WAR OFFICE, October 1, 1915.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to award the Victoria Cross to the undermentioned Officer and Man :—

Captain Percy Howard Hansen, Adjutant, 6th (Service) Battalion, The Lincolnshire Regiment.

For most conspicuous bravery on 9th August 1915, at Yilghin Burnu, Gallipoli Peninsula.

After the second capture of the "Green Knoll" his Battalion was forced to retire, leaving some wounded behind, owing to the intense heat from the scrub which had been set on fire.

When the retirement was effected Captain Hansen, with three or four volunteers, on his own initiative, dashed forward several times some 300 to 400 yards over open ground into the scrub under a terrific fire, and succeeded in rescuing from inevitable death by burning no less than six wounded men.

No. 1300 Private Alfred Potts, 1/1st Berkshire Yeomanry, Territorial Force.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to a wounded comrade in the Gallipoli Peninsula.

Although himself severely wounded in the thigh in the attack on "Hill 70" on 21st August 1915, he remained out over 48 hours under the Turkish trenches with a Private of his Regiment who was severely wounded and unable to move, although he could himself have returned to safety.

Finally he fixed a shovel to the equipment of his wounded comrade, and, using this as a sledge, he dragged him back over 600 yards to our lines, though fired at by the Turks on the way. He reached our trenches at about 9.30 p.m. on 23rd August.

WAR OFFICE, October 1, 1915.

WAR OFFICE, October 2, 1915.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to confer the Military Cross on the undermentioned Officers, in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field:—

Captain Robert Francis Day Burnett, 42nd Deoli Regiment (attached 89th Punjabis).

For conspicuous gallantry near Neuve Chapelle on the night of 7th–8th August 1915.

With one Non-commissioned Officer and 4 Sepoys he voluntarily advanced from a sap-head under machine gun fire and rescued a badly wounded Non-commissioned Officer. The whole party had to stand up under fire in order to lift the wounded Non-commissioned Officer over the barbed wire.

Captain Ernest Cotton Deane, Royal Army Medical Corps (attached 2nd Battalion The Leicestershire Regiment).

For conspicuous gallantry on 2nd August 1915, near Fauquissart. A standing patrol 120 yards in front of our line was bombed by the enemy at about 10 p.m., the only notification being two loud bomb explosions. Captain Deane, without any knowledge of of the enemy's strength at once got over the parapet and ran by himself to the spot under rifle and machine gun fire. Finding four wounded men he returned for stretchers and got them back into safety.

This is not the first time that Captain Deane's gallantry under fire has been brought to notice.

Temporary Captain Leonce Delphin, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous energy in raising, practically unaided, in the district of Bethune a labour corps from the refugee and local population. He carried out valuable work with this corps in the preparation of defences, and worked with it for many weeks under shell fire during the spring and summer of 1915.

Lieutenant (temporary Captain) George Douglas Begg, Reserve of Officers, 6th Battalion, The Royal Scots Fusiliers.

For conspicuous gallantry near Vermelles on 28th August 1915. He made his way in broad daylight to a point within 8 yards of a German sap, discovering two rifle pits and noting accurately the formation and wiring of the sap. During the whole time he was subjected to heavy fire.

Temporary Lieutenant Thomas Hamilton Carlisle, 171st (Mining) Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry on the night of 12th September 1915, near Armentières.

With another Officer he entered a mine, which was in a highly dangerous state at the time owing to gas fumes following an explosion, in order to rescue a man who had been overcome.

Their prompt action undoubtedly saved the man's life.

Lieutenant William Harold Hillyer, 3rd London Field Company, Royal Engineers, Territorial Force (attached 171st Mining Company).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in mining operations at "Hill 60," near Ypres, between 2nd and 17th April 1915. The task of completing and charging one of our mines was one of great difficulty and strain. Lieutenant Hillyer worked and watched long hours at the end of a gallery 165 feet long and 3 feet by 2 feet 3 inches in size, knowing that the enemy was counter-mining close by. His pluck and endurance were remarkable, and resulted in the successful explosion of the mine and consequent capture of the hill.

Lieutenant Loudoun James MacLean, 57th Field Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry and determination during the nights of 25th to 31st August 1915, when he skilfully erected a bridge over the Yser Canal near Boesinghe under heavy rifle fire.

Although he lost several of his men, he carried the work through satisfactorily.

Temporary Lieutenant Eric Guy Sutton, 7th Battalion, The Royal Sussex Regiment.

