WAR OFFICE, April 15, 1915.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the promotion to the rank of Major-General of Colonel (temporary Brigadier-General) Havelock Hudson, C.B., C.I.E., for distinguished service in the field, with effect from the 18th February 1915, inclusive, and supernumerary to the establishment of Major-Generals, Indian Army.

WAR OFFICE, April 15, 1915.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the appointment of the undermentioned Officers to be Companions of the Distinguished Service Order, in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty whilst serving with the Expeditionary Force:—

Major Henry William Newcome, 47th Battery, Royal Field Artillery.

For the excellent work performed throughout the campaign, especially on the 10th and 11th March 1915, during the action at Givenchy, when he directed the fire of his Battery from a ruined house with great skill whilst exposed to very heavy rifle fire.

The reports furnished by Major Newcome during the engagement were of the greatest value.

Major Andrew Hamilton Gault, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry at St. Eloi on 27th February 1915, in reconnoitring quite close to the enemy's position and obtaining information of great value for our attack which was carried out next day.

On the 28th February Major Gault assisted in the rescue of the wounded under most difficult circumstances while exposed to heavy fire.

Major Baptist Barton Crozier, 56th Battery, Royal Field Artillery.

Rendered valuable service in observing our artillery fire during the actions of 10th and 11th March 1915, at Givenchy, whilst exposed to the enemy's heavy rifle fire and our own shrapnel. Has been conspicuous for gallantry and coolness under fire throughout the campaign.

Major William Henry Denne, 2nd Battalion, The Bedfordshire Regiment.

For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on 12th March 1915, when he led a party of 20 men in a counter-attack under the most severe fire. All the 20 men were shot down, and he himself was seriously wounded.

Captain Wilfred Edward Nicol, 1st Battalion, Grenadier Guards.

For gallantry and ability at Neuve Chapelle from 10th to 14th March 1915, when he was largely instrumental in the capture of the great number of prisoners by reason of his able handling of the hand grenade company.

Captain (temporary) William Arthur Cecil Saunders-Knox-Gore, 1st Battalion, The King's Royal Rifle Corps.

For gallantry and conspicuous ability throughout the campaign. On the 27th February 1915, he photographed the enemy's position at Givenchy and made an important reconnaissance—the enemy's snipers being only 150 yards distant.

Captain Dick Macdonald Porteous, 1st Battalion, Princess Louise's (Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders).

For conspicuous gallantry on many occasions throughout the campaign.

His very great daring and total disregard of danger on reconnaissance duty, especially at St. Eloi on 19th February 1915, were most noticeable.

Lieutenant Gerald Arthur Cammell, 44th Battery, Royal Field Artillery.

For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March 1915. When employed as observing Officer he saw that the 2nd line of the 1st Battalion, 39th Garhwal Rifles, had lost their British Officers and at once proceeded to lead the men. He went forward in the attack with 4 men under very heavy fire, but was wounded after going 20 yards—as were 3 of his 4 men.

Lieutenant (temporary) James Robertson Campbell Greenlees, M.B., 22nd Field Ambulance, Royal Army Medical Corps.

For his great gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle from 10th to 14th March 1915, in attending on the wounded under very heavy fire.

Lieutenant Greenlees has been twice previously brought to notice for similar acts of gallantry.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to confer the Military Cross on the undermentioned Officers in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty whilst serving with the Expeditionary Force:—

Lieutenant T. H. Beves, 2nd Battalion, The Border Regiment.

For conspicuous gallantry and exceptionally good work performed at Neuve Chapelle on 11th March 1915.

He led his men with great ability in the attack and was twice wounded.

Lieutenant W. G. Colquhoun, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and resource on numerous occasions, especially at St. Eloi on 26th January 1915, when he rescued, with the assistance of one man, a mortally wounded officer after three others had failed in the attempt, being under very heavy close-range fire the whole time.

Again, on 27th February 1915, at St. Eloi, this officer rendered valuable assistance on reconnaissance duty under very difficult and dangerous circumstances.

Lieutenant N. W. Curran, 5th (Princess Charlotte of Wales's) Dragoon Guards.

For gallantry and ability on the night of 25th–26th February 1915, when he carried out an excellent reconnaissance of the enemy's position, and also undertook a difficult task of ascertaining what sapping operations the Germans were carrying out, with complete success.

Lieutenant Curran encountered much difficulty in this duty from barbed wire fences, and was fired from point-blank range.

Lieutenant G. D. G. Elton, 2nd Battalion Princess Victoria's (Royal Irish Fusiliers).

For conspicuous gallantry at St. Eloi from 14th to 16th March 1915, when he obtained valuable and very essential information relative to the enemy's position on four occasions, whilst exposed to heavy close-range rifle fire.

Second Lieutenant A. H. Hales, 1st Battalion, The Duke of Edinburgh's (Wiltshire Regiment).

For conspicuous gallantry at Spanbroek Molen on 12th March 1915, in leading the attack after being twice wounded, and subsequently for placing other wounded men under cover.

Lieutenant R. C. Hargreaves, 4th Battalion, The Rifle Brigade (The Prince Consort's Own).

For conspicuous gallantry at St. Eloi on 15th March 1915, when he captured two of the enemy's barricades.

Has been noted for his enterprise in bombing the Germans saps and trenches, performing this dangerous work on several occasions when quite alone.

Second Lieutenant E. G. W. W. Harrison, 7th Mountain Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery.

