THURSDAY, APRIL 19, 1917.

War Office,
April 17th, 1917.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the award of a Bar to the Distinguished Service Order to:—

*Maj. Malby Richard Henry Crofton, D.S.O., R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He went forward under the most intense fire to a position 150 yards from the enemy's trenches, from where he controlled the fire of his battery with great skill.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 22nd Dec. 1916.)

Capt. and Bt. Maj. (Temp. Lt.-Col.) Gerald Victor Wilmot Hill, D.S.O., R. Ir. Fus., attd. Suff. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and good leadership when in command of his battalion. He formed up his battalion under very heavy fire and under the most difficult conditions. The successful start of his battalion and the accomplishment of its task in the attack was in a great measure due to his personal example and fine leadership.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 14th Jan. 1916.)

Maj. Ronald Campbell Ross, D.S.O., Jats, Ind. Army.

For conspicuous gallantry and good leadership when in command of his battalion. He gallantly led his battalion to the assault of the enemy's position, and the success of the operation was largely due to his fine example and able leadership. Later, while leading his men, he was severely wounded.

(D.S.O. Gazetted 14th Jan. 1916.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the appointments of the undermentioned Officers to be Companions of the Distinguished Service Order in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field:—

Temp. Lt.-Com. Arthur Melland Asquith, R.N.V.R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to Brigade Headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and of the fighting, which had been going on during the night. He has previously done fine work.

Temp. Maj. Kenneth Arrowsmith Brown, Devon. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid. It was largely owing to his initiative and courage that the operations met with such success. Previous to the raid he carried out two reconnaissances close to the enemy's wire, and brought back most valuable information.

Temp. Capt. Geoffrey Fenwick Jocelyn Cumberlege, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He dashed along the line rallying his own battalion and men of other units. He succeeded in restoring order and in re-organising the line at a most critical time. Throughout the day he inspired all ranks by his high example of courage and devotion to duty.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) James Ferrand Dearden, M.C., R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in commanding his company. By his splendid example of courage and fine leadership several strong enemy counter-attacks were repulsed. At a critical stage he jumped on to the parapet with a machine gun and accounted for many of the enemy.

*Lt. Douglas Hamilton Gordon, Sikhs, Ind. Army.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of two platoons. He led his men to reinforce the right flank, and commenced bombing along the enemy trench, thereby regaining much lost ground. Later, he handled a machine gun with great skill, and succeeded in establishing a block under very heavy fire. He set a splendid example throughout the day.

Temp. Maj. Roland Vaughan Gwynne, Sussex Yeo., attd. R. W. Surr. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and judgment in commanding and carrying out a daylight raid with his battalion. His personal example of courage and coolness was of great value throughout the operation. He personally went over to the enemy lines and supervised. He was wounded.

Temp. Lt. John Maximilian Hammond, M.B., R.A.M.C., attd. Devon. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in evacuating a large number of wounded under the most difficult conditions. He was himself subsequently wounded, and although both his feet were practically blown off he ordered his stretcher-bearers to carry away another wounded man first.

Lt.-Col. William Frederick Mildren, C.M.G., Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a strong raiding party. He made admirable arrangements both as regards the preparation and the execution of the raid, and inspired his battalion with his own fine example.

Temp. Capt. The Hon. Lionel Samuel Montagu, R.M.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led his company in the first attack and captured his objective. Later, under very heavy fire, he personally took out a covering party and kept his men consolidating the trenches for over 24 hours. On another occasion he single-handedly captured 50 prisoners, and later, although wounded, remained at duty.

Maj. Harold Ozanne, R.M.L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He directed the consolidation of the position with marked ability, and was largely responsible for holding the position against subsequent enemy counter-attacks. He displayed great courage and determination throughout the operations.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Thomas Reginald Price, North'n R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He took command of his battalion and led it from the first to the second objective. He organised two successive defensive positions under very heavy fire, thereby saving a critical situation. He inspired all ranks by his high example of courage and devotion to duty.

Temp. Lt.-Com. Robert Howard Shelton, R.N.V.R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He was repeatedly counter-attacked by the enemy, and some of his posts were driven in, and it was only by his personal bravery in placing himself at the head of his men and charging the enemy that the position was held.

