

Distinguished Conduct Medals—continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
11153	Corporal ...	Francis, W. ...	1st Battalion, South Wales Borderers	For gallantry at Givenchy on the night of 26th-27th January 1915, in voluntarily joining a party which went forward and destroyed a sap-head.
53150	Serjeant ..	Freeman, H. ...	"P" Battery, Royal Horse Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry on 12th October 1914 at Strazele, when he maintained the firing of his gun although severely wounded.
11121	Private ...	Frisby, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Leicestershire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 23rd February 1915 near Richebourg L'Avoue. When a man was wounded near the advanced post he went out and assisted to render first aid under heavy fire from the enemy, who were only 150 yards away. Private Frisby was himself wounded in the neck whilst performing this gallant act.
128	Private ...	Futcher, A. ...	10th Hussars ...	For gallant conduct on many occasions in conveying messages under heavy fire, and for the zeal and coolness displayed in the performance of his duties.
3452	Quarter-master-Serjeant	Gilbert, C. J. ...	3rd Hussars ...	For gallant conduct and invaluable services throughout the campaign, especially from 13th to 18th February 1915, whilst the regiment was in the trenches at Ypres.
9431	Private ...	Gilchrist, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Gordon Highlanders	For gallantry at Neuve Chapelle, 10th to 14th March 1915. On one occasion he was nearly buried by a shell, and had great difficulty in extricating himself. He managed, however, to deliver his despatch in good time.
6407	Company-Serjeant-Major	Glover, S. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Irish Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and marked ability at St. Eloi on 14th March 1915. After his officer had been killed he took command of the company, and although cut off from our supports and almost encircled by the enemy, he repulsed three of their attacks in the most gallant manner, which resulted in our positions being maintained until relief arrived, when the Germans were driven off.
2393	Private ...	Glynn, M. ...	1st Battalion, Manchester Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on 19th and 21st February 1915, near the La Bassee Road, in voluntarily reconnoitring the enemy's position from a distance of only 20 yards, and obtaining most useful information on both days.
4472	Serjeant, now Squadron Serjeant-Major	Godden, F. ...	15th Hussars ...	For conspicuous gallantry, marked ability, and resource, consistently shown throughout the campaign, especially at Rozoy on 6th September 1914, when he took his troop through a strong German flank-guard on a reconnaissance, and brought back valuable information under heavy rifle fire. On the 14th November, when the squadron was heavily shelled, and all but 13 of the horses in his troop had been killed, he remained with one other man to attend on the wounded, having sent back the remainder of his troop.
2721	Private ...	Goodchild, J. ...	2nd Dragoon Guards ...	For gallant conduct on many occasions, especially at Nery on 1st September 1914, when he served his machine gun under close hostile artillery fire, thereby largely contributing to the success which was attained. He was wounded in the engagement at Le Gheer on 17th October.
