BUCKINGHAM PALACE, March 16, 1915.

This day had Audience of the KING:—

Count de Lalaing, to present his Letters of Recall, and Monsieur Paul Hymans, to present his Letters of Credence, as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from His Majesty the King of the Belgians.

WHITEHALL, March 15, 1915.

The KING has been pleased to approve of the award of the Albert Medal of the Second Class for saving life on land to Mr. James Julian Carter, a brakeman of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in recognition of his gallantry in saving the life of a little girl named Violet Freeman at Tweed, Ontario, on the 10th May 1914.

On the day in question Carter was on the engine of a train running between Havelock and Smith's Falls in the Province of Ontario. The train was rounding a curve near Tweed at a speed of about 18 miles an hour, when Carter, who was on the inside of the curve, saw the child trying to cross the line 200 feet ahead. He shouted to the driver to stop, and immediately made his way along the footboard to the "pilot" on the front of the engine. Realising that the train, the speed of which had been reduced to about 8 miles an hour, could not be pulled up in time, he jumped from the engine, and, rushing forward, just succeeded in rescuing the child, falling with her into the ditch at the side of the line. The train was stopped when the engine and 8 coaches had passed the spot where the child was rescued.

DOWNING STREET, March 17, 1915.

The KING has been pleased by Letters Patent, passed under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom, dated the 27th day of February 1915, to reconstitute the office of Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony of the Gambia, and to make further provision for the Government thereof.