T/Lt.-Com. Charles Skeffington West, R.N.V.R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rendered invaluable service by most ably guiding and placing companies of the battalion in their battle positions within 400 yards of the enemy. He worked continuously under heavy hostile shell-fire, and was largely responsible for the success of the operations.

T/Capt. (actg. Maj.) Spencer Vaughan Percy Weston, M.C., R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in forming up the brigade in their assembly positions previous to an attack. He worked continuously under very heavy fire, and rendered invaluable assistance throughout.

Capt. (actg. Maj.) John Price Wylie, Notts. and Derby. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a raiding party. He handled his party with great skill, and carried out the task allotted to him with conspicuous success. He has on many previous occasions done fine work.

CANADIAN CONTINGENT.

Lt.-Col. Reginald Danbury Davies, Can. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a strong raiding party. He personally superintended the assembly of all parties prior to the attack, and carried out the task allotted to him with conspicuous success. He has previously rendered excellent service on many occasions.

SOUTH AFRICAN FORCE.

Temp. Lt.-Col. John George Rose, Serv. Corps.

For conspicuous devotion to duty and the able manner in which he organised and maintained the Motor Tractor Service. It was largely due to his energy and resource that the forces in the field were able to receive supplies, without which the success of the operations would have been impossible.

(The names marked with an asterisk appeared in the London Gazette dated 17th March, 1917, without deeds.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to award a Second Bar to the Military Cross to the undermentioned Officer:—

Capt. Richard William Oldfield, M.C., R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great courage and initiative in organising parties of men to clear away tarpaulins which had caught fire on various ammunition dumps. He undoubtedly saved a large quantity of heavy ammunition from destruction.

(M.C. Gazetted 18th Feb. 1915.)

(1st Bar Gazetted 14th Nov. 1916.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to award a Bar to the Military Cross to the undermentioned Officers:—

Lt. (Actg. Capt.) Henry Wyndham Francis Blackburne Farrer, M.C., R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when a gun team became casualties. He went to the gun and rendered assistance to the wounded under very heavy fire. He has at all times set a splendid example of courage and determination.

(M.C. Gazetted 23rd June 1915.)

2nd Lt. Thomas Gronow, M.C., Bord. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in leading an attack against a village. Although his clothing was twice pierced by machine gun fire, he himself drove back an enemy machine gun team which was holding up the advance.

(M.C. Gazetted 3rd Mar. 1917.)

2nd Lt. Leslie George Hartmann, M.C., R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He successfully guided a patrol to its objective and established an observation post in close proximity to the enemy. He set a fine example of coolness and courage throughout. He was severely wounded.

(M.C. Gazetted 1st Jan. 1917.)

Temp. Lt. Cyril Dudeney Hayfield, M.C., E. Kent R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when acting as Battalion Intelligence Officer. On several occasions he carried out reconnaissances under very heavy fire and obtained most valuable information.

(M.C. Gazetted 25th Nov. 1916.)

Temp. Capt. Albert Alexander Pargiter Humfrey, M.C., R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He successfully consolidated a dangerous flank under very heavy hostile fire. He showed great powers of organisation and leadership throughout the operations.

(M.C. Gazetted 13th Feb. 1917.)

Temp. Capt. Ernest Emrys Isaac, M.C., R.A.M.C., attd. R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He worked continuously under very heavy fire and was responsible for the successful evacuation of the wounded. He set a splendid example of courage and determination throughout the operations.

(M.C. Gazetted 20th Oct. 1916.)

2nd Lt. Percy Keevill, M.C., K. R. Rif. C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He reorganised his men, together with those of other units, and formed bombing posts at a critical time. He personally repulsed several enemy bombing attacks and set a splendid example to his men throughout the operations.

(M.C. Gazetted 25th Nov. 1916.)

Temp. Capt. Patrick Joseph Lane, M.C., M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. On several occasions he led out squads of stretcher bearers under very heavy fire and succeeded in bringing in many wounded men. He set a splendid example of courage and determination throughout.

(M.C. Gazetted 25th Nov. 1916.)

Lt. (Temp. Capt.) Norman Allen Lewis, M.C., R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He carried out a most valuable reconnaissance under very heavy fire. Later, he showed marked courage and resource in consolidating the line under the most trying conditions.

