

Distinguished Conduct Medals—continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
15600	Private ...	Lock, J. F. ...	2nd Battalion, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry on 14th March 1915, near St. Eloi, when he left his trench voluntarily with another man under heavy fire, crawled through the barbed wire entanglements and brought back three wounded men into safety, and subsequently for again leaving his trench to guide the stretcher-bearers to the wounded. This was the first occasion on which Private Lock was under fire.
2056	Corporal ...	MacDonald, J. ...	1/4th City of Dundee Battalion, Royal Highlanders (T.F.)	For the ability, courage, and dash displayed in leading his section in the attack near Neuve Chapelle on 10th March 1915.
657	Acting-Serjeant	MacIennan, J. ...	1/4th (Ross Highland) Battalion, Seaforth Highlanders (T.F.)	For gallant conduct on the 11th March 1915, in the advance to the river Layes, when he removed a wounded Non-commissioned Officer into cover whilst under very heavy machine-gun and rifle fire.
2301	Drummer ...	MacMurchie, J. S. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry at Kruseik on 27th October 1914, when he conveyed very important messages on four occasions under very heavy shell fire. He was badly wounded on 2nd November.
76100	Sapper ...	Macpherson, D. ..	8th Signal Company, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle from 10th to 14th March 1915, when he kept up communication with his brigade under heavy shell fire. During the whole of this period he showed the utmost fearlessness and energy, and his services were very valuable.
9198	Serjeant ...	Macrae, D. ...	1st Battalion, Seaforth Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry, ability, and great resource at Neuve Chapelle from 10th to 14th March 1915. Went out to bring into cover some wounded Germans, but was met by an armed party of the enemy—he captured several of them and drove off the remainder.
6611	Company Serjeant-Major	Malins, C. H. ...	1st Battalion, Scottish Rifles	For conspicuous gallantry on the night of 24th-25th March 1915, in carrying a wounded man from within 30 yards of the enemy's trenches into cover under very heavy and accurate fire. Company Serjeant-Major Malins has been brought to notice for his consistent bravery on patrol duty and for good work as a sniper.
7531	Company Serjeant-Major	Mann, J. W. ...	2nd Battalion, King's Own Scottish Borderers	For gallantry, initiative, and coolness on the 18th April 1915, at "Hill 60," when he handled his men with great ability at a critical time during the fight for possession of the hill.
4398	Acting-Serjeant	Mason, W. H. ...	18th Hussars ...	For gallantry and ability on 2nd March 1915. In company with an Officer he made a reconnaissance of the enemy's position near Zillebeke, under a heavy fire, and obtained information of great value.