For gallantry and initiative at Givenchy, on 10th March 1915, when he rushed up his gun under heavy shell fire and close-range rifle fire, and destroyed a hostile machine-gun.

Second Lieutenant W. S. Morrison, Royal Field Artillery (Special Reserve).

For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle, from 10th to 14th March 1915, when he accompanied the Infantry in the attack, and kept up communication with his Battery, although his wires were often cut.

He was wounded and knocked down twice by shells bursting near him, but continued performing his duties.

Lieutenant T. M. Papineau, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry at St. Eloi, on 28th February 1915, when in charge of bomb throwers during our attack on the enemy's trenches.

He shot two of the enemy himself, and then ran along the German sap, throwing bombs therein.

Lieutenant J. G. Priestly, M.B., Royal Army Medical Corps.

For gallantry and devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle, on 13th March 1915, when he continued attending on the wounded with great gallantry, although himself badly wounded.

Second Lieutenant R. H. Slater, 1st Battalion, The King's Royal Rifle Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry at Givenchy, on 10th March 1915, when he brought away the guns safely from near the enemy's wire entanglements after five of his men had been shot. He went out a second time under fire to bring in a gun which had been left in the open.

Subadar Parbat Chand, 59th Scinde Rifles (Frontier Force).

For conspicuous gallantry and exceptionally good service at Neuve Chapelle, on 12th March 1915, when he commanded his Corps for five hours with marked ability after the European Officers had fallen.

Subsequently this Officer took command of the Machine Gun Section after the British Officer had been killed.

No. 15624 Lance-Corporal Wilfred Dolby Fuller, 1st Battalion, Grenadier Guards.

For most conspicuous bravery at Neuve Chapelle on 12th March 1915. Seeing a party of the enemy endeavouring to escape along a communication trench, he ran towards them and killed the leading man with a bomb; the remainder (nearly 50) finding no means of evading his bombs, surrendered to him.

On the 1st October 1914, Hinge was engaged with another man, at the Borstal Institution, Feltham, in removing an obstruction which had occurred in a gas main, when an explosion occurred, hurling Hinge out of the door of the building where they were working. The other man was thrown against the opposite wall, and his escape jeopardised by the flaming gas between him and the door. Hinge pluckily went to his rescue, and succeeded in helping him out. He then, although badly burned and nearly collapsing, took steps to cut off the pressure of the gas, thereby preventing the possibility of further explosions, which might have caused very serious loss of life.

Also to David Humphrey under the following circumstances:—

On the 8th December 1914, a woman was standing on the platform of Murton Railway Station and fell on to the line in an epileptic fit about eighty yards in front of a train which was approaching at fifteen miles an hour. Humphrey, a porter, who was standing some fifteen yards away, ran up and jumped on the line. The train at this moment was only a little over twenty yards off, and he was unable to remove the woman; but he succeeded in holding her down between the rails until the train came to a standstill, after the engine and one waggon had passed above them. By this brave action he saved the woman's life at great risk to himself.

6. The Superintendent of the Government

8. Any animal removed to the Government Lairs which, on being examined by the Government Veterinary Inspector, is found to be showing symptoms of tuberculosis, shall at the option of the owner or consignee, either be at once removed from the Lairs to the nearest public abattoir and there slaughtered under inspection or sent back by such owner or consignee at his own expense to the port from which such animal was shipped.

(b) the dung of any such animal; or

(c) any fittings, pens, hurdles, or utensils used for or about any such animal unless they have been scraped and then thoroughly washed or scrubbed or scoured with water, and subsequently disinfected, and unless the permission of the Chief Constable has been obtained.

11. The Principal Officer of Customs and Excise in this Island, or any Officer of Police, may seize and detain any carcase, dung, fittings, pens, hurdles, or utensils landed in contravention of this Order, and he shall forthwith report the facts to the Government Office with a view to the destruction or disposal of such carcase, dung, fittings, pens, hurdles, or utensils.

- (b) That as regards a worker employed under 18 years of age it shall be a condition of employment that she is employed during the whole or a substantial part of her time in learning any branch or process of the trade by an employer who provides her with reasonable facilities for such learning.
- (c) That female workers of 18 years of age and over who have been employed in the trade for an aggregate period of less than 12 months, and who cannot suitably be employed on piece-work, shall, until the expiry of such 12 months' period of employment, be paid at a rate of not less than 12s. per week.

Section 2.—The above rates are weekly rates based on a week of 52 hours, but they shall be subject to a proportionate deduction or increase according as the number of hours actually spent by the worker in the factory or workshop in any week is less or more than 52.

Section 3. The above rates shall, subject to the provisions of the Trade Boards Act, apply to all female workers employed in the trade for which the Trade Board is established, namely, the making of boxes and canisters from tinplate, excluding the sealing of filled boxes and canisters with solder, and excluding the following branches of work, namely, the lining of packing cases with tinplate, the making of trunks, uniform cases,

Provided that notwithstanding anything contained in this section the above minimum rates shall not apply to Clerks, Saleswomen, Travellers, or to any other workers whose work stands in a relationship to the trade similar to that of the foregoing excluded classes.

Section 4. The above minimum rates are without prejudice to workers earning higher rates of wages.

Such objections should be in writing, and signed by the person making the same (who should add his full name and address), and should be sent to the Secretary of the Tin Box Trade Board (Great Britain), Old Serjeants' Inn Chambers, 5 Chancery Lane, London, W.C.