(M.C. Gazetted 13th Feb. 1917.)

Lt. (Actg. Capt.) Herbert Athelstan Maynard, M.C., Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a daylight raiding party. He handled his men with marked ability, inflicted many casualties on the enemy and captured twenty-five prisoners. He set a splendid example to his men.

(M.C. Gazetted 26th Sept. 1916.)

Lt. Bruce Samuel Kirkman Guise Moores, R.G.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great courage and initiative in digging out, under heavy fire, a man who had been buried. He has at all times set a splendid example.

(M.C. Gazetted 3rd June 1916.)

Capt. and Bt. Maj. Francis Poitier Nosworthy, M.C., R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of his company. Although much shaken by the explosion of three large enemy shells he carried out the work allotted to him with conspicuous success. Later, he made a reconnaissance of the enemy's position and obtained most valuable information. He was subsequently severely wounded.

(M.C. Gazetted 8th May 1915.)

Rev. the Hon. Maurice Berkeley Peel, M.C., Army Chap. Dept., attd. R. Welsh Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He went out to the advanced patrols with two stretcher bearers and succeeded in bringing in several wounded men. Later, he worked for thirty-six hours in front of the captured position and rescued many wounded under very heavy fire.

(M.C. Gazetted 18th Feb. 1915.)

Capt. Rudolph Albert Peters, M.C., M.B., R.A.M.C., attd. K. R. Rif. C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He continually tended the wounded under very heavy fire. He set a splendid example and showed an absolute disregard for his own personal safety. He has on many previous occasions done fine work.

(M.C. Gazetted 20th Oct. 1916.)

Capt. John Ashton Pottinger, M.C., Punjabis, Ind. Army.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. By his skilful dispositions he concealed the presence of his company from the enemy. Later, he took a prominent part in the fighting, and handled his company with marked courage and efficiency under the most difficult circumstances.

(M.C. Gazetted 14th Jan. 1916.)

Temp. Capt. John Caruthers Sale, M.C., R.A.M.C., attd. R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great courage in collecting and dressing the wounded in the face of a very heavy hostile barrage. He set a splendid example to all ranks.

(M.C. Gazetted 25th Nov. 1916.)

7024 Sjt. J. Campbell, Sco. Rif., attd. Gold Coast R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although his machine gun was buried by a shell he remounted it and continued to fire until another shell buried him with earth. He continued firing his gun for five hours.

K./680 Corpl. J. W. Carr, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rallied his men under heavy fire and materially assisted in the success of the operations. He set a splendid example to all ranks.

2258 L./Sjt. A. H. R. Chapman, E. Kent R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He organised a post on the left flank of the battalion, thus securing this flank against attack. On another occasion he went forward with a section and obtained valuable information.

3/5332 Pte. P. Collins, Conn. Rang.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great courage and determination during a daylight operation against the enemy's trenches. Later, he rescued several wounded men under very heavy fire.

29659 Pte. W. Cooke, York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He single-handedly attacked a party of nine of the enemy, and after a violent struggle succeeded in capturing the leader of the hostile party, identification being thus obtained.

9734 Pte. B. Croft, K.R.R.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He single-handedly took a machine gun forward and opened fire on the enemy, thereby greatly assisting in repelling an enemy counter-attack.

7505 Pte. F. I. English, K.R.R.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He brought in several wounded men in spite of very heavy fire, and showed an absolute disregard to his own safety. He has on many previous occasions done fine work.

62089 Corpl. A. W. Faulkner, R.G.A., attd. T.M. Bty.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. In spite of a heavy hostile barrage he kept his gun in action and carried out the work allotted to him. He set a splendid example of courage and coolness throughout. He has on many previous occasions done fine work.

79938 2nd Corpl. J. Foran, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He entered a mine shaft dug-out, killed one of the enemy and captured fourteen prisoners. Later, having handed his prisoners over, he again entered the mine shaft and obtained much useful information.

13625 Sjt. E. S. Garrod, Norf. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in charge of a carrying party. In spite of very heavy fire he got his party to the first objective shortly after the leading waves had reached it. He has on many previous occasions done fine work.

