

Miss Margaret Davidson, B.R.C.S. (V.A.D.).

For conspicuous devotion to duty during an hostile air raid. All these lady drivers were out with their cars during the raid, picking up and in every way assisting the wounded and injured, and showed great bravery and coolness, and were an example to all ranks.

They also carried to safety and helped in every way many French civilians.

Miss Winifred Addie Brampton, B.R.C.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. This lady continued at duty throughout the raid, although the ward in her charge was almost completely wrecked, several patients killed, and she herself was wounded.

Miss Dorothea Mary Lynette Crewdson, B.R.C.S. (V.A.D.)

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. Although herself wounded, this lady remained at duty and assisted in dressing the wounds of patients. She superintended the work of the convoy, drove an ambulance car herself during the raid, and by her coolness and disregard for her own safety ensured the prompt removal of the wounded to hospital.

Commandant Winifred Eleanor Sarah Mount Batten, B.R.C.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid.

Sub-Section Leader Galanthe Mildred Cuthbert, B.R.C.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She showed exceptional coolness and courage in directing her section.

Section Leader Gertrude Frances Johnston, B.R.C.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She directed her section with coolness and courage under very trying circumstances.

Senior Section Leader Juliet Vivien Mellor, B.R.C.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She showed exceptional courage and efficiency as senior section leader

Nurse Mary Gwynnedd Campbell, B.R.C.S.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid, when buildings were set on fire. She moved about in full glare, regardless of imminent danger, taking patients to safety, and inspiring confidence in all.

V.A.D. Moyra Cavanagh, St. John's Ambulance Brigade.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. Miss Cavanagh was in charge of four wards, two of which were entirely wrecked. She continued to perform her duty, and in addition was very active in removing the wounded to a place of comparative safety.

Nurse Edith Hounslow, A.R.R.C., St. John's Ambulance Brigade.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. A bomb fell between two of her wards and injured many patients. She behaved with the utmost coolness, and set a fine example, attending wounded under most trying circumstances.

Asst. Matron Mabel Chittock, St. John's Ambulance Brigade Hospital.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She displayed great presence of mind, and instilled courage and confidence throughout a very trying time.

Matron Constance Elizabeth Todd, St. John's Ambulance Brigade Hospital.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She moved freely about the wards during the bombing, encouraging the Sisters and patients, and displayed great bravery and presence of mind throughout.

Sister Kathleen Warner, St. John's Ambulance Brigade Hospital.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She displayed the utmost coolness, and maintained a cheery spirit throughout, showing great bravery.

Sister Jane Bemrose, St. John's Ambulance Brigade Hospital.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She showed disregard of danger, and continued to attend the wounded in her charge during the heavy bombardment.

Sister Molly McGinnis, St. John's Ambulance Brigade Hospital.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. She showed great courage, took charge of a ward, and sustained her patients.

Sister Margaret Hendebourck Ballance, St. John's Ambulance Brigade Hospital.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy air raid. Her fortitude and courage were most conspicuous. She devoted herself entirely to her patients.

War Office,

26th July 1918.

DEFENCE OF THE REALM (CONSOLIDATION) ACT, 1914, AND ORDER MADE THEREUNDER.

In pursuance of the powers conferred upon them by Regulation 45F of the Defence of the Realm Regulations, and of every other power enabling them in that behalf, the Army Council hereby order as follows:—

(1) Any members of a military force of an Ally may, if authorised by the proper military authority of that Ally, arrest and hand over to that authority any other member of the naval or military force of such Ally whom he finds committing or has reason to suspect of having committed an offence for which he is amenable to the naval or military courts of the Ally.

(2) Any police constable and any officer or non-commissioned officer of His Majesty's military forces may arrest any member of a naval or military force of an Ally whom he finds committing or has reason to suspect of having committed a civil offence, if the offence is such that