NATIONAL INSURANCE.

NATIONAL HEALTH INSURANCE.

THE NATIONAL HEALTH INSURANCE (OUTSTANDING RESERVE VALUES) AMENDMENT ORDER, 1914, DATED DECEMBER 31, 1914, MADE BY THE NATIONAL HEALTH INSURANCE JOINT COMMITTEE UNDER SECTION 78 OF THE NATIONAL INSURANCE ACT, 1911 (1 & 2 GEO. 5, c. 55).

Whereas by the National Health Insurance (Outstanding Reserve Values) Order, 1914, made by the National Health Insurance Joint Committee (in this Order called "the Joint Committee") under Section 78 of the National Insurance Act, 1911 (in this Order called "the Act"), it is provided that for the reasons more particularly set forth in the recitals to the said Order there shall, for the purpose of ascertaining under Section 43 of the Act the outstanding reserve values of certain classes of insured persons, be deemed to have been written off the amount of the reserve values under sub-section (4) of Section 55 of the Act a sum ascertained by multiplying, in the case of a man, one-half of one per cent., or, in the case of a woman, one per cent., of the appropriate reserve value by the number of quarters terminating after the date of the entry into insurance of the insured person and before certain other dates therein specified:

And whereas it appears to the Joint Committee necessary and expedient for financial reasons that the amount to be deemed to have been written off the amount of the reserve values under sub-section (4) of Section 55 of the Act shall be calculated in the case of women in the same manner as in the case of men, and that the said Order should be amended accordingly:

And whereas by sub-section (1) of Section 40 of the National Insurance Act, 1913 (in this Order called the "amending Act"), any Order or Special Order made under the principal Act or