Spts. 1775 Sjt. J. T. Gore, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He continually went backwards and forwards between the front line and Battalion Headquarters under very heavy fire, gaining most valuable information. He set a splendid example throughout.

33305 Sjt. G. W. Grinnell, Worc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He organised a bombing party and succeeded in making a block in the enemy's trench at a critical time. He set a splendid example of courage and initiative.

1203 Pte. J. Hailstones, Mach. Gun Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rendered invaluable service in rallying and reorganising the men at a critical time. Later, he went forward and obtained most valuable information, and himself killed an enemy officer.

14821 L./Corpl. E. J. Hazlewood, Suff. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great courage and determination in tending the wounded under very heavy fire. He worked unceasingly all day and far into the night, and was continually urging others to carry on with the work.

9485 Cpl. (A./C./S./M.) J. Hearn, Yorks. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He assumed command of a party of men and attacked an enemy strong point, which he captured together with a machine gun. Later, he materially assisted in repelling an enemy counter-attack.

1634 Pte. R. G. Hill, British S. Afr. Police.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in carrying out dangerous reconnaissances. On one occasion, accompanied by another man, he penetrated the enemy's position and captured an outpost, obtaining most valuable information, which enabled a successful attack to be made.

22555 Sjt. W. House, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and resource in bringing up reinforcements, in the performance of which duty he had continually to pass over open ground under heavy machine gun and rifle fire, and in endeavouring to bring in a wounded officer, who was killed whilst being brought in.

G/2466 L./Cpl. A. Humphries, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He took command of his platoon, reorganised the men, and consolidated his position. He displayed marked courage and initiative under difficult conditions, his example being invaluable at a critical time.

21507 Sjt. A. W. Jones, Mach. Gun Co.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although he had a leg and an arm blown off he remained at his post until relieved by the No. 1 of the gun, and insisted on handing over his reports.

155484 Spr. A. A. D. Jones, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Accompanied by another sapper he entered an enemy underground system, killing one of the enemy and capturing three prisoners. Later, he laid explosive charges and fired them successfully. He has previously done fine work.

836487 Bombr. W. H. Kay, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. Although very severely wounded he completed the repair work he was engaged upon, and carried a wounded comrade back to his battery under heavy fire. He has previously done fine work.

Spts. 1967 Pte. G. W. King, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He brought in a machine gun and rescued several wounded officers under very heavy fire. He set a splendid example of courage and determination throughout. He has previously done fine work.

241077 Pte. (acting L./Cpl.) J. R. Lawrence, Gord. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He set a splendid example throughout the raid and was the last man of his squad to leave the enemy's trench. He killed an enemy machine gunner and destroyed his gun.

60989 Sjt. B. W. Leaversuch, Trench Mortar Bty., R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. In spite of a very heavy hostile barrage he maintained his gun in action for over an hour. Later, when his officer became a casualty, he took command and handled three gun detachments with marked ability.

7230 L./Sjt. A. R. Lewis, Rif. Brig.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He went out three times under heavy fire, and on each occasion brought back into the trench a number of men who were carrying out the relief. Later, he assisted in dressing the wounded.

22826 L./Cpl. A. Lumb, Yorks. L.I., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He took command of his platoon and established a post when the objective was reached. Later, he carried a wounded officer to a place of safety under very heavy fire.

C./Z. 5266 Able Sea. (H.G.) T. B. Macaulay, R.N.V.R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. After killing three and wounding one of the enemy he captured a hostile machine gun, which he brought back to our front line. He set a fine example of courage and initiative throughout.

T.Z.4741 Petty Officer G. W. Mallett, Mach. Gun Coy., R.N.V.R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He established his machine gun under very heavy fire and maintained his position for three days until relieved.

28242 Gunner G. McKay, R.G.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great courage and initiative in laying a wire to the enemy's front line under very heavy fire. He set a splendid example throughout the operations.

CORRECTIONS IN CLASSIFICATION.

With reference to the awards of Meritorious Service Medals published in Gazette of 12th ultimo, the undermentioned names should have appeared under the heading "for gallantry in the performance of Military Duty," not for "Services rendered with the Armies in the Field during the present War."

Officers in charge of Records will, accordingly, make the necessary corrections in their records.
