WEDNESDAY, MARCH 28, 1917.

*War Office,
26th March, 1917.*

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the appointments of the undermentioned Officers to be Companions of the Distinguished Service Order in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field:—

Temp. 2nd Lt. William Algie, North'd Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He led the assaulting party with great dash and inflicted many casualties on the enemy. He himself shot eight of the enemy with his revolver. Later, he skilfully withdrew his party under very heavy fire and assisted to bring in the wounded.

Capt. (temp. Maj.) Maxwell Hunter Forsyth, M.C., Gord. Highrs., attd. Sco. Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a strong raiding party. He trained the party, and carried out the raid successfully, personally controlling it from the enemy's front line. The party entered the enemy's third line, captured forty-three prisoners, two machine guns, and a trench mortar.

Capt. James Andrew Harcourt Gammell, M.C., R.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when employed as Staff Officer to the Armoured Car Patrol. He displayed great coolness under heavy fire, and his energy and perseverance greatly assisted in the success of the operations.

Temp. Surg. Harold Boulton Padwick, R.N.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He remained in the open, and continued to tend the wounded under very heavy fire. Later, he proceeded to Headquarters, and at great personal risk brought in many wounded men. He displayed great courage and determination throughout the operations.

Maj. Llewellyn Partridge, Yeo., attd. Welsh R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great judgment and skill in the leadership of his three light patrols, and showed inexhaustible resource in overcoming the most serious physical obstacles. Later, in action he proved himself a dashing and competent leader.

Capt. (temp. Maj.) Arthur Beresford Philemon Pereira, A.S.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He was untiring in his work, and kept the force supplied in its important requirements of petrol and water for the care, as well as rations and water for personnel with conspicuous success. He displayed great coolness and resource in action.

Temp. Lt.-Col. Cecil Porch Porch, North'd Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and able leading while in command of a raiding party. The success of the raid was largely due to his most careful work in preparing the details of the scheme and his own determined leading. Later, although wounded, he continued to direct operations, and personally superintended the removal of the wounded under heavy fire.

SOUTH AFRICAN FORCE.

2nd Lt. John Currie, S. African Arty.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He, with another officer, organised and led forward a party of infantry at a critical time, thereby enabling an enemy strong point to be carried and over 100 prisoners taken. Later, he again took charge of parties of four different regiments and succeeded in repelling an enemy, counter-attack. He set a splendid example of courage and determination throughout.

Distinguished Service Order Award.

Lieut. William Sinclair McKenzie, Seaforth Highrs.

The particulars of the act of gallantry in this case will be published next month in The London Gazette. This award was omitted from the Gazette dated 17th March, 1917, pending verification.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He rendered most valuable services with the battalion bombers, and materially assisted in firmly consolidating an exposed flank.

S/15380 Pte. J. Mathieson, Gord. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He rallied his men under very heavy fire. Later, although wounded, he continued to lead his men with great dash.

22562 L./Cpl. W. H. Maund, Mach. Gun Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry during an enemy raid. He jumped on to the parapet at great personal risk and threw bombs into a party of the enemy, thereby forcing them to retire. He has at all times set a splendid example.

8930 C./S./M. F. Middleton, N. Staff. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He brought in two of the enemy who were wounded under heavy fire, and captured an enemy officer. He has at all times set a splendid example.

18719 Pte. (L./Cpl.) H. N. Mock, Wilts. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid on the enemy's trenches. Although severely wounded, he continued to lead his bombing squad with great courage and determination. He seized the objective allotted to him, and inflicted many casualties on the enemy.

23/1124 C./S./M. L. Moore, North'd Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rendered most valuable services during a raid in the enemy's trenches, and later brought in several wounded men under heavy fire.

18794 C./S./M. J. T. Morrison, Sco. Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He took a mobile charge into the enemy's second line to destroy a concrete machine-gun emplacement, which he did successfully, and was one of the last men to leave the enemy's trenches.

6750 Sjt. G. Moscrop, W. Rid. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He cut his way through the enemy's wire, led his men into the trench, and personally captured two prisoners. Later, although severely wounded, he continued to lead his men with great courage and determination.