For conspicuous gallantry on the night of 12th September 1915, near Armentières. With another Officer he entered a mine, which was in a highly dangerous state at the time owing to gas fumes following an explosion, in order to rescue a man who had been overcome.

Their prompt action undoubtedly saved the man's life.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Fred Bell, attached 173rd (Tunnelling) Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry and determination at Cambrin on 6th September 1915. After the Germans had broken through into one of our mining galleries he went down into the working under fire, cleared out the enemy with his revolver in the dark, and held the ground till a sandbag revetment could be built.

This action contributed greatly to the successful completion of the mining operations.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Ernest William Bryde, 173rd (Tunnelling) Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill in France, when he was engaged in pushing forward advanced galleries through those of the enemy, thereby determining the success of the mining operations.

Second Lieutenant Charles Henry Dowden, D.S.O., 2nd Battalion, The King's Royal Rifle Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry on 5th September 1915, near Le Rutoire. He crawled out in broad daylight 200 yards in front of our advanced trench, which was 300 yards in front of the firing line, and reconnoitred the enemy's position from a point within 200 yards of their front line, bringing back very valuable information.

On 6th September he crawled out again and completed his reconnaissance, being fired on from a German sap.

On both occasions Second Lieutenant Dowden went out entirely on his own initiative.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Gilbert Hart, 173rd (Tunnelling) Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill in France, when he was engaged in pushing forward advanced galleries through those of the enemy, thereby determining the success of the mining operations.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Bernard Russell, 2nd Battalion, Princess Charlotte of Wales's (Royal Berkshire Regiment).

For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the afternoon of 12th September 1915. Knowing that a detailed reconnaissance of the enemy's line in front of his brigade would be of value, he went out alone on his own initiative, and reconnoitred the enemy's wire, barricades, and parapet, working in some places along the front face of the enemy's parapet itself in broad daylight. His reconnaissance proved to be of the greatest value.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Horace Scott Shield, Royal Flying Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill when on patrol duty with Corporal T. Bennett on 13th September 1915.

When over Bois De Biez, at about 10,000 feet, he sighted a German Albatross, and at once dived and attacked it at about 7000 feet, being subject at the time to heavy anti-aircraft gun fire. The German Albatross used a machine-gun very conveniently mounted, but Corporal Bennett handled his gun with such skill that he disabled the German machine, which side-slipped and then nose-dived to the ground in our lines.

Second Lieutenant Shield has been exceptionally keen in pursuing German machines whenever seen, and on this occasion he manœuvred his own machine with admirable judgment and courage.

Second Lieutenant (temporary Lieutenant) Charles Sproxton, 1st/4th Battalion, Alexandra, Princess of Wales's Own (Yorkshire Regiment), Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and resource on many occasions in securing the defences of his Company line, notably the following:—

On the night of 5th-6th July 1915, near Wulverghem, although exposed by the enemy's flares to heavy rifle fire and assisted only by one Non-commissioned Officer, he carried 8 "knife-rests" (entanglements), and placed them in position within 40 yards of the enemy's line.

On the night of 6th-7th August, near Armentières, he was in charge of a party wiring in front of our fire trench. A German machine-gun was turned on the party, but Lieutenant Sproxton, after withdrawing his party, returned with the same Non-commissioned Officer, and, with utter disregard to danger, they completed the work.

Second Lieutenant (temporary Captain) Arthur Ashford Benjamin Thomson, The Royal Warwickshire Regiment, attached Royal Flying Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and determination on 29th August 1915, near Neuve Chapelle. When ranging a heavy gun on the German trenches he stayed up over two hours in heavy rain, with clouds at about 500 feet. At one time he found himself in a cloud on the far side of the German trenches; but, after coming back under heavy fire, he continued to observe with the greatest bravery and skill, only returning when too dark for more work. His gallant conduct resulted in 10 direct hits on the enemy's parapet.

Second Lieutenant (temporary Lieutenant) Harold Henry Walton, 7th (Robin Hood) Battalion, The Sherwood Foresters (Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire Regiment), Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and energy on several occasions:—On the night of 30th-31st July 1915, near Ypres, when ordered to re-occupy an advanced sap, he was heavily bombarded with trench mortars and rifle grenades, several of his men being killed and buried; but by his cheerful example and gallant conduct he kept his men in hand and held on to his position. Had the enemy been able to get a footing in it the defence of the next trench would have been very difficult.

On the night of 3rd-4th August he led a patrol up an evacuated trench. It was not known if it was occupied by the enemy or not, and the information he brought back was of great value.

