

and killed two of the enemy. He set a splendid example throughout, and was largely responsible for the success of the raid.

Lt. Eric James Greene, Suff. Yeo.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rendered invaluable assistance in forming up the battalion previous to the attack. Later, he took command of his company and was instrumental in turning the enemy's flank.

Temp. Lt. (actg. Capt.) Albert Edward Greenhill, Bord. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He handled his company with marked ability, and his fine personal example had the effect of steadying all ranks. His company captured over eighty prisoners and inflicted many casualties on the enemy.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Henry Maurice Benedict Gun Cuninghame, R. Dub. Fus., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He was the first man of his company to enter the enemy's trenches. He set a splendid example of courage and determination throughout the day.

2nd Lt. Edward Victor Hallinan, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He gallantly led forward a party of infantry whose officer had become a casualty, took the trench in front of him, and repelled a bombing attack. Later, he repaired telephone wires under heavy fire.

2nd Lt. William Eric Hands, Notts & Derby. R., Spec. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He showed great courage and determination in leading his party and rallying others during the raid. He worked along the trench with only two men, and himself pursued four of the enemy into a dug-out.

Temp. 2nd Lt. John Harrison, E. York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He handled his platoon with great courage and skill, reached his objective under the most trying conditions, and captured a prisoner. He set a splendid example throughout.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Richard Leo Higgins, R. Dub. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great courage and initiative in withdrawing his patrol in broad daylight when surrounded on three sides and under very heavy fire.

Temp. Capt. John Reid Hinners, Shrops. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry when in charge of a raiding party. Although wounded, he rallied his men and successfully rushed the trench, killing one of the enemy and capturing another. He set a splendid example to his men.

*Lt. Edward Barclay Holmes, Manch. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He repeatedly rallied and led forward his men in the face of a strong enemy counter-attack and under the most intense hostile fire. He was wounded.

Temp. 2nd Lt. George Ronald Honey, Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry when in command of a patrol. He deliberately attacked the superior force of the enemy, accounted for four of them, and drove off the remainder. He set a splendid example to his men.

2nd Lt. Edward Lambert Hopkins, Worc. R., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He handled his men with marked ability, and himself accounted for two of the enemy. Later, he effected a skilful withdrawal and brought all his party safely back.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Walter Dagleish Howick, R. Welsh Fus., attd. Mon. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rapidly reconnoitred the position, and marked out a communication trench, and by his own magnificent example encouraged his men to complete a difficult task in spite of very heavy hostile fire.

Temp. Capt. Noel Baring Hudson, R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He launched his company into the attack under very difficult conditions, and their success was largely due to his gallantry in continually reorganising his waves to make good casualties caused by the hostile shell fire.

Temp. 2nd Lt. William Charles Hull, Suff. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He rendered invaluable assistance in forming up the battalion previous to the attack. Later, he took command of two companies, and gallantly led them forward, in spite of very heavy hostile fire.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Benjamin Hutchinson, E. York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He, with his platoon, took sixty boxes of bombs across "No Man's Land" to a patrol which was carrying out a reconnaissance of the enemy's line. Later, he laid a guiding tape under the most trying conditions.

2nd Lt. Ernest Henry Huxford, R.G.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He displayed great courage and determination in extinguishing a fire, thereby saving a considerable amount of ammunition, and avoiding a dangerous explosion.