692 C./S./M. G. W. Pemberton, York and Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He was the first man of his party to enter the trench and the last to leave it. He himself captured two prisoners and brought them in. He has previously done fine work.

23103 Actg. Sjt. S. H. Phillips, Mach. Gun Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He handled two machine guns with great skill, and inflicted many casualties on the enemy. He has previously done fine work.

T.Z. 1571 Leading Sea. W. Punton, R.N.V.R., attd. Trench Mortar Bty.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rallied the infantry, and greatly assisted in saving the situation at a critical time. He displayed great courage and determination throughout the operations.

B./Z. 654 Actg. P.O. P. Rosewarne, R.N.V.R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Accompanied by another man, he rushed an enemy machine gun and shot two of the crew. Later, he twice assisted his Company Commander in rallying the men when posts were rushed. He set a splendid example throughout.

463038 (frmly. 870) L./Cpl. H. A. Sadler, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great courage and determination in taking over forward communications under heavy fire. On one occasion he rendered valuable assistance in exhuming several men who had been buried.

T./Z. 8380 Able Sea. N. Schofield, Mach. Gun Coy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. While carrying a message he was wounded in the back some 150 yards from his objective, but managed to crawl the remainder of the way, and safely delivered his message.

T.Z. 853 P.O. T. B. Simpson, R.N.V.R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his platoon with great gallantry, and succeeded in driving off two strong enemy counter-attacks. On another occasion while leading a bombing party he was wounded, but refused to leave his post.

44125 Pte. T. R. Slack, Ches. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He fired his machine gun at point blank range and killed the whole of an enemy gun team, thereby enabling the clearing of the enemy front line to be successfully accomplished.

23921 Sjt. H. G. Smith, R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry during an aerial combat with two enemy machines. Although wounded, he kept control, and continued to manoeuvre his machine so as to offer the most difficult target to the enemy.

10619 Pte. H. Thompson, R. W. Kent R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He handled his machine gun with great courage and determination, thereby covering the advance of the left party. Later, he remained out alone in position with his gun under very heavy fire. He has previously done fine work.

23/1364 C.S.M. E. J. Watson, North'd Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He succeeded in bringing back several wounded men under very heavy fire. He has previously done fine work.

12084 Pte. A. H. Wheeler, Wilts. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the enemy's trenches. Although very severely wounded he crawled back to our lines, secured a bomb-carrying party, and then crawled half way back across "No Man's Land" in order that he might direct the party to where the bombs were required.

S/1732 Actg. C./S./M. D. Wilkie, Gord. High.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. With his Company Commander he attacked an enemy post, bombed several of the defenders, and captured two prisoners. Later, he, single-handed, captured thirteen more prisoners. He has previously done fine work.

AUSTRALIAN FORCE.

8847 Sjt. J. A. Freeman, Aust. Fld. Arty.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rushed into a pit which was on fire, and with his bare hands threw many burning charges clear of the pit into the snow. His gallant act undoubtedly saved several lives.

2600 Sjt. A. C. Gove, Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He entered an enemy dug-out and, single-handed, captured five prisoners. Later, he repeatedly carried bombs to the front line under intense fire. On another occasion, at great personal risk, he extinguished a fire which broke out in a box of bombs.

3623 Pte. E. C. Penny, Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He could see no movement in the enemy's trench, so, walking 120 yards across "No Man's Land," he entered the enemy trench, where he found a badly wounded comrade. He obtained a stretcher from the nearest company, and, with a volunteer, rescued the wounded man.

2435 Pte. M. D. Robertson, Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Although wounded, he organised a bombing party, and repeatedly repelled the enemy. He set a splendid example of courage and initiative throughout the operations.

3136 L./Cpl. R. B. Withers, Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He repelled an enemy bombing party and secured his flank at a critical time. Later, although himself wounded, he carried several wounded men back to the dressing station under heavy fire. He set a magnificent example of courage and devotion to duty.

CANADIAN FORCE.

193598 Pte. C. L. Myles, Can. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He carried a wounded officer from the enemy trench for a considerable distance back towards our lines under very heavy fire. Later, he again rejoined his party and was wounded.
