges, by stopping or going astern, as necessary.

2. Every such ferry vessel, propelled by means of chains or in any other way confined to a fixed track shall, instead of the lights directed to be carried by the "Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea," carry four lights, one at each corner, showing white ahead and astern in the direction of the ferry track, and red on the beam or athwart the ferry track, each light to be visible for at least two miles.

SANDHURST, Lord Chamberlain.

WHITEHALL, December 17, 1913.

The King was pleased, on Tuesday the 16th instant, at Buckingham Palace, to present to Herbert Frederick Ewington the Albert Medal of the First Class, conferred upon him by His Majesty for gallantry in saving life, as detailed below:—

On the 1st of July last a fitter in the employment of the Metropolitan Railway, while crossing the permanent way at Aldersgate Street Station, slipped and fell across a live electric rail. Whilst a porter was fetching the insulating rubber gloves—without which it is considered very dangerous to touch anyone who is in contact with a live rail—a train was seen entering the Station on the same line. At that moment Ewington jumped on to the line and managed to pull the man's leg clear of the rail, though he received several shocks in doing so; and he succeeded in getting the injured man into safety between the two sets of rails before the train was pulled up a few feet away. The danger was increased by the fact that another train was approaching in the opposite direction. Had it not been for Ewington's exceptional bravery, there is little doubt that the fitter, who was unable to release himself, and whose leg was badly burned, would have lost his life.
