REGULATION OF FOREIGN EXCHANGES.

LOAN OF SECURITIES TO THE TREASURY. (SCHEME B.)

The Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury hereby give notice that as from the 14th August 1916, they will be prepared to accept certain securities upon deposit on the following terms and conditions.

(1) The securities to which this scheme applies will be :—

(a) Those specified in the annexed list.

(b) Such as may from time to time be added to that list by public notice.

(c) Such American Dollar Securities as are from time to time being accepted for deposit under the scheme of 24th March 1916 (Scheme A).

(2) Holders of American Dollar Securities who have already deposited them under Scheme A (Deposit on loan for Two years) may transfer their deposit to Scheme B by giving notice, not later than 14th September 1916, of their desire to do so (such notice to be given on a form to be obtained at the National Debt Office, 19 Old Jewry, E.C.). This form, when approved, will be returned for lodgment with the Certificate of Deposit (or provisional receipt) so that the transfer to Scheme B may be completed.

(3) The securities will be transferred to the Treasury for a period to expire at the end of five years from the 31st March 1917, subject to the right of the Treasury to return them to the holders at any time on or after the 31st March 1919, on giving three calendar months' notice in writing of their intention to do so. If any of the securities are paid off during the period of deposit, the amount received in respect of the repayment will be paid over to the depositor in sterling on surrender of the deposit certificate (in the case of non-sterling securities at the exchange of the day on which the repayment is received).

(4) While the securities are on deposit with the Treasury the lender will receive from the Treasury all interest and dividends paid in respect of them and also, by way of consideration for the loan, a payment at the rate of one-half of one per cent. per annum, calculated on the face value of the securities.

(5) At the end of the period of deposit the securities or other securities of the same description and to the same nominal amount will, subject to the provisions of paragraph (6), be returned to the lender by the Treasury.

(6) The Treasury will have the right at any time during the currency of the loan to dispose of the securities should they find it necessary to do so, but in the event of their being so disposed of, the lender will continue to receive from the Treasury the same payments as he would have received if the securities had been retained, and at the end of the period of the loan, the Treasury will either return to him securities of the same description and to the same nominal amount as those originally deposited, or, at their option, they will pay to him the deposit value of the securities with an addition of 5 per cent. on that value, plus accrued interest from the last preceding interest date.

In the case of securities in respect of which the holder is entitled to repayment at a fixed date or by drawings within a fixed period, the Treasury when making payment will, if the deposit value plus 5 per cent. is less than the redemption value, make a further addition of an amount equal to the enhancement in value due to the approach of the date of redemption while the securities have been upon deposit.

For the purposes of this paragraph "deposit value" means in the case of sterling securities the net mean quotation (i.e., the quoted price less accrued interest or dividend in cases in which such accrued interest or dividend is included in the quoted price) on the London Stock Exchange of the day preceding the publication of the notice including the securities in the Treasury List for deposit under Scheme B, and in the case of dollar securities the sterling equivalent at the exchange of the day of the net quotation of the New York Stock Exchange of that day. In the case of unquoted securities or quoted securities in respect of which the current quotation may not be regarded as representing the true market value, the prices will be fixed by the Treasury. Thus for all securities included under headings (a) and (c), clause (1), and all securities transferred from Scheme A, the day for fixing the deposit value will be 11th August 1916, and for additional securities under heading (b) the day preceding the notice of their inclusion in the scheme.

(7) Holdings of 1000*l.* ($5000) and upwards will be accepted for deposit by the Treasury through the American Dollar Securities Committee, 19 Old Jewry, E.C. Arrangements for the aggregation of smaller holdings for purposes of deposit will be made by bankers and other agents as under Scheme A.

(8) Holders of bearer bonds (or share certificates transferable by delivery) will be required to lodge the bonds and coupons with the Treasury, and holders of registered stock or bonds will be required to execute a transfer of such stock or bonds. Bonds upon which British stamp duty has not previously been paid may be deposited unstamped. When the bonds have been lodged with the Treasury, or when the transfer of the stock or bonds has been registered in the Company's books, the bonds or stock will be entered in the holder's name in a special register kept by the Treasury for the purpose, and a certificate of entry in this register will be issued to the holder. The title of bonds or stock entered in the Treasury Register may be transferred upon that register by deed in the ordinary way. In the case of registered stock or bonds, the Treasury will bear all charges in respect of the original transfer into their name in the Company's books, and of the re-transfer in the Company's books into the name of the person in whose name the stock or bonds stand in the Treasury Register when finally released; transfer deeds for intermediate transfers in the Treasury Register will be subject to stamp duty in ordinary course, and to a registration fee of 2*s.* 6*d.* All transfer deeds in respect of bearer bonds or share certificates transferable by delivery will be free of stamp duty and registration fee. At the end of the period of the loan the bonds or certificates deposited (or bonds or certificates identical as far as possible in all respects with those deposited) will, subject to paragraph (6), be delivered to the depositor upon surrender of the deposit certificate. The Treasury will, if desired, exercise as far as possible the voting and other rights attached to the securities in the way that the owners of the deposited securities may indicate.

(9) Arrangements have been made by the Stock Exchange Committee for dealings on the Stock Exchange in the deposit certificates of securities deposited under the scheme.

(10) The interest and dividends on all deposited securities, together with the additional payment at the rate of one-half of one per cent. per annum, will be paid to the holder for the time being on the Treasury Register, by warrant, as soon as they have been received by the Treasury. Non-sterling dividends will be paid in sterling at the exchange of the day on which the Treasury books are closed for the purpose of preparing the warrants. For convenience of payment, in cases where interest or dividends are payable half-yearly, a full half-year's additional payment (viz., $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.) will be added to the first dividend payment, and on the termination of the loan, the amount due from the actual date of deposit to the date of return will be calculated, and any overpayment or underpayment will be adjusted when the return is effected. A similar procedure, mutatis mutandis, will be applied in cases of quarterly or other periodical payments of interest or dividends.

(11) Under section 2 of the Government War Obligations Act, 1915 (5 & 6 Geo. 5. c. 96), and section 68 of the Finance Act, 1916 (6 & 7 Geo. 5. c. 24) trustees and companies are enabled to take advantage of the scheme notwithstanding any provisions of their trust or constitution, and are not liable for any loss arising from so doing.

(12) The Treasury reserve the right to refuse, either in whole or in part, any offer to deposit securities under the scheme.

Admiralty, August 11, 1916.

The KING has been graciously pleased to confer the Decoration of the Albert Medal of the First Class on—

Lieutenant Frederick Joseph Rutland, R.N. (Flight Lieutenant, Royal Naval Air Service).

The following is the account of the services in respect of which the Decoration has been conferred:—

During the transhipment of the crew of H.M.S. “Warrior” to H.M.S. “Engadine” on the morning of the 1st of June 1916, succeeding the naval battle off the coast of Jutland, one of the severely wounded, owing to the violent motion of the two ships, was accidentally dropped overboard from a stretcher and fell between the ships. As the ships were working most dangerously, the Commanding Officer of the “Warrior” had to forbid two of his officers from jumping overboard to the rescue of the wounded man, as he considered that it would mean their almost certain death. Before he could be observed, however, Lieutenant Rutland, of H.M.S. “Engadine,” went overboard from the forepart of that ship with a bowline, and worked himself aft. He succeeded in putting the bowline around the wounded man and in getting him hauled on board, but it was then found that the man was dead, having been crushed between the two ships. Lieutenant Rutland's escape from a similar fate was miraculous. His bravery is reported to have been magnificent.