Lieutenant Walton has frequently reconnoitred close up to the enemy's trenches and obtained valuable information.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Raymond Burke Williams, 176th Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Givenchy on 25th August 1915, when in charge of a mine. He went down the gallery immediately after the end had been blown in and ordered the men out owing to gas fumes. He then endeavoured to rescue the men till he was himself overcome by fumes, and had to be dragged out; but as soon as he recovered he again went half-way down the mine and directed further rescue operations.

Second Lieutenant Williams has been in charge of mines in the Givenchy area since 7th July, and has consistently shown the greatest coolness in difficult operations necessitating rapid charging and blowing up of mines in very close proximity to the enemy's counter mines.

ADMIRALTY

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

No. 886 of the year 1915.

SCOTLAND, EAST COAST AND ORKNEY ISLES.

PILOTAGE STATIONS ESTABLISHED AT CERTAIN PORTS ON ACCOUNT OF DEFENSIVE MINEFIELDS.

Former Notice.—No. 549 of 1915; hereby cancelled.

With reference to the extension of the system of Mine defence, Notice is hereby given that, under the Defence of the Realm (Consolidation) Regulations, 1914, Pilotage is now compulsory at the following ports for all vessels (including fishing vessels) which have a draught of over eight feet, and that it is highly dangerous for any vessel to enter or leave such ports without a pilot. Fishing and other small vessels having a draught of over eight feet are to assemble at the Pilotage stations and will be conducted into and out of port in groups.

(1) FIRTH OF FORTH.—All incoming merchant vessels are only permitted to enter the Firth of FORTH when they have sufficient daylight to enable them to reach Inchkeith before the close of "official day," which is notified in the Public Traffic Regulations for the Firth of FORTH.

Vessels must pass between Isle of May and Anstruther Wester, thence they must steer a course so as to pass two miles south of Elieness, and thence direct for Kinghorn ness.

Vessels are warned that, after having entered the Firth of FORTH, they must on no account pass to the southward of a line joining the north point of the Isle of May and Kinghorn ness, until in the longitude of 3° W., when course may be shaped for the centre of North channel.

On approaching Inchkeith, the pilot vessel in the North channel is to be closed and a pilot embarked.

Merchant vessels approaching the Firth of FORTH from the southward are permitted to keep close to the shore until Barnes ness is reached, when course should be shaped for the Isle of May, so as to pass between the Isle of May and Anstruther Wester.

No merchant or fishing vessel is permitted to enter the Firth of FORTH between the Isle of May and the south shore of the FORTH.

Merchant vessels approaching the Firth of FORTH during the hours of darkness are to maintain a steady course and speed, and are to so arrange their speed that they shall not reach the Isle of May before daylight, and thus will avoid having to reduce speed or stop in the vicinity of the Isle of May, where they may render themselves liable to be fired upon by shore batteries or patrol vessels.

No merchant or fishing vessel is permitted to be at an anchorage, during the hours of "official night," between Inchkeith and a line drawn from Barnes ness to North Carr rock (which line is to be considered the eastern limit of the Firth of FORTH), unless directed to anchor by the orders of a patrol vessel.

The above orders apply to vessels proceeding to any port in the Firth of FORTH, whether to the eastward of Inchkeith or not.

Outward bound vessels must steer to pass the longitude of 3° W. in latitude 56° 06' 30" N., thence shape course to pass 2 miles south of Eileness and between Anstruther Wester and the Isle of May.

(2) MORAY FIRTH.—All vessels bound to Cromarty or Inverness must call for a pilot at Wick or Burghead.

Outgoing vessels are to discharge their pilots at one or the other of these places.

It is dangerous for any vessel to be under way to the south-westward of a line joining Findhorn and Tarbetness without a pilot.

(3) SCAPA FLOW.—All entrances are dangerous and entry is absolutely prohibited by any of them except as provided in succeeding paragraphs.

Examination services have been established in the entrances to Hoxa and Hoy sounds: vessels wishing to enter must communicate with the Examination vessel and follow the instructions received from her very carefully.

No vessel is permitted to approach the entrance to Hoxa sound within a radius of 5 miles under any circumstances whatever, except when actually bound to Scapa Flow. Vessels bound to Kirkwall should proceed direct to that port.

The only vessels permitted to enter Hoy sound from the westward are those bound for Stromness: vessels cannot enter Scapa Flow from Stromness.

Vessels are not permitted to enter Hoxa or Hoy sounds by night.

Passage through Cantick sound is entirely prohibited.

Note.

This notice is a repetition of Notice No. 549 of 1915, with amendments to section (1) relating to the Firth of Forth.